Today

The President Speaks. Russia Is Annoyed. Paddy King on the Spot.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

YOU will read the President's message. He tells you that we are at peace with the world. We are, and can remain so by attending to our own business, letting other peoples attend to theirs.

MANY Americans will regret, will disagree, with the President's opinion that this country should enter the World Court.

The United States for many years has done well, depending on the Supreme Court, taking its decisions from that court.

EUROPEAN nations are hostile to us, envious of us.

What issues have we that we should submit to judges that Europe appoints, overwhelmingly outnumbering any feeble representation that we could have in that court?"

IT IS said that reservations exempt us from the court's decisions.

If that is true, why go into the court at all? Nobody goes to court, saying "I am here, but I will leave the minute you undertake anything affecting me."

THE President's reassuring expressions on the stock market crash, and especially his energetic and effective action in the assembling of great industrialists and mapping out a prosperity program call for public gratitude.

THE President suggests that enforcement of prohibition laws, like enforcement of other laws, be transferred from the Treasury to the Attorney General.

The business of the Treasury is to collect revenue. Therefore the Treasury looked after whisky and moonshining when whisky paid a revenue to the government.

Now that selling whisky or beer has been made a crime, everything concerning it should be turned over to the Department of Justice.

The President urges Congress to make Washington, D. C., a bone dry example to the entire nation.

A good idea, but can it be done?

Should it be shown that all the forces of the government centralized in Washington are unable to make that one small city dry, it will be realized, perhaps, that it is not possible to make the nation dry.

RUSSIA naturally is annoyed at United States interference in China. The Russians say Uncle Sam is trying to snatch away their victory, and encourage China.

The United States is cleverly put in the position of leading the other nations to what Russia considers meddling interference.

YOU observe that Japan, Russia's neighbor on the east, holds aloof, refusing any share in telling Russia about her duties in China, beautiful peace, etc. Germany, Russia's neighbor on the west, while approving the position of Secretary Stimson, refused to send a note.

Having a closeup of Russia at hand, Japanese and Germans know that a conflict with Russia would not be pleasant.

MANY were the titles of P. J. King, of Chicago, known to his world as "Paddy" King. He was called "labor leader, racketeer, ex-convict."

Yesterday, "put ont the spot," he was only a dead man, riddled with gangster bullets, his time having come.

CHICAGO believes that Mr. King tried to kill somebody on Sunday morning, or that his representatives tried to do the killing, and failed.

The person that escaped is supposed to have disposed of Mr. King.

In that world, where action speaks much louder than words, it is unwise to start anything unless you finish.

A MAN who understands coal and oil has a patent for burning coal underground in the mine.

That is an improvement on blasting and digging coal, hauling it to the surface, loading it on cars, carting it to cities.

Changed into gas, coal travels, transported by its own power of expansion.

THE Standard Oil of New Jersey is making gasoline from coal. Our coal supplies are vast, and the coal industry has been in a bad way. Human ingenuity may bring it back again.

WILMERDING'S VOTE ATTACKED

A petition to throw out the fifth and sixth district ballots in the recent Wilmerding election and thus prevent James Volpe and Charles Ray, councilmen, and others from taking office, was presented in court this afternoon by Attorney John D. Meyer.

Judge Harry H. Rowand, in Quarter Session Court, named December 20 as the hearing date.

Charging illegal voting, the petition states that in the fifth district there was voted four persons not of age and 23 non-citizens; that in the sixth there were voted three non-residents, six under age and 128 who were not registered and who did not make affidavits as to residence and citizenship.

Besides Volpe and Ray, other councilmen are involved, due to the possible change in count. Harry Briggs, elected justice of the peace would lose to W. C. Schubert, and Tax Collector C. R. Shiring would be supplanted by J. F. Richards if the districts were voided.

The petition was presented in behalf of a citizens committee, headed by George Munro, veteran Westinghouse employe.

It states Munro's only interest is to have decent elections. Instead of the required 25 signators, 50 names are on the petition.

With the election allowed to stand with the full seven districts counted, Volpe, Ray, J. M. Battenhouse and S. B. Brodie would rank highest in the councilmanic count.

If the court grants the voiding of the count in the two districts upon which the contest is based, Kyran J. Boyle, J. W. Karthew, Joseph R. Dick and Battenhouse will be the first four on the ticket.

$36,000,000 IN YULETIDE PAYROLLS

$10 More for Every Family In Pittsburgh Than in 1927, Federal Reserve Estimates

Jingling coin will be heard in Pittsburgh with the jingle of the merry sleighbells of Santa Claus.

More than $36,000,000 in heavy goldpieces, glittering silver dollars, halves, quarters and bright new nickels and pennies as well as great sheaves of crisp currency!

All this has been released to Pittsburgh banks from the local Federal Reserve branch for Christmas payrolls. The figures were computed from the November disbursements and were announced today by Joseph C. Nevin, manager of the Federal Reserve Bank. To this sum is added satchelfuls of money that are carried away every hour today to meet eleventh hour needs.

SANTA WELL FINANCED

"Yes, sir; Santa Claus will be well and properly financed when he comes to Pittsburgh," said Mr. Nevin today. "I know that this will be good news for the little folks of Pittsburgh and for their parents and uncles and aunts, and I am glad to give them the assurance that coin and currency are plentiful and it seems to be freely circulated."

At this time of the year the genial manager of Uncle Sam's big money house at Liberty avenue and Ninth street gets away from tabulating machines, auditors' reports and sheets of dry figures to talk cheerfully and hopefully of Christmas stockings and Christmas trees, big red apples, little red wagons, pretty dolls, stout shoes and warm mittens.

"This will be a great holiday season," he continued. "We judge it entirely by the jingle of the coin and the height of the currency stacks that the banks take out to meet their payroll demands, but these show within a few thousand

Boston Book Seller To Appeal Sentence

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—(INS.)—Donald S. Friede, of the publishing house of Covici-Friede, was to be sentenced here today for selling a copy of Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." Friede, who has twice been found guilty of the sale, which he made as a test case, has announced that he will appeal the sentence.

Maj. Lynn G. Adams Hunting With Bow

NEWVILLE, Pa., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Maj. Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the state police, has been hunting deer in the south mountains with a bow and arrow. "It's a lot more sport than using a rifle," he explained. Advices as to his success are lacking.

Lindy Wants to Join Hunt for Lost Mail Flier

By LEE S. CURRAN
Staff Correspondent.

CLARION, Pa., Dec. 4.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today proffered his aid in the search for his former associate, Thomas P. Nelson, air mail pilot, missing since early Monday.

From the home of his father-in-law, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, Englewood, N. J., Lindbergh telephoned to W. L. Smith, divisional superintendent of the National Air Transport Company, who is directing the search, tendering his services.

PALS OF FLYING SCHOOL

"I told him," said Smith, "that everlthing possible was being done to find Nelson and that while his offer was appreciated, it would be futile for him to join in the search.

"It is possible that he may fly out of Cleveland later if our hunt continues unsuccessful."

Col. Lindbergh and Nelson learned flying at the Army Training School, at Brookton, Tenn., and later for several years carried air mail together out of St. Louis.

MAN IS FOUND DEAD IN SNOW

As warmer weather with snowflurries was promised today, the body of another victim of the cold wave was found in North Versailles Township.

John P. Trebisah, 22, of 23 Oakhill street, North Versailles Township, gassed World War veteran, was discovered dead on a snow-covered hillside near his home, according to a report to the coroner. Exposure is believed to have caused death.

While the average temperature yesterday was 14, the thermometer early today showed a drop to 12 in the downtown district, but shortly after daybreak the mercury again began to rise. Outlying districts reported as follows:

Crafton, 12; Aspinwall, 10; Emsworth Dam, 16; Braddock, 11; East Pittsburgh, 12; Carnegie, 12, and Dormont, 14.

Rivers here were reported to be slowly falling. Pools in the Allegheny were reported frozen over, the main body being ice-covered above Warren. A gorge was reported in the Youghiogheny below West Newton.

Bank Burglar Alarm Makes Third Error

For the third time in two weeks, police say, the burglar alarm in the Second National Bank, Federal street, rang a false alarm to North Side police.

Bank officials attributed the false alarm this time to a short circuit in the switch. A squad of armed police from the station and surrounding beats dashed to the scene on each occasion only to find everything peaceful and in order.

FURTHER TAX CUTS URGED BY MELLON

Secretary Says U. S. Surplus Is No Longer Needed for Reduction of Public Debt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—"Active and prosperous business conditions" of last year have continued into 1929, and all reports indicate that the profits of corporate business will be larger this year, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon told Congress today.

Submitting his annual report for the banner fiscal year closed last June, Mr. Mellon foreshadowed substantial surpluses for this fiscal year and the next and strongly urged the $160,000,000 tax reduction already on its way.

For More Tax Cuts

Other features of his report were:

Recommendation that future surplus funds of substantial amount be distrubuted to taxpayers in tax reduction, instead of applying them to reduction of the public debt. Growing retirement through the sinking fund and foreign payments will be "adequate" for debt reduction on which heretofore he has placed great emphasis.

Recounting of a $10,000,000,000 reduction in the public debt in the last decade, reducing the burden of annual interest charges on taxpayers by 41 per cent. The debt has been cut to less than $17,000,000,000.

Proposal that the flexible tax system about to be tried out, permitting moderate rate adjustments from year to year in accordance with revenues and expenditures, be made permanent.

Backs Young Plan

Congressional authority sought to make an agreement with Germany accepting the Young plan annuities as a full discharge of Germany's obligations and so helping to effect "a complete and final settlement of all war obligations still outstanding."

Recommendation that about $10,000,000 of each $16,000,000 annuity be applied to settlement of mixed claims growing out of war-time property seizures, the rest to repay army of occupation costs.

Recommendations for a thorough study of branch and group

MacDonald Shows Movies of U. S. Trip

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Prime Minister MacDonald, at a private film party today, let his cabinet, Ambassador Dawes and 150 friends see himself as America saw him. News reel extracts of his tour in the United States and Canada with talking accompaniment gave the Prime Minister's colleagues an idea of the warm welcome given him in America. The cabinet members seemed greatly entertained by the way the American movie operators told President Hoover and Mr. MacDonald how to stand, where to walk, when to talk and sometimes what to say.

MR. AND MRS. GENE TUNNEY

NEPTUNE K. O'S TUNNEY

By GENE TUNNEY.

As written in the "Golden Book" of the steamship Vulcania, on which he and Mrs. Tunney returned from abroad.

"Having paid a visit to Miss Vulcania on Thanksgiving Day, 1928, at Pola, Istria, where she was being primed and fitted for her debut, Mrs. Tunney and I have had a sort of patron's interest in her career. It has given us great pleasure to be able to book our passage home aboard her.

"Unfortunately, Old Neptune, a respector of no personage or occasion—even Halcyon herself—started grumbling and waving his trident as Miss Vulcania passed the Rock of Hercules;" the seas got rough, the skies gloomy, and I assumed a horizontal position in which I remained quite cold for the count of four days.

"I have not the imagination to conceive of possible improvement in the construction and comfort of the ship and I think Epicurus himself would have only words of praise and amazement for the table and service."

FREED IN VOTE BOX THEFT

By direction of visiting Judge M. W. Fleming, a jury in Quarter Sessions Court today found George Rodovisch, charged with stealing a ballot box used in the Twenty-first district of the Fourth Ward in the September primary election, not guilty.

Binding instructions to acquit Rodovisch were given on motion of the defendant's attorney, Edward Coll, and over the protest of Roy Clunk, prosecuting attorney.

BARRED BOSS BLAMES FOES

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Barred at the door for nearly 3 years and still denied a seat, Senator-elect William S. Vare, (Rep.), of Pennsylvania, this afternoon took over the leadership of his battle for a senatorial toga, and personally pleaded with the Senate to seat him on the strength of his 1926 victory.

The veteran Philadelphia political czar, lamed and ill from a paralytic attack, made a dramatic appearance in the body, which denied him the oath in March, 1927, and which is now prepared to declare him ineligible for Senate membership. We went upon the floor of the Senate under a rule of courtesy and he pleaded for the right to remain as a member.

POWER CHALLENGED

Vare challenged the constitutional power of the Senate to deny him his seat, declaring his victory in the 1926 election was free of fraud and corruption. If he is to be excluded because of excessive expenditures in his primary, he added, then a dozen other members of the Senate were under the same cloud, since they spent more money than he per vote, per precinct and per capita.

"There are senators sitting on this floor," he charged, "whose elections last November cost more per vote, more per capita and more per voting district than the expenditures for the Vare-Beidleman ticket in the Pennsylvania primary of 1926."

DRAMATIC APPEARANCE

Vare turned on the full ducts of emotion, referring dramatically to his illness, which he attributed to the fight to keep him out of the Senate "to which he had been legally elected three years ago."

Vare read from a prepared statement. He said:

I come before you with the honest conviction that over

Woman, 103, Gives 'No Worry' Credit

FREEHOLD, N. J., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Mrs. Louisa Wheeler, who attributes her long life to not worrying and "minding her own business," today celebrated her one hundred and third birthday anniversary. Mrs. Wheeler dislikes publicity, but reads the daily papers and is conversant with world events.

Liquor 'Only for Parties,' But Two Go to Jail

Vain pleas for leniency were presented to Judge R. M. Gibson in United States District Court today by Volstead act violators who said the liquor that led to their arrest was not intended for sale, but was to be used at parties.

Louis Sazor, of Penn street, Verona, said the 15 gallons with which he was caught were to be drunk at a christening.

"It seems to me you were taking enough for a bath," Judge Gibson said, and sentenced the man to serve 45 days in jail.

Anton and Barbara Grgurich, of Butler street, arrested while in possession of 10 gallons, also offered the "party" plea. Anton was sentenced to serve 45 days and Barbara was fined a dollar.

Other sentences: John Firko, of Cambria City, six months; George Kurtz, Cambria City, two months; Sam Palarico, Broad street, 30 days; Max Leff, 141 Fullerton street, 45 days.

Wonder Dolls Ready Now To Receive Visitors

By THE DOLL LADY.

Don't you want to see my dollies? Don't you want to get acquainted with the Doll Lady and her family of wonderful dolls?

Doll Lady

They are all at the Doll Lady's headquarters, Hahn Furniture Company, East Liberty, 6285 Frankstown ave., and Hahn Furniture Company, 809 Federal st., waiting for children to come in today and see and visit with them, to hold them in their arms and learn to love them as I do.

There they sit in pink, blue, yellow and rose dresses, with lovely real curly hair, with eyes that open and shut, and with the pretty dimpled knees and elbows just like big truly, really children.

YOU MAY GET ONE

And, just like little girls, they sing, recite and say the most amazing things. Don't you want to see and hear them? Don't you want to hold one of them, and don't you want one of them for your very own? To keep perhaps for years—for they do not break—and to cherish and love, as I feel sure you will love them if you see them

All the good little girls in Pittsburgh and all the surrounding towns who love dolls, and lovely dolls, too, are invited to come and see my dolls. I am the Doll Lady.

‘NEVER STOLE AN ELECTION,’ VARE INFORMS SENATORS

BARRED BOSS BLAMES FOES

‘I Have Led Upright Life,’ He Says: Asked No One To Change Any Returns

three years ago I was regularly, legally and honestly nominated and elected by the people of Pennsylvania as their representative in the United States Senate.

For 15 years I sat as a member of the lower house of Congress. There was never a reflection on my character or the service I rendered to my country and my constituents. During all of my political career I have never been accused of any crime.

"UPRIGHT LIFE"

I have tried to lead an upright life, both socially and politically. I have never asked any man or woman to do an illegal act in my election. I have never participated in any political juggling.

I never stole an election, nor have I ever asked any one to make a false return or to change any election records to decide a close contest in my favor. In fact, I would never countenance any such action, and I have always used all of my influence against such practices.

There is only one report before you concerning my election, and that is based on an incomplete survey of election records made by paid investigators who for years had been employed by my political enemies in Philadelphia. The man who is responsible for that report of your special investigation committee was paid $10,000 to do the job.

BLAMES ENEMIES

The report for which he alone is responsible and which your committee accepted in good faith is not an impartial statement of facts with which this body usually deals but it is a fabrication of the wildest theories, inferences and imagination, unaccompanied by any proof and under no circumstances can be substantiated.

In fact, I am informed by my attorneys who have studied a condensed report of the tabulator of the sub-committee of the committees on privileges and elections furnished to both Mr. Wilson (William B. Wilson, Vare's Democratic opponent) and myself, that the charges are proven to be absolutely false.

"One of the charges that there were 2,018 persons voted in Philadelphia who are not registered. The facts are that all but 33 of these 2,018 persons were duly and legally registered. Why they even charge that in 40 per cent of the election districts the election boards were comprised of only enrolled Republicans, and yet that is entirely legal, as the law does not require minority representation on election boards.

ALL REPUBLICAN

In fact, there are many districts in Philadelphia where the entire enrollment is Republican, just as, I suppose, there are districts in other counties in Pennsylvania and in other states where the electorate are entirely of the Democratic faith.

In many districts in the South, thousands of Democratic votes are cast and not one Republican vote. Why? There are no Republicans there! How could they vote in those districts. These are just some typical examples of the unfairness of these conclusions which my political enemies have tried to have you believe were facts.

Is my election or my right to a seat in this Senate to be judged and decided upon such report? Are you with whom I have been associated all these years in Congress to pass judgment on me without giving me my "day in court?"

I prefer to believe not one of you wants to do an unfair thing—surely party prejudice and self-interest will not allow you to condemn anyone on false testimony.

COMPARES EXPENSES

"Am I to be condemned because without a newspaper, with the state organization and county organizations against me and my friends, we were compelled to spend one-third of what our principal opponents spent in bringing the issues of the campaign to the 4,000,000 voters of the state?

"In Pennsylvania we don't have one dominant industry and one easy way to reach all people. In the Middle West almost everyone speaks English—ready English. They are all interested in agriculture. One folder in plain English would reach their chief interest.

"But in Pennsylvania some read English; some must have discussions in Lithuanian and in Polish—each in the language he knows. This multiples expenses.

"There are Senators sitting on this floor today whose election last November cost more per vote, more per capita and more per voting district than the expenditures of the Vare-Beidleman ticket in the Pennsylvania primary in 1926.

ASKS FAIRNESS

"Is it the American principle—is it just or fair that a defendant in any case should be denied his right to make a defense or have his case heard? Surely there is no rule of human conduct anywhere in the civilized world that will justify such a precedent.

"This matter vitally concerns the rights of the people of a sovereign state who by a majority of nearly 200,000 votes selected me as its representative in Senate. The trust that they reposed in me I cannot betray even in view of the lasting injury it may mean to my health in the years to come.

"The framers of the Constitution believed that each state's right to be represented in the Senate on terms of equality by citizens of their own choice would remain inviolate and it was never questioned until now that when a senator-elect presents, as I have done, the authenticated credentials of his state, he should be denied the oath of office if he possesses the qualifications prescribed in the Constitution.

"I fervently wish that my strength permitted me to participate further in the decision of this momentous question, but I am sure that the members of the Senate without respect to party, and in view of my prolonged illness, will fully understand that I must now commit my case and the cause of my state to my friends in the Senate."

"DEBAUCHERY"—NORRIS

Standing just three rows of seats behind Vare's seat, before Vare spoke, Senator Norris attaked conditions in Philadelphia which, he said, would "make you blush."

The Nebraskan denounced election practices in that city and said if permitted to continue the people would "close their eyes to crime and debauchery."

To a great extent, he asserted, "this crime, this debauchery, this crookenedness" still is occurring in the state of Pennsylvania.

Norris referred to his own experiences while campaigning in Pennsylvania for Vare's Democratic opponent in the 1926 election. He said some of his hearers had told him it was futile to vote because the Republican "machine" counted the votes it needed and disregarded the others.

While some persons wrote him threatening letters for campaigning for Wilson, Norris said, others told him he was doing good work.

One man came up to him, he said, and asserted no one could realize the power of the Republican machine in the Keystone state.

It corraled business, society and all others in its grasp, Norris said.

GLANCES AT VARE

A part of Norris' speech had been made after Vare had entered the chamber. Pacing the floor behind the desk at which Vare sat, the Nebraskan had waved his arms and looked in the direction of Vare and shouted:

> "Are we going to bow head and bend knee to this powerful political machine headed by William S. Vare just because that machine is in control of the whole state of Pennsylvania?"

At another point Norris said the patriotic citizens of Pennsylvania would applaud when "we say that we will not approve those debauched by crime and mire from this machine of Philadelphia."

"They don't stop counting you when you die in Pennsylvania," Norris continued. "They count you as long as they can read your name on the tombstone."

Including his speech yesterday the Nebraskan spoke almost five hours in favor of the resolution to bar Vare.

Norris, in concluding his speech, said that "we are called upon to say whether we have the courage to fight a political machine that has controlled the great state of Pennsylvania and to some extent the Republican party of the rest of the country."

Vare began a little later after he had been recognized by the presiding officer as "senator-elect."

REED DEFENDS VARE

When he concluded and took his seat, Senator Reed, who has been the sole representative in the Senate from the Keystone state for the last three years, delivered a vigorous denial of the charge of Norris that the 1926 election "reeked with corruption."

Wilson's Hope of Winning Vare's Senate Seat Wanes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(INS.)—All hope of William B. Wilson, member of Woodrow Wilson's war-time cabinet, securing a seat in the Senate, disappeared today when it was learned the Senate Elections' Committee would decide almost unanimously that he did not win from William S. Vare (Rep.) in Pennsylvania's 1926 election.

A majority of the committee was supporting one report declaring Vare legally elected over Wilson. A minority, however, was defending a report declaring Wilson had failed to prove his contest but that there was sufficient evidence brought forth to prove the election so tainted with fraud and corruption as to void it. The minority therefore will declare against both Vare and Wilson, it was said.

Wilson's only hope for getting Vare's seat has been based on a belief that a minority of the committee would declare him legally elected.

MELLON FINDS IMPROVEMENT IN DRY WORK

Violations 'More Hazardous': 66,878 Arrests: Agents Learn Rights of Citizens

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Prohibition enforcement activities are "becoming stable and more effective" and "the business of violating prohibition laws more difficult and hazardous," Secretary of the Treasury Mellon told Congress today.

In the section of his annual report devoted to prohibition, he said:

"It is anticipated that examinations and certifications of the Civil Service Commission will permit the appointment of all agents under civil service laws within a short time.

"The instruction of agents in the proper and lawful methods of operation was carried forward during the year by experts. The lecturers and instructors visited practically every administrative district in the United States, and gave instruction at 22 different places.

"About 750 agents, mostly new recruits, attended the lectures.

CITIZENS' RIGHTS GUARDED

"All agents now have specific instructions regarding the rights of citizens as guaranteed by the fourth and fifth amendments of the Constitution, the proper method of securing search warrants and executing them, and the technique of making investigation of the larger and more important cases, and the proper form of writing a report.

"Prohibition agents made 66,878 arrests during the fiscal year and seized 7,299 automobiles, valued at $2,879,013, and 89 boats valued at $260,845. Federal agents also made arrests or assisted in obtaining evidence in a large number of cases against individuals prosecuted in state courts.

"The policy of limiting the production of industrial alcohol to the actual need of legitimate industry, initiated January 1, 1928, has proved successful.

"Substantial results are being secured in the modification of the formula for specially denatured alcohol, which is being studied in the Washington laboratory.

SMUGGLING CONTINUES

"Completely denatured alcohol several years ago was a source of considerable illicit liquor, but this diversion of completely denatured alcohol for beverage purposes has practically ceased.

"The operations of the Treasury Department in the enforcement of prohibition are becoming stable and more effective. The activity and co-operation of the several bureaus engaged in these operations are making the business of violating prohibition laws more difficult and hazardous.

"Some liquor smuggling is still going on along the seaboard and there remains a considerable amount of such smuggling on the Great Lakes. The coast guard is doing all that is possible with its present resources, but the matter continues to be one requiring utmost vigilance and attention."

Tire, Tube Prices Reduced in Canada

dollars of the amount withdrawn in 1928 and—listen to this!—$4,000,000 more than in 1927. That means about $10 more for every family in the city than two years ago.

PAYROLLS MADE UP

"Figuring it out on that score I look forward to a pleasant visit from Santa Claus, and he should have a bountiful supply of everything needed to make it a cheerful Christmas and as merry as we have ever had in Pittsburgh."

The coin and currency carted away from the Federal Reserve branch last month is right now being counted out and will begin to go into holiday payrolls next Saturday. In the middle of the month it is estimated that more than $15,000,000 will be paid out to salaried people and wage earners, and on December 21 another big disbursement will be made through the pay envelopes.

Christmas bonuses, honorariums, "over-time" and special funds given to employes will swell the holiday payrolls as usual this year, it is declared by bankers, and the shoppers will be well supplied with cash.

HOPE IS FADING FOR PILOT

search today, announcing that from now on the hunt would be conducted with Cleveland as the base.

Word was received that the New Castle Airways Company was sending Pilot Julius Boland to investigate a report that a plane was seen over the Pymatuning swamp, north of Greenville, early Monday.

NEW CLUE

On information given by the Sun-Telegraph to Smith in Cleveland over long-distance telephone today, a searching party was ordered organized at Kennerdell to search the mountains near the emergency landing field at that place.

Frank Jacobs, caretaker at the field, informed the Sun-Telegraph reporter that he had heard pistol shots Monday and later had seen smoke rising from a mountainside. He thought the shots might have been fired by Nelson as signals, and that the smoke was from his burning plane.

Half a dozen air pilots braved a blizzard again today in scouring the mountainous, wooded region of Northwestern Pennsylvania in an effort to find some trace of the lost flier.

HOPE WANES

Little hope was held that Nelson some expressed belief that he might have found refuge in some hunter's cabin in the rugged hills.

Late yesterday searchers received word that a wrecked plane had been sighted on the top of a hill at Kennerdell, 48 miles southwest of Clarion. Investigation, however, revealed that the plane belonged to Pilot George J. Brew, who made a forced landing on the spot, used as an emergency landing field. He had a narrow escape when his machine turned over.

U. S. BUDGET CALLS FOR 3 BILLIONS

Hoover Presents Congress $3,830,445,231 Estimates For 1931 Expenditures

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—President Hoover's first budget, presented to Congress today, called for appropriations of $3,830,445,231 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, a reduction of $146,000,000 from the 1930 budget submitted by former President Coolidge.

The budget, however, contained no amount for the revolving loan fund for the Federal Farm Board, for which $150,000,00 was placed in the 1930 budget. For comparative purposes the sum should be deducted from the 1930 budget, placing its total slightly lower.

Expenditures Up

Total expenditures for the year including retirement of the public debt and other items not included in the budget, were estimated at $4,102,938,700, an increase of $79,257,000 over estimates for 1930, and $254,000,000 over actual expenditures for 1929.

Receipts were estimated at $4,225,727,000, a loss of $24,000,000 from 1930, and a gain of $192,000,000 over 1929.

This would provide an anticipated surplus of $122,788,966 for June 30, 1931, and $225,581,534 for 1920, as compared with the actual surplus of $184,787,035 for 1929.

Message Features

The other principal features of the budget message were:

(1)—Provision of $719,089,000 for national defense, including continuation of the cruiser and aircraft carrier programs.

(2)—Appropriations of $33,000,000 for war and navy departments for procurement of airplanes under authorized program and $460,000 for Commerce Department, Coast Guard and National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics for commercial aeronauticsal operations.

(3)—Recommendation for favorable action on Mellon-Berenger debt agreement with France, already ratified by that nation.

(4)—Recommendation for $160,000,000 reduction in taxes through one per cent cut in corporation and normal income rate.

(5)—Increase of $1,275,000 for prohibition bureau and $2,450,000 for coast guard.

Naval Conference

"In addition to the normal maintenance and operation requirements of the war and navy departments, provision is made for carrying forward the air service programs of the two services, the housing program of the Army, and the requirements of the Navy with regard to the modernization of old battleships and the construction of new ships authorized by the act of February 13, 1929, as well as the light cruisers and submarines authorized by prior law."

Tax Reduction

On taxes, the President, said:

"With an estimated surplus of over $225,000,000 this year and $122,000,000 next year, it is felt that some measure of reduction in taxes is justified.

"I therefore recommend that taxes upon incomes for the calendar year 1929 be reduced in the approximate sum of $160,000,000. I would suggest to Congress that this be effected, as recommended by the Secretary of the Treasury, by reducing by one per cent the rate of the normal tax on the incomes of individuals and corporations, applicable to 1929 incomes, and payable in the calendar year 1930."

Widow Asks Aid of Court In Fight for Children

Seeking to recover custody of her four small children, Mrs. Ursula Griffiths, widow, of Coraopolis, procured a writ of habeas corpus against her mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Griffiths, of 2015 Texdale street, through a petition in Common Pleas Court.

The children, Benjamin Bruce, 4; James Edward, 3; Dorothy Lou, 2, and June Mary Griffiths, six months, are in the custody of their grandmother, the respondent, with whom their mother lived until November 24 last, when, according to the petition, she was forced to leave.

The mother alleged that her mother-in-law refused to allow her to return and prevented her from seeing her children, despite illness among them. The mother averred she is financially able to support the children in a good home in Coraopolis.

Both testified at the hearing before Judge James B. Drew today that they differed over the mother of the children going out. She is 21, and was married at 15.

The mother-in-law stated that the mother went out and neglected the children. Witnesses testified that her visits were merely to neighbors.

Wife Too Expensive, Man Granted Divorce

"She thought I was made of money and the more I gave her the more she wanted," Roy W. Watkins, of the Morrowfield Apartment Hotel, granted a divorce by Judge George V. Moore, testified in his suit against Edith Cowper Watkins, singer and member of an old New Hampshire family, in Common Pleas Court.

They were married July 3, 1913, and separated June 21, 1928. During their 15 years of married life, Mrs. Watkins was given to fits of temper, Watkins testified, and during them she threatened to kill him and threw objects around their apartment. Once, he said she followed in their car a street car in which he was riding, halting and abusing him through the car window at every stop.

When she left in June, 1928, for her home in Wolfeborough, New Hampshire, she left $4,000 in unpaid bills of which he knew nothing, Watkins said. Two or three times a year he had to make up a deficiency of $500 or $600 in store accounts, he testified. He stated his wife claimed a superior lineage and bragged of her English and Italian ancestors.

BRIDGE HERE WINS PLACQUE

A bronze placque, tacked on the Sixth Street Bridge today by visiting and county engineers, will tell future generations of Pittsburghers that here was the most beautiful steel span constructed in the United States and Canada during 1928.

Following a ceremony in the Courthouse at noon today, Charles N. Fitts, president of the American Institute of Steel Construction, awarded the placque to the county. Commissioner E. V. Babcock made the acceptance address while little Miss Peggy Euwer, daughter of the treasurer of the Republican Executive Committee, unveiled the placque.

A committee of five engineers from eastern cities picked the bridge as the winner. It was designed here by the county bridge department, under V. R. Covell and A. D. Nutter. The American Bridge Company built it.

YOUGHIOGHENY DAM BILL UP

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(INS.)—Authorization of a $1,500,000 improvement to the Youghiogheny River in Western Pennsylvania, from McKeesport to West Newton, by building two dams and locks is proposed in three identical bills introduced in the House today by Representatives Kelly, Wyant and Kendall, Pennsylvania Republicans. The proposed improvement would eventually be carried to Connellsville.

"The Fifteenth street pool at McKeesport already is improved," said Representative Kelly. "The proposed work would carry the improvement 20 miles to West Newton and later we will propose extension to Connellsville.

"The improvement has been approved by Army engineers. It would open a rich coal territory to water transportation on the Monongahela, Ohio and Mississippi Rivers.

Insurance Company Receiver Sought

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Hearing of a suit asking for nomination of a trustee and appointment of a temporary receiver for the Federal Reserve Life Insurance Company, of Kansas City, Kas., on grounds that the concern had been defrauded of more than $1,000,000 through some of its officials, was begun in District Court here today. The petition, which specifically declared that policy holders were safe and protected, charged that company officers fraudulently withdrew $400,000 in bonds on deposit with the insurance department of the state and converted the money to their own usage.

32,045 SIGN DRY REPEAL PLEA

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—In a campaign for the repeal of the Massachusetts prohibition enforcement act the necessary signatures have been obtained to bring the matter before the Legislature.

If the Legislature fails to approve, 5,000 additional signatures must be obtained to place the matter on the ballot next November for referendum action.

Terming the petition part of an educational campaign, Charles S. Rackemann, of Milton, president of the league, said that the people of Massachusetts "will not fail to use their knowledge in all lawful ways to do away with the prohibition as it is and substitute some better system which will insure temperance."

SOVIET REBUKE ON 'MEDDLING' AMAZES U. S.

Moscow's Angry Reply to Stimson Peace Plea Hurts Chances for Recognition

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Astonishment mingled with resentment marked the State Department's perusal of Moscow press dispatches containing Soviet Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinoff's "rebuke" to the powers, and particularly to Secretary of State Stimson for "meddling" in the Chinese-Russian dispute.

Stimson deferred formal comment until receipt of the Moscow note, which, it is assumed here, is being transmitted through the French.

The general impression at the State Department was that whatever chance the Soviet government had for early recognition by the Hoover administration had gone "a-glimmering."

REBUKE INVITED

Some diplomats here, however, felt that the Soviet reply was characteristic of the Russian diplomacy since the revolution, and that the United States, by its identic notes to Russia and China, had laid itself open to just such a rebuke.

There was considerable satisfaction in official circles, however, despite the Soviet's reception of the Stimson effort for peace in Manchuria, that indications were that Moscok and Mukden had settled their differences between themselves.

MOSCOW AROUSED

MOSCOW, Dec. 4.—Aroused at what is construed as unwarranted interference, the Soviet government made no effort today to hide the fact that it considered the "reminder" from the United States o' its obligations under the Kellogg pact as "not a friendly act."

Following the sharp note of rebuke dispatched to the United States through the French ambassador, the Soviet press today backed up the government in declaring that the United States had taken unwarranted action in attempting to put teeth into the anti-war pact just when peace negotiations between Russian and Chinese delegates at Khabarovsk had reached a stage of virtual settlement.

The Soviet note declared the appeal from the United States government an "unjustifiable attempt to influence the Khabarovsk negotiations between Mukden and Soviet officials."

"The Soviet government is amazed," the appendix read, "that the United States, which lacks diplomatic relations with the Soviets, should appeal to them with advice and instructions."

In language unusually emphatic for a diplomatic communication, the note said that the Soviet government would not tolerate any outside interference.

CHINA'S REPLY FRIENDLY

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—China today communicated to the British China's reply to the British note calling attention to her obligations under the Kellogg-Briand pact to settle her dispute with Russia in Manchuria peacefully.

The Chinese reply was brief and friendly. China simultaneously dispatched an identical note to Washington.

$2,000 Payroll Vanishes From Shelf

Detectives today are seeking $2,000 missing from the payroll of the George A. Kelly Drug Company, Ninth street and Duquesne way.

The money, cash in envelopes, had been made up to be given to employes and during the brief absence of the paymaster, Monday, was lifted from the shelf.

In an attempt to avoid publicity, detectives from the W. J. Burns Agency were called to investigate the theft. Due to the robbery, which detectives believe they will solve before the week's end, a second payroll was made up and payday was changed from last Monday to Tuesday.

LAW DEPLORED IN JAIL KILLING

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Expressions of condemnation and even of horror over mandatory laws that directed the sending to Sing Sing prison of a 17-year-old boy, a first offender, have been evoked in comment on the case of Reuben Kaminsky.

Kaminsky was stabbed to death in Sing Sing Sunday by a fellow convict.

Segregation of youths under 21 from hardened and older criminals was suggested by many commentators. Notable among the interviews are these:

EDWIN J. COOLEY, chief probation officer: In the past we've recognized but two types of prisoners—children and adults. We should recognize a third type—the adolescent, the one 16 to 18 years of age.

We ought to have separate institutions for those criminals who are no longer children, but are not yet men.

To throw a 17-year-old boy into Sing Sing is an atrocious thing. In saying that, I'm not criticizing the judges who sentence boys of that age to Sing Sing, but the mandatory laws which are responsible for the condition.

JUDGE SAMUEL D. LEVY, Children's Court: A year should be added to the class of children now coming to Children's Court. This court now has jurisdiction up to and including the age of 16. The age should be 17. Then a separate institution should be provided for prisoners 17 to 19 years of age, an institution between the protectories and the state prison.

WILLING TO TELL WHAT HE SAW

Window Enabled Him to Look Into Murder Apartment, Ex-Congressman Admits

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Former Representative John M. Morin, of Pittsburgh, today admitted being a guest at the Park Central Hotel in New York last year at the time Arnold Rothstein was shot to death under mysterious circumstances.

J. M. MORIN

Morin, now a member of the United States Employes' Compensation Commission, explained the circumstances of his presence at the hotel after testimony in the trial of George McManus, New York race track bookmaker, under indictment for the murder, yesterday revealed that he had occupied a room on the same floor the night Rothstein was killed.

WILLING TO TESTIFY

"I had been up to Boston making campaign speeches for President Hoover," Morin said, "and stopped over in New York on my way to Pittsburgh. In the past I had stopped at the Park Central, so I went there that night. My room was on the same floor as that on which Rothstein was shot. It was just a few doors around the corridor from the room in which the shooting occurred. Both rooms were on a quiet court and it was possible for me to look across from mine into the other room."

Whether he saw anything of vital importance to the pending trial, Morin declined to say. He said he preferred not to discuss the case in the light of the suggestion from New York that he may be called to testify in the trial along with others registered at the Park Central on the fatal night.

"If I am summoned," Morin added, "I will be glad to tell all I saw on the night of the affair. Until then I don't think it would be proper for me to discuss the case."

The former Pittsburgh congressman said he was ready to go to New York any time the district attorney's office wanted him.

"ROTHSTEIN CARRIED GUN"

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Testimony that when Arnold Rothstein walked from Lindy's restaurant to his death the night of November 4, 1928, he carried in his pocket a revolver similar to the one the state says George McManus used to shoot him was given at the McManus murder trial today.

James Meehan, the last man to admit he saw Rothstein before he was found wounded, gave this testimony, a surprise to the state.

"Did Arnold Rothstein give you a long-barreled revolver before he left you at 10:35 the night of November 4, 1928?"

"Yes."

"When he gave you that gun didn't you know that he kept a short-barreled revolver similar to this one?" and Murray shook before witness and jury the short-barreled .38 caliber revolver the state says was the death weapon.

"Yes," Meehan answered.

Assistant District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora jumped to his feet and shot a stream of questions at the witness, demanding why he had not told him about the short-barreled gun in questioning before the grand jury and in the trial.

"You never asked me about it," the witness kept repeatng.

"When I asked you today to tell me all you knew about the case why didn't you tell me about the pistol?" Pecora asked.

The witness said he had been promised immunity if he testified about the long-barreled gun, and he hadn't mentioned the other because he hadn't been specifically asked.

M. E. DRY CHIEF OK'S DRY LAWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Prohibition was termed the "greatest moral success of any adventure of the age" today by Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

In his report to the annual meeting of the board, Dr. Wilson asserted that "America must show the world how to get rid of its two most dreadful scourges—rum and war."

He asked for prohibition "as fair a chance and as long a time to show the world what it can do as the license system" had.

Healthiest Girl and Boy In Nation Live Quietly

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The healthiest girl in the United States, as reckoned by the Four-H Club annual congress, is 17 years old, weighs 129 pounds, stands 5 feet 4½ inches in her medium heel shoes, lives in Eustis, Lake County, Fla.—and her name is Florence Smock.

Harold Deatline, 18, of Morgan County, Ind., is the healthiest boy, the congress decided last night. Both Miss Smock and Deatline were chosen from a group of 28 state champions.

Deatline is 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighs 150 pounds, has broad shoulders and is strong muscled because of "plenty of good, hard work" on his father's farm.

Miss Smock thought that perhaps she was healthier because of "Florida sunshine—and oranges," but with the sunshine and oranges went regular hours, 10 hours' sleep, and plenty of exercise.

The "healthiest girl" swims, dances and occasionally "has dates," she said, but 9 o'clock is bedtime every night, just as 7 a. m. is "getting up time." Florence uses no rouge nor lipstick but has rosy cheeks. She wants to be a physical education teacher. She is a senior life saver in the Red Cross and has been in Four-H club work two and one-half years, specializing in home improvement, nutrition and health.

The boy champion has been out of high school a year and isn't sure about college. He doesn't smoke nor does he care for dancing or "gadding about." For recreation he goes hunting and fishing sometimes, but for exercise he works on his father's farm near Martinsville, Ind.

Divorced 'At a Price,' She Wants Mate—Or Oblivion

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The evening world today says Mrs. Agnes Aurelia Church, former Brooklyn telephone girl, who was divorced at Reno, November 25, from Francois Louis Church, heir to millions left by Elihu Church, "baking soda king," plans to rewed him secretly or, failing, to lose herself in the Orient.

"Divorce granted; am on my way to win or to lose myself in some far-off part of the world and forget."

Another telegram, received by her lawyer, Miles M. Dawson, was more definite. In this message she announced her departure from Reno for San Francisco, there to embark on a steamer for parts unknown.

Mrs. Church added she was being accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Winifred Bateman, of New York.

The newspaper says that back of the telegram "is hidden an amazing story of an exceptionally beautiful, determined and high-spirited young woman, who, though hopelessly in love with her rich young husband, divorced him and 'sold' him back to his family for $200,000.

"To that unusual procedure is now added a touch of adventure by fleeing to China or India to outwit his family and regain him, or lose herself from the world."

Mr. Church, who lives here, could not be reached.

Announcement that all large-size paper money still outstanding, including national bank notes, would be retired at an early date. Printing of new national bank notes has been completed for all banks.

Recommendations foreshadowed for this government's part in limiting international double taxation, "a real barrier to the expansion of international trade and investment."

Disclosure of a 40 per cent increase in 1928 individual incomes, due mainly to stock market profits.

Profits Grow

In his discussion of business trends and profits, Mr. Mellon said Treasury studies portrayed corporation income of 1928 as 11 per cent larger than that of 1927, and "all reports indicate that their 1929 income will exceed that of 1928."

Although he refrained from prophecy, as is his custom, his review of business through the last fiscal year, and in a few instances beyond it, was replete with elements of strength and vigorous activity.

His report follows in part:

"During the fiscal year 1929 the federal revenues reflected the prosperity prevailing in the calendar year 1928, which not only increased the incomes of corporations taxable as such, but also increased the taxable income distributed to individuals.

Wages Higher

"This prosperity was reflected in increased wages and profits from industry and commerce and in the rising prices of securities, particularly stocks, realized gains on the sales of which increased individual incomes and, to an even greater extent, the tax collections. The active and prosperous business conditions prevailing in the calendar year 1928 continued into the calendar year 1929.

"Business conditions during the fiscal year were highly satisfactory, the changes revealed by various index numbers showing distinct advancement in production and distribution.

"The physical volume of industrial production for both manufactures and minerals were slightly higher at the beginning of the fiscal year than at any time during the preceding year, and each succeeding month showed substantial gains over the corresponding month a year earlier.

"Automobile production during the year set a new high record with an increase of approximately 53 per cent.

Employment Better

"The increased volume of manufacture has been accomplished partly through increased labor efficiency and the use of more machinery. During the fiscal year, however, there was a 2.6 per cent increase in factory employment and a 5.7 per cent increase in pay rolls, in contrast to the downward trend noticeable in earlier years.

"Freight-car loadings increased 4.3 per cent during the year.

"Building construction was one of the few lines of industrial activity showing decreases. The net decrease as measured by contracts awarded was 5.2 per cent. This decline may be attributed in part to the higher interest rates prevailing.

"The construction of industrial buildings apparently was not hampered by lack of funds since building of this character showed a 28.7 per cent increase. Residential construction, on the other hand, decreased 15.3 per cent.

Surplus Estimates

"The outstanding financial events of the fiscal year affecting either federal revenues or expenditures were the continuance of an active and rising stock market, declining bond prices, a change in the character of security flotations, and the emergence of relatively high interest rates.

"Future federal tax receipts should not be materially affected by the change in corporate financing, from bonds to stock, although the source of some tax receipts is shifted. Losses from taxes formerly collected from individuals upon their receipts of interest from corporations will probably be more than recouped from corporations because an equivalent amount of interest will no longer be deducted by corporations in computing their taxable net income.

"The estimates of receipts and expenditures indicate a surplus of $226,000,000 in the fiscal year 1930, and of $123,000,000 in the fiscal year 1931."

Wins Wife as First Prize!

IF you don't think your whole life can be changed by chance, read this. It is the story of a young man who was pretty well down and out, but he figured he might win a prize if he took some advice.

"As far back as I can remember I had been a weakling," says Mr. Calvin L. Floyd of Orlando, Florida. "A headache, it seemed, was to be my life companion. I was always dizzy in the mornings. Nothing I ate seemed good for me. Then I attended a health lecture in a sanatorium and the physician talked on 'faulty elimination.' That was certainly my trouble. One of the patients asked him about Nujol. He recommended it highly. I decided to try one bottle to see if there was anything in what he said about natural lubrication for the human body.

"Long before I had finished the first bottle my 'companion-headache' was gone. No more tired out feeling. I get a real kick out of life now. By the way, I almost forgot to tell you I found a new life companion, too!"

Many a life changed by a message like this one.

Perfectly simple, wasn't it? Mr. Floyd just learned the normal natural way to get rid of bodily poisons (we all have them) and nature did the rest. Why shouldn't you be well?

Nujol is not a medicine. It contains no drugs. It is effective, so you will be "regular as clock-work." You can buy it at all good drug stores in sealed packages for less than the price of a couple of good cigars.

Begin today. Millions have found that Nujol makes all the difference in the world. Nujol will make you feel fine and you can prove it.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 4.—(INS)—[illegible] Sullivan, millionaire [illegible] of Casper, [illegible] Washington and the [illegible]. His appointment [illegible] the late Francis E. Takes Long Jail Term to Be Near Wife

An eight-month sentence in the Allegheny County Jail so as to be near his wife and three children today was preferred by William Whitman, 27, of Stanton avenue, rather than a penitentiary term that could possibly end within three months.

Whitman, part owner of the Soho Pharmacy, 2200 Fifth avenue, was accused of having sold 30 grains of morphine to a woman government agent, October 28 last year. Sentence was imposed by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson.

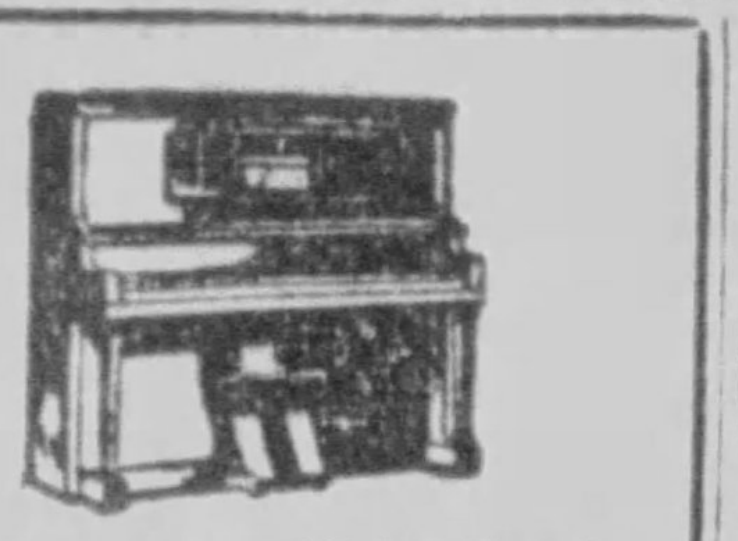
AD CLUB HEARS KAUFMANN

Edgar J. Kaufmann, president of Kaufmann's store, addressed members of the Pittsburgh Advertising Club at their luncheon in the William Penn Hotel yesterday. Mr. Kaufmann stated that the advertising and business men of the future will find a knowledge of art a requisite to keep abreast of the changing commercial conditions.

He said that within 50 years changes in the buying standards of the American woman would take place. He also predicted that the manufacturer of the now admitted crude article, will find it necessary to put a touch of color and design in his product.

65 PIANOS LOANED

FREE



Sixty-five Pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments) will be placed in homes of Pittsburgh and vicinity and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. We have discontinued eight of our large branch stores, and are placing these instruments in our "Frederick's Annex," located at 915 Liberty Avenue. Instead of storing and holding these pianos for the regular price, we are going to slaughter the prices and take our loss now. If you have ever thought of buying a piano, now is the time. We do not wish to place our instruments in storage and all Pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we will receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

Positively No Charge For Anything

No cartage, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

FORD RAILROAD FINED $25,000

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 4.—(INS)—Henry Ford's railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad Company, was fined $25,000 by Federal District Judge Benson W. Hough after the railroad officials entered pleas of guilty to 25 counts in an indictment charging that shipments of coal had been made over the railroad at unlawful rates. Judge Hough assessed a fine of $1,000 on each count.

Federal authorities here said they were informed the railroad, following the indictment, had incurred an additional expense of approximately $50,000 in connection with the readjustment of its tariff rates before the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C.

The [illegible] the indictment [illegible] shipments of coal between January 1, 1927 and April 30 of the same year from the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company at Glen Jean, [illegible] said that the coal was unloaded at Jackson and Ironton, this state, although consigned to South Charleston, O.

The D. T. & I. was accused of discrimination, resorting to deception and [illegible] hauling the coal at a rate less than the lawful tariff of $1.14 per ton, in violation of the Federal Commerce act.

JAIL 2 HUNTERS WITHOUT FUNDS

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Unable to pay fines or furnish bond after pleading guilty to violating the state game laws, Howard B. Carr, member of the Farrell police force and H. B. Straunch, also of Farrell, were lodged in jail at Clarion.

Hunters near Newmansville, Clarion County, notified Game Supervisor H. L. Beatty and Game Protector W. F. Clark, of Franklin, the two men had left the district with does, and provided the license number of the car. The car was stopped in Franklin and officers said the machine contained one doe and part of another. The other half was found in a farm home at Newmansville.

Carr and Staunch pleaded guilty at a hearing in Lickingville and each was fined $300 and $15 costs.

Mr. Robeson

Paul Robeson, singer of Negro music, assisted by Lawrence Brown and Justin Sandridge, pianists, gave a memorable recital in Carnegie Music Hall last night. The audience went wild with enthusiasm, shouted for encore after encore, and, had the aisles of Carnegie Hall been covered with sawdust instead of velvet carpet, we should all have hit the trail and then and there signed pledges for any cause.

J. Fred Lissfelt.

Robeson's art is such in which the means disappear. He is a born entertainer. He must have had little voice training, for the organ is as natural as his dramatic sense. But all that belongs to his race. To these qualities he brings a limitless sense of musical values and a superb intellect with such success that his listeners remain awestruck with the beauty of each song. His humor never intrudes upon his spirituals, neither does it desert him when singing his secular songs.

Robeson can put a tear into his voice without becoming maudlin; he can become a child, a primitive, a braggard, a slave and with his voice alone create unbelievably authentic portraits. There is as much variety in his songs as in a program chosen from four nations, yet he takes them from a single source. He always reaches the innermost depths of our nature.

"There's No Hidin Place Thar," "Scandalisin' My Name," "Little David Play on Your Harp," "I Want to Be Ready" and "Swing Low Sweet Chariot," given as encores, were all lovely in their own way, but we never again hope to hear any song so perfectly sung as "Weepin Mary" or "Old Man Ribber."

Lawrence Brown was an exceptional accompanist, helped in some part songs, and is a very important collector of Negro music. Justin Sandbridge contributed two groups of piano music, and proved again, as during his recent recital that he is a musician of real sincerity, and that his head is more clever than his fingers. He was somewhat eclipsed by Robeson's music.

DRESSMAKERS' STRIKE LOOMS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4.—(INS)—A general strike of garment workers in New York, Baltimore, Toledo, Chicago, Cleveland, Boston and Philadelphia to be called on or about January 1 is imperative and a certainty, it was revealed to International News Service by officials of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, attending the biennial convention of the organization here.

Concensus of opinion among the 200 delegates in session here indicates there will be no hesitancy in passing unanimously the several strike resolutions so far presented to the convention.

Benjamin Schlesinger, of New York, president of the union, declared to an International News Service reporter here today that "In view of the union's precarious position, due to the demoralizing effect of the recent communistic attack and the cut-throat competition presented by the sweatshops, it is imperative that a general strike be called in many localities to right that condition."

Resolutions for strikes in the aforementioned cities have been presented and referred to the resolutions committee of the convention. It is expected they will be presented and recommended for passage to the convention body. The actual passage of the resolutions by the delegates en masse is viewed merely as a formal gesture. Feeling among the delegates, Schlesinger intimated, assures the strike proposals of unanimous passage.

VET SENTENCED IN FRAUD

George Spack, 29, of Braddock, a war veteran, was sentenced by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson to serve six months in jail when he pleaded guilty to making a false claim to the government. When sentence was pronounced he fainted and had to be carried to a chair, where he was revived.

On February 15 he reported to the government the loss of an adjusted service certificate and after receiving a duplicate he collected $115 on the original from the United States Veterans Bureau and obtained a loan of $50 on the duplicate from a bank in Braddock, it was said.

United States secret service operatives told the court Spack had served a sentence at the Leavenworth penitentiary and had also been arrested by police.

Man Hurt in Crash Gets $8,500 Verdict

Arthur Hoffman, of McKeesport, was awarded a verdict of $8,500 against the City of McKeesport by a jury in Common Pleas Court for injuries suffered in a collision of a street car with a coal truck on Fifth avenue, near Hartman street, McKeesport, July 26, 1927.

A wheel of the truck fell into a street excavation for sewer construction, causing the truck to strike the side of the street car and hurl lumps of coal into the car, Hoffman alleged. He claimed he was a passenger on the car and was struck by the coal, suffering injuries to his head, face and arms.

Receivers Named For Auto Concern

On petition of the Union Top Manufacturing Company, engaged in reconditioning wrecked automobiles at 346 Collins avenue, Judge James B. Drew in Common Pleas Court appointed R. C. Tenney and the Potter Title and Trust Company as temporary receivers, with a hearing fixed for December 16. The petition alleged that the company has $10,000 in assets and liabilities of $6,500 and stated a receivership would protect its properties and business.

Braddock Park Boy Hurt While Coasting

Joseph Farkish, 12, of 654 Illinois avenue, Bradock Park, was in the Braddock General Hospital today a victim of a coasting accident near his home yesterday. He suffered a possible fracture of the back and lacerations of the scalp when his sled collided with an automobile, North Braddock police reported.

REED ATTENDS EDGE FEAST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Three of the delegates that have been named to represent this country at the naval conference in London in January were guests at the White House last night at a dinner given by the President in honor of Walter E. Edge, ambassador to France.

Secretary Stimson, who will head the delegation, joined Senators Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Robinson, of Arkansas, the congressional members of the group, in honoring their former colleague.

The secretary went to the dinner from the State Department where, a little earlier, Italy had laid before him the case that country will put forward at the conference. Ambassador De Martino, of Italy, following the precedent already set by Ambassador Debuchi, of Japan, discussed the program of his country with Stimson.

Both Ambassador De Martino and department officials declined to reveal the nature of the Italian arguments to be presented at the conference.

Varied Features Offered On Radio Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

CHICK ENDERS, the versatile end man, will help LaPalina entertain over WJAS at 9:30 this evening in the regular "Smoker." He will do "The Girl That Married the Prince of Wales," "It's No Sin" and "Cincinnati." LaPalina will sing "Madrigal" and the orchestra will turn in a rendition of "When You're in Love."

Chauncey Parsons, Pittsburgh tenor, has a solo, "Forgotten," in the Foamers' concert through KDKA at 8. Rubenstein's capricious "Melody in F," often called the "Symphony of Love," will be included in the 8 o'clock program of Mobiloil through WCAE.

WJAS will bring us a new feature of local origin in the "Pittsburgh Philco Hour" at 7:30—an orchestra and soloists.

The closing hymn on the Gospel Song Hour, WCAE at 7, will have many listeners. It is "Softly and Tenderly."

The Westinghouse Salute, Forty Fathom Trawlers, Palmolive Hour, El Tango Romantico and Don Bestor's Orchestra, are other good things of the evening.

We Now Present

Radio Ralph:

Please settle an argument. My friend says Harry Lauder sang over KDKA in 1921. It has been my understanding that his first broadcast was over the network last Sunday. Who is right?

JACK TIERNEY.

Answer:

Both wrong. Harry Lauder sang over the radio for the first time at a Rotary Club luncheon in the William Penn Hotel on October 30, 1922. The station was KDKA. About a month ago he sang over an NBC network from CNRW in Winnipeg, Canada. His broadcast last Sunday from KFI in Los Angeles was his third radio appearance.

WHY WORRY? In Valdez, Alaska, F. J. Hayes gets his market reports a little after 1:30 a. m. from KDKA.

Victor Saudek's 13-year-old son, Victor Meade, is a precocious young fellow like Bob, who made such a hit with KDKA fans last summer. Victor, Jr., visited Bob at Harvard recently and incidentally met the editor of the Harvard Advocate. The editor was so impressed with Mr. Saudek's offspring that he presented Victor, Jr., with a book to be reviewed for the Advocate. Bob Saudek is still announcing for WBZ in his spare time.

The Modern way to stop a cold

Everywhere, today, Vapex is the first choice for colds. In England, on the Continent, in America. Because Vapex brings instant relief easily and pleasantly.

PUT A DROP of Vapex on your handkerchief and breathe the delightful vapor. Put a drop at each end of your pillow and sleep with a clear head. Waking or sleeping, you can breathe your cold away with Vapex. . . . Vapex is economical too. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications . . . an average of only 2c apiece. And a single application keeps its strength all day or night. . . . Ask your druggist for V-A-P-E-X in the trim, white box with the green triangle and do not accept a cheaper substitute. E Fougera & Co., Inc., New York City.

Amusement World as Reflected in Tales From Studios and Our Theaters

OUT OF DRIFTS BY CHRISTMAS HOPE OF PLAYERS MAKING SNOW PHOTOPLAY

By DOROTHY HERZOG

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 4.

FANNY BRICE and Lilyan Tashman are traveling companions to New York. Fanny goes on to join her husband, Billy Rose. Lilyan, to visit her sister, who has been ill, lo these sundry months. They were to have left days ago, but the Brice stayed over to see her new talky previewed.

They do be saying that Ina Claire (Mrs. John Gilbert) has leased a home in Bev. Hills whilst Jack remains a-bachin' it on the hillside. Also that you should not be surprised at the prospect of a more definite separation. But rumors are like that.

John Gilbert.

George O'Brien and Marguerite Churchill have gone to Canada for snow scenes. Picture: "The Girl Who Made Trouble" or something of the sort. With a bit of luck, they'll be out of the drifts by Christmas.

The guy who spread the libel that women are more curious than men should really be strung up. Bob Armstrong, for examp. received a package marked: "DO NOT OPEN UNTIL XMAS." Whereupon he opened it immediately and dug out a pair of boxing gloves with a card reading: "I see by the papers that you are tired of prizefighter roles and want a change. Don't give up the racket. It's a good one. (Signed) J. Dempsey."

Address Gives Nick, Sue Away

THEY'RE telling a darn interesting story that preceded the announcement of Sue Carol and Nick Stewart's marriage. Some weeks ago Mr. Fox opened a new theater in San Diego. A slew of flick-ites and newspaper scribes trailed down in a special car. One reporter—and one only observed certain significent details that sent him sleuthing.

Sue Carol.

Subsequently, his paper conducted an exhaustive search in every marriage bureau of every small and large town within the radius of Los Angeles. The youngsters were married under their real names, which ordinarily would have been ample protection against discovery. But it so chanced that the Fox Studio, in the course of its routine work had sent this paper among others a mimeographed listing of their players and their addresses. It was the address of Sue and Nick that gave 'em away.

Marcel (Director) De Sano's wife, Arlette Marchal, leaves for Paris next week to spend Christmas with her family. She has a grandmother 80 years old, being the principal reason for her forsaking husband during the holidays.

Actresses Once Millinery Clerks

DAY-BEFORE-YESTERDAY in the careers of Greta Garbo and Natalie Moorhead saw the gals millinery clerks. Greta sold headgear in Sweden. Natalie, in Pittsburgh. It's different now.

Ann Harding

Ann ("Paris Bound" and "Condemned") Harding and her husband, Harry Bannister, are building a home in Hollywoodland. This being about the highest hill spot in Hollywood. The two of 'em helped clear the grounds of weeds and whatnots and supervised workmen in constructing the retaining wall. The retaining wall, it is fondly hoped, will prohibit the rains from washing the property into chocolate drip.

Janet Gaynor's husband, Lydell Peck, is in the reading department of Famous Players. Janet and her husband just returned from Oakland, where they visited with Lydell's folks.

Traveling M. C.'s To Appear In Penn

Traveling master of ceremonies! That's the latest in the show business. And it comes in conjunction with a new policy of traveling show presentations to be inaugurated soon by the Loew theaters. These presentations will open in the Capitol Theater, New York, and then will be put out on the "road," spending one week in each theater. This new idea in stage presentation is being executed by Louis K. Sidney, a former manager of the Aldine, who is now production manager for Loew's in the Capitol Theater.

The new type of stage productions will affect the Penn Theater here, it is announced. Among the entertainers to be included among the traveling masters of ceremonies will be Teddy Joyce, Wesley Eddy, Nat Nazarro, Jr., Dave Schooler, Lou Holtz, Ken Whitmer, Allan Rogers, Ted Claire, Bobby Gillette and Bert Froham.

Hofmann, Sokoloff Come Here Friday

The Cleveland Orchestra, conducted by Nikolai Sokoloff, with Josef Hofmann as piano soloist, will give the third pair of concerts in the Pittsburgh Orchestra Association series in Syria Mosque Friday night and Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hofmann's contribution to the program will be the Beethoven Concerto No. 4, Friday night and the Rubinstein Concerto No. 4, Saturday afternoon. Several works new to Pittsburgh will be presented by the orchestra, including two excerpts from Le Carnaval du Parnasse, by De Mondonville, overture to a Don Quixote, by Rivier, and Jour d'ete a la Montagne, by D'Indy.

English

Stanley to Have Publix Stage Shows

Warner Brothers have succeeded in getting the Publix stage units direct from the Paramount Theater in New York for presentation in their Stanley Theater, according to an announcement from Ace Berry, general manager for Warners in Pittsburgh.

The Publix units are assembled in New York by Broadway's leading theatrical producers, it is pointed out, and after playing the Paramount Theater in New York and the Brooklyn Paramount they are sent out over a Publix and Warner Brothers chain of theaters, and now the Stanley will be linked in this circuit.

It is the purpose of Warners to begin featuring these units in the Stanley the week of January 3. They will be presented with Dick Powell as master of ceremonies.

Church Society Will Give Play

Members of the Queen Esther Society will present "The Bashful Mr. Bobbs" a comedy, in the Buena Vista Methodist Episcopal Church Friday night. The cast is made up of members of the society and the work of presenting the comedy is being done by the church organization.

SHAW AGAIN IN COMING PROGRAMS

Seats go on sale tomorrow in the box office of the Nixon for "Major Barbara," Bernard Shaw's satiric comedy, which the Theater Guild of New York is presenting as the fifth production of the second Pittsburgh subscription season. Frieda Inescort and Dudley Digges will play the leading roles.

Helen Menken comes to the Shubert Alvin next week in "The Infinite Shoeblack," a new play. Leslie Banks, English actor, and member of the original company, has been brought to this country to play opposite Miss Menken. The author of the play, Norman MacOwan, also appears in a prominent role. Seats now on sale.

During the engagement of Margaret Anglin as guest star with the George Sharp Players in "What a Woman Wants," in the Pitt next week, she will attend many social functions. Among them are luncheons in the Congress of Women's Club and at the Women's City Club, as guest of the Women's Press Club.

New York Soprano To Give 'Y' Concert

Marjorie Evans Stewart, dramatic soprano of New York and Pittsburgh, will give a concert tomorrow night in the Downtown Y. M. C. A., opening the winter season of monthly events. Sybil Young will be the accompanist. A noonday concert will be given by the same artist next Tuesday. A similar program will be offered at the North Side Y. M. C. A. on December 12.

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

SUITS, OVERCOATS AND TOPCOATS

℄ We would like to see the faces of our own salesmen when they read this announcement. They'll be the most surprised lot of men in town. When they left the store after closing hours today they did not have the slightest notion that we had this extraordinary surprise in mind. Not a ticket was changed: not a price altered. Every suit and overcoat will be found in the cases tomorrow exactly as they were when the store closed today.

℄ You don't have to ask any questions—come tomorrow, go through the entire stock of Hart Schaffner & Marx clothing—select any garment that appeals to you—look at the price—hand the salesman Fifteen Per Cent Less than its marked and its yours.

℄ Every overcoat included—boucles, fleeces, Camel-hairs, Kerseys, Meltons, Chinchillas—and even our finest imported Montagnacs. Single and double-breasted styles, Chesterfields, Ulsters, College coats, Belted coats, Formfitting and Velvet-collared coats. Every Suit is included—the most complete stock of Hart-Schaffner & Marx we have shown in years.

℄ We're going to be perfectly frank about this whole proposition. To sell Hart Schaffner & Marx clothing in the heart of the season at a loss like this is like taking a dose of bitter medicine. We don't want to do it but we have to in order to quickly reduce our stocks to proper levels. And we felt that the only way to sell a Vast Quantity in a hurry was to do something Drastic—That's why we made our minds not to fool around with half way measures but to go the limit—by offering not a few but every Hart Schaffner & Marx garment in the house at a Straight Cash Discount of Fifteen Per Cent.

℄ Yes, we know that Christmas is coming and we can hear some men say "We'd like to get in on a bargain like that but we can't afford to spare the money just now". You don't need to: that's where our Budget Buying Plan fits you like a glove. A small cash payment and the balance in Ten Weeks makes it possible for you to share in the greatest clothing bargain in years.

WAR DEBT BANK LEADER HOME

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank of New York, who has been abroad in his capacity of chairman of the organization committee of the Bank for International Settlements, returned yesterday on the French liner Isle De France.

Mr. Reynolds denied reports that he is to head the bank in the event of its acceptance by the interested governments. He said that even if he were offered the presidency, which has not occurred, he would not accept it.

Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, a member of the organization committee, returned on the Majestic.

Except to say that he found in Europe an encouraging spirit of co-operation, he declined to comment on the work of the committee.

Mr. Traylor termed the recent slump in the stock market a necessary purgative that will leave the country financially healthier than before.

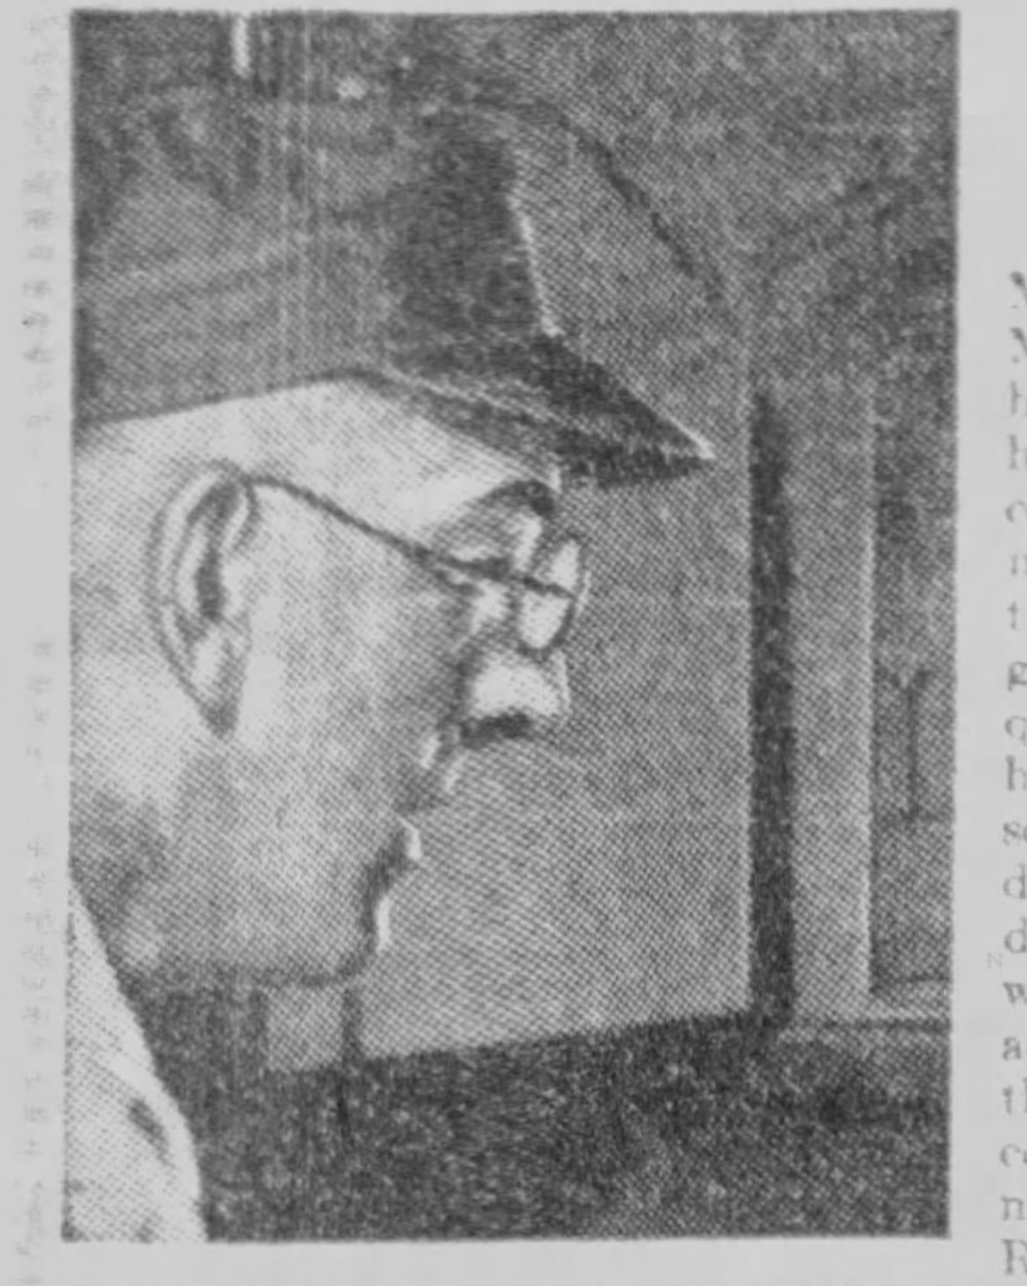
FIREMAN LEARNS HOW TO "FIRE" COUGHS



MR. E. H. MERYS, JR.

Finds REM most effective

Mr. E. H. Merys, Jr., of 2829 Monroe Ave., Kansas City, has a hot job, firing boilers. Naturally he seeks a cooler spot at every opportunity, and constant changes in temperature make him susceptible to coughs. Not long ago he got a bad one that way that he had quite a time getting rid of. Then he remembered the ads he had seen in the papers about REM and decided to give it a trial. "REM did fix my cough in a very little while," says Mr. Merys. Then he adds, "REM has also helped my three children too, when they got coughs." So it goes. When one member of a family once tries REM, it's soon the regular cough medicine for the whole household. Insist on REM!

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty per cent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity. That persistent tired feeling—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion, and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

Begins Where Milk of Magnesia Leaves Off

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany. As an acid corrective it begins where milk of magnesia and bicarbonate of soda leave off.

This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets call Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acid Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your rundown condition and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make this 5-day acid test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Dow Drug Co. or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. If five days' test doesn't show you a decided improvement in your health, return the balance of the Oxoids to your druggist and he will refund your money.

Weather Conditions.

The skies are mostly clear from Ohio westward and from the Ohio River to the Gulf. Over the northeast section of the country it is mostly cloudy and snowing in the lake region. There was little movement or change in the southern and western high pressure areas, but a well defined low pressure area developed over the Northwest. It is centered over Manitoba this morning, apparently moving eastward. There was a further drop in temperature over the Atlantic Coast states, elsewhere there were substantial rises. It is still cold, however, over most of the country.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 2.0 feet; Lock No. 7, 11.9; Pittsburgh, 11.3; Dam No. 2, 8.5; Dam No. 6, 9.4; Dam No. 9, 8.5, and Dam No. 12, 5.5. The dams are up. Herrs Island Dam will be lowered today. There is some ice in the Ohio, Pittsburgh to Wheeling, but not sufficient to interfere with navigation. The headwaters of all the rivers and the pools in the lower Allegheny are frozen over. The Youghiogheny is gorged below West Newton.

Two candidates from the salesmen's division, E. R. Burchfield and Robert F. Dyson, were tied and will each act for six months. Members of the board of governors will elect the officers for the coming year.

Ross Township Board Picks New Officers

For the twelfth successive year Louis C. Lustenberger was chosen president of the Ross Township School Board at the organization meeting this week. Willard Beach was named vice president. HOLIDAY GIFTS TAX EXPRESS

More than 600 carloads of Christmas gifts will be sent to Pittsburgh by express from many lands; millions of packages of mail are about to come for the festive day of giving.

Christmas, 1929, will be a gala holiday, postal and expressmen report.

In anticipation of this substantial Christmas, the Railways Express Agency has prepared more than a million holiday package labels for distribution to express shippers. "I have heard several rumors concerning the erection of gasoline stations, apartment buildings, etc., facing the Ohio River Boulevard," said the burgess, "and it seems to me it is opportune for council to establish the usual restrictions in zoning in this particular section."

REFORM GROUP NAMES HEADS

The election of directors of the National Reform Association took place yesterday, bringing to a close the sixty-sixth annual convention which was held in the Second Presbyterian Church, Eighth street. Eight directors were re-elected for terms of three years each and they in turn will elect officers for the coming year.

The restoration of Bible reading and non-sectarian teaching of the moral and spiritual ideals of the Bible in the public schools was advocated by Dr. R. H. Martin, president of the association, who in the final session of the convention made his annual report. He also told, in his report, that less than 18 per cent of the entire population of this country is receiving religious education.

'Bossy' Defeats Fist Fight Foe For Mayor

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., Dec. 4. — (AP.) — A few years ago Mayor Andrew J. Gillis defeated former Mayor Michael Cashman at fisticuffs and went to jail. Yesterday he defeated him at the city election by 46 votes and strode the streets as a conqueror.

Mayor Gillis, who gained the name "Bossy" in his days as a youngster and the name "The Bad Boy Mayor" in his first days as chief executive of the city, squeezed through by 3,119 votes to Cashman's 3,073.

The former mayor announced that he would petition for a recount.

It was "Bossy's" closest fight since he entered politics and it drew the largest vote in the history of Newburyport. A total of 6,353 votes out of a registration of 7,252 were cast.

A GLORIFIED CLEAR SKIN

© S.S.S. Co.

A CLEAR, smooth, lovely skin enhances personal attractiveness! Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. More happiness and friends may depend upon it.

Healthy skin is clear, smooth and lovely. It is Nature's outward reflection of internal healthfulness.

The way to the skin is through the blood. Rich, red, healthy blood nourishes the body and aids in protecting it against infection and disease.

Skin troubles and sallow complexion are usually but symptoms of a deeper, a more dangerous trouble—a lack of the normal count of red-cells in the blood.

When you take S.S.S. to get rid of these outside blemishes you are building up the system to ward off the graver diseases of which these blemishes are Nature's warning.

S.S.S.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you will want to possess body power to clear up your skin.

S. S. S. will help Nature give you this power. Internal healthfulness will then reflect in your skin a natural loveliness—a skin glorified.

Millions of people have taken advantage of the wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. It gives to Nature what it needs to build you up so that your system may throw off the cause.

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, the body's power of resistance to infection and disease is raised. Your appetite should improve. Firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should sleep soundly. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

Take S. S. S. daily at mealtime. It promotes healthy body building. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the great blood tonic which is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test for over 100 years. All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

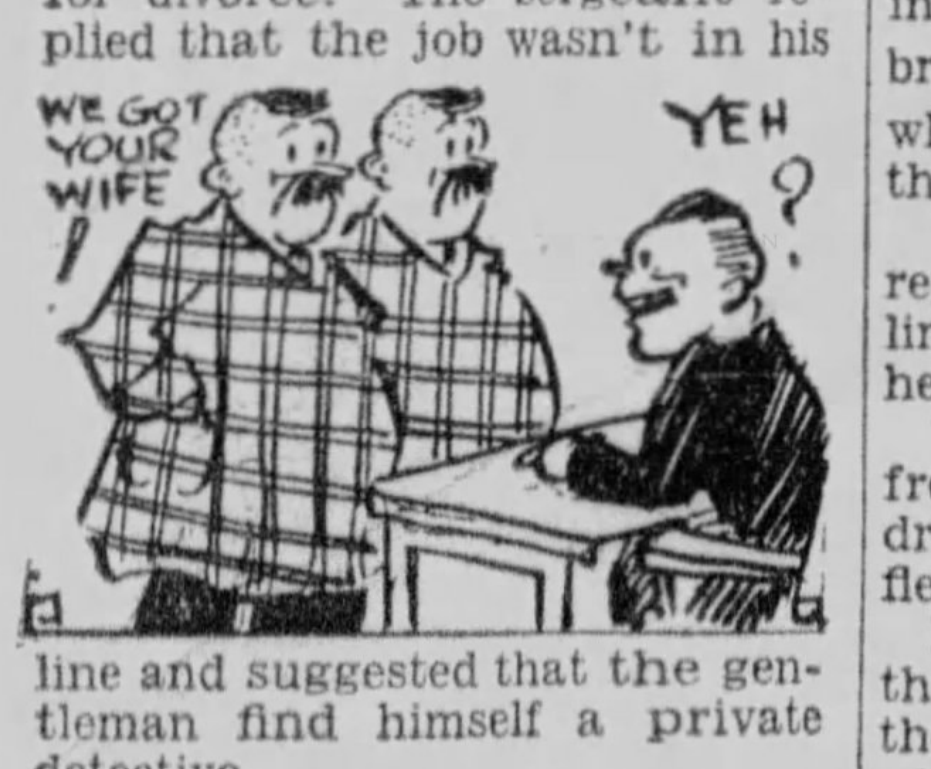
TWO hangers-on at the North Side poliice station who are known as the "Steamo Twins" heard a man asking the desk sergeant, George Stone, to locate his wife. For two years he had been searching for her to notify her that he was suing for divorce. The sergeant replied that the job wasn't in his line and suggested that the gentleman find himself a private detective.



"We're private detectives," the twins announced.

DRY AGENTS ABSOLVE POLICE

Admit Their Identities Were Not Apparent When They Were Hit by Patrolman

The Police Trial Board today heard Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington's complaint that Patrolman A. L. Meuser had interfered with a federal raid—and then the board exonerated Meuser.

Pennington, although invited, was absent, but prohibition agents testified that Meuser had used his mace on the head of Agent Martin Micken during a raid on a place at 2830 Penn avenue.

'AGENTS DISGUISED'

Meuser's defense was that he didn't know Micken and his companions were agents—that all he saw was shabbily-dressed men who might have been "stick-up men."

The agents admitted that Meuser had not been told they were raiding officers.

Police Capt. Harry Mellon testified that Micken was drunk during the raid, and Lieut. Edward Fallon added that Micken appeared to be under the influence of liquor.

Micken admitted he had had a drink but explained that it was the line of duty, having made "a buy" at an earlier stop.

BATTLE DESCRIBED

Meuser testified that when he entered the place one of the raiders grabbed him, that three of them tried to take his police badge. He struck, Meuser added, during the mixup.

Police Supt. Peter P. Walsh questioned each of the agents. Joyce examined the witnesses, too, and brought out that Meuser had also struck a second agent, H. J. Allison.

Walsh won from Agent Kames L. Delaney a clean bill of health for the police. Delaney agreed that police had never refused to help in a raid.

Nothing was said of Pennington's charges that the police on the whole refused to co-operate with the agents, that once a policeman stood by idly while gangsters fired on an auto of the agents in front of prohibition headquarters.

CLERK ROUTS ROBBERS

"Get out of there," called Pat Donovan, 16, clerk in the plumbing office of Theodore L. Hildebrand, 912 Chestnut street, today when he saw four Negroes rifling the mail on a desk.

"Keep quiet or I'll plug you," replied one of the Negroes leveling a revolver at the youth's head, he told police.

SNOW HAMPERS DEER HUNTERS

LIGONIER, Dec. 4.—For the hunter who failed to get his "buck" the first day of the season, the odds have increased 10 to 1 over his chances Monday, records at the headquarters of County Game Protector Ray McKissick here revealed today. Only 16 deer were reported killed yesterday, as against 160 for Monday.

And while the statisticians and dopesters laid aside rifles for a "shin roasting" before the campfire to ponder the "how come" this morning their more determined comrades set out for the deer trails, now knee-deep in a velvety blanket of snow. Only a few of the sturdier and more seasoned hunters ventured out today. The hopeful band of 18,000 which invaded the deer country Monday, having dwindled to somewhere around 1,000 or so, scattered along the Chestnut Ridge and Laurel Hills from Donegal north to New Florence.

One camp of nimrods hunting on the Wrinkle place just off the Lincoln highway along Laurel Ridge was lucky enough to add a 200-pound bear to the bag yesterday, according to reports reaching here. Two more bears were sighted deeper in the forest by members of the Rock Run Gun Club, but none of the huntsmen were able to get near enough for a shot.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET HERE

The Presbyterian General Assembly has accepted an invitation to meet here in 1931, bringing approximately 2,500 visitors to the city.

The Rev. Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, stated clerk of the assembly, made this announcement while guest of the Men's Club of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church.

Pittsburgh's facilities for handling the convention were lauded by Dr. Mudge. He spent yesterday investigating the possibilities of finding conveniences for the meeting.. He indicated that the sessions will be held at Syria Mosque. Eugene L. Connelly was toastmaster of the dinner and Dr. Mudge was introduced by the Rev. Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr.

Traffic Officer To Guard Crossing

Council has asked Safety Director James M. Clark to comply with a suggestion from Traffic Engineer Burton W. Marsh for the assignment of a traffic policeman at Tabor street and West Carson street instead of the installation of an electric signal as proposed by property owners and residents of the neighborhood.

Man Jailed Charged With Running Pool

Peter Moltz, 35, of 6610 Frankstown avenue, was arrested today charged with operating a lottery. Precinct Detectives John Barrett and James Teets, of the East End Police Station, reported finding record books in Moltz's home in conjunction with the New York Clearing House pool. Moltz will be given a hearing tomorrow.

Sale of Estate Provided in Will

The will of Mrs. Margaret A. White, 15 Oakland square, filed today, provides that the estate of $31,600 be liquidated and the proceeds from the Oakland property go to Mary E. and May Pearl Beck, granddaughters, and property in Florida to her son, Arthur H. White. The son and the Union Trust Company were named executors.

Caught Nap, Says Pair Forcing Store

"We were going to take a nap in the place," explained two men who were caught forcing their way into the Frank H. Kirner church and school supply store, at 309 Market street, early today, police said.

The pair, George Wallis, 31, "no home," and John Clark, 34, of Johnstown, were arrested by an operative of a protective service after they were alleged to have pushed in the rear door of the store. They were held for court.

EXTRA CHARGES IRK COUNCIL

Council has asked the law department for an opinion on a claim from the Rust Engineering Company for about $2,400 in extra work bills for repairing Bigelow boulevard retaining wall.

Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang advised Council yesterday that the city had awarded the job to the Rust concern on a bid of $5,265. The only other bid was $8,630.

Lang said the award was on the basis of 75 cents a cubic foot for concrete used in repairing the wall. The extra work bills are charged at the rate of $3 a cubic foot.

"Why don't you give them the wall?" Charles Anderson inquired of Tom Reed, city engineer in charge of the work, who had been summoned to explain the bill.

Replying to John S. Herron, Reed stated the city had no employes who could do the work.

2 IN ELECTION CASE INDICTED

Richard Durant and Joseph Bennett, Negroes, of Homestead, were indicted yesterday by the Grand Jury on charges of violating the election laws.

The men, it is alleged, confessed to District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner and his assistant, Andrew T. Park, to having repeated in voting in the first four districts of the Second Ward of Homestead at the recent election. They told the story, it is averred, after they had been interrogated by the election frauds committee of the Allegheny Bar Association.

They named eight men whom they said had given them money and liquor. Informations were made against the eight before Alderman Thomas A. Flanigan, seven being charged with violating the election laws and one with bribery.

At the hearing, both Durant and Bennett denied their charges, and the eight men were discharged.

OFFICER FIRED ON AS 2 FLEE

Two Negroes who engaged a policeman in a running gun battle after he had caught them peeping in windows of a hotel and a garage in Webster avenue, were being sought by police today.

Cornerman Robert Martin saw one peering into the rear windows of the New Terminal Hotel, at 615 Webster avenue, and the other in the windows of a garage across the street. They fled and began firing at Martin as he approached, he reported.

TRAFFIC DRIVE NETS 25 MEN

The drive on alleged violators of traffic and motor vehicle code laws netted state highway and city patrolmen 25 arrests yesterday. .

They were served with summonses to appear for a hearing before Alderman T. D. Jones, Carson street, as were the 300 other violators arrested since the beginning of the drive, a week ago. Warrants will be issued for those who fail to appear, Traffic Inspector B. R. Marshall said.

Overbrook Will Dine City Officials

Overbrook Borough committee men and women will hold a banquet for Mayor Charles H. Kline, City Council and other city officials at Carrick Eagles Hall next Wednesday night. The program has been arranged to enable borough residents to become acquainted with city officials prior to the annexation of Overbrook to Pittsburgh January 6. Among speakers will be Mayor Kline, Daniel Winters, Senator Frank Harris and State Representative Michael Musmanno.

LEECH HEADS BALDWIN BOARD

Baldwin Township school board last night closed the year's business by approving payroll and bills aggregating $10,650, adjourned sine die, then reorganized the board.

Tax Collector Harry Nix reported collecting $980.97 for November school taxes.

The following officers were elected: Henry G. Leech, president; William Uecker, vice president, and Henry A. Jones, solicitor. Besides Mr. Heinen, the other two commissioners are Norman Schwotzer and William Dryer.

The board expects to start sessions in the new McGibney school, now being almost completed, Monday, December 16. The opening has been delayed somewhat on account of weather conditions. Dedication for the building will take place Friday, January 10.

Solicitor reported settlement in full from Peter Colosi, of Hays, for the purchase of the old McGibney school and ground. The purchase price for both being $8,300

Homewood Post To Meet Tonight

Homewood Post No. 351, American Legion will hold its last meeting tonight in its present quarters. A large attendance is urged as matters of importance will come up for consideration. A report on the drive to get 351 members for No. 351 will be heard and steps taken to add eight more buglers and a drummer to the drum and bugle corps.

Woman's Screams Rout Store Burglar

A burglar, "jimmy" in hand, fled down Sandusky street early today, followed by the screams of Mrs. W. H. Miller, 50. The rattle of the steel bar against the lock of the grocery store at 1204 Sandusky street, North Side, over which Mrs. Miller had an apartment, awakened her and she called for police help.

COUNCILMEN TO ELECT WINTERS

He Will Resign Seat in City Body and Assume Vacant Position Today

Daniel Winters will resign his seat in Council tomorrow and immediately assume the city controllership vacated last Friday when Council accepted the resignation of Henry O. Evans.

Council yesterday called a special meeting for 2:30 tomorrow to elect a controller for the interim ending January 6.

"If Council sees fit to elect me, I wil assume the controllership at once. We must not embarrass the city," Winters said.

Later he declared he would post a bond and take the oath of office as administered by Mayor Charles H. Kline as soon as Council elected him.

There seems no doubt of Council's choice, as a resolution urging Winters to assume the controllership was passed Monday without a dissenting vote of the nine members present.

WINTERS' SUCCESSOR

Council cannot fill Winters' vacated seat until the regular meeting next Monday unless another special meeting is held on Saturday, notices for which would have to be sent out tomorrow, according to City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt. Calls for special meetings require 48 hours' advance notice to members.

Late yesterday Winters said he was not ready to announce whether he would appoint as deputy controller John Schilpp, Jr., who was discharged from that position by Evans immediately before the latter resigned.

Schilpp was employed by Council yesterday to prepare a statement of the city debt to prevent Council from making appropriations in excess of the city's borrowing margin.

UNEXPIRED TERM

Winters was elected last month by the voters to complete the term of the late John H. Henderson, which will expire in January, 1932.

City Solicitor Waldschmidt advised Winters not to assume the controllership until the "first Monday of next January, as the law requires," unless he was elected by Council for the interim.

Previous to Waldschmidt's opinion, it was generally accepted that Winters could have accepted the controllership on November 26, when he received from Prothonotary John Vogt the certificate of election by the people.

The controller's office has been guarded by special policemen since last Saturday, when Edward Townsend, superintendent of the bureau of city property, ordered Evans from the premises.

KLINE FOR KAMBACH

With the controllership problem practically solved, political observers turned their attention to Winters' probable successor in Council.

P. J. McArdle, whose Council term will expire next month, and George J. Kambach, South Side attorney and close personal friend of Winters, are potential candidates. McArdle will have to resign to be eligible for election to Winters' unexpired term of two years.

Republican leaders of the city, county and state are said to be taking an active interest in the contest.

Kambach is believed to be favored by Mayor Kline, who will have a vote on filling the vacancy; English, Herron and Little.

The vote will not remain deadlocked at four very long, according to Mayor Kline's friends, who are predicting that one of the opposition will switch to Kline's candidate.

The Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's Question: A New York surgeon and physician says each time a girl is kissed three minutes of life is automatically cut off by over-stimulation of the heart. Is he right?

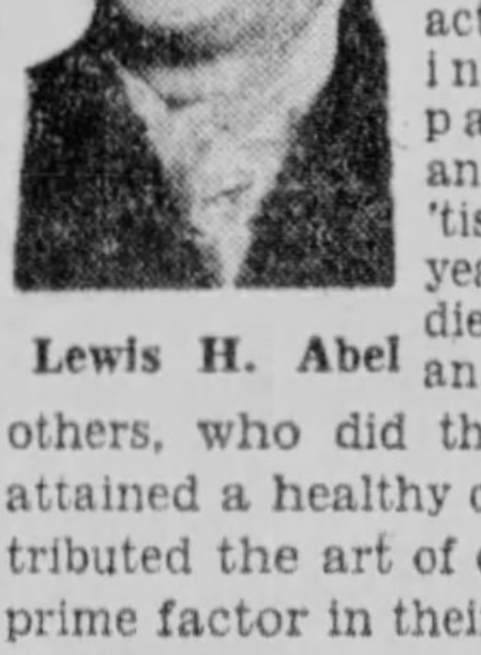
CAL MARA, secretary, East End: "I think he is absolutely wrong. I don't think kissing has any such effect at all. If such a statement were true, there would be a lot of persons dead long before their time. As for myself, I'm 23 and as yet haven't a grey hair in my head. The experiments sounded like a publicity stunt for a new show or something to me."

Cal Mara

FORD MILLER, radio station manager, North Side: "If this doctor says kissing shortens one's life, then I think I'm going to live forever. Up to the present time I've missed my true share of the osculatory exercise that he claims shortens one's life. I am told the pleasure of a kiss is well worth the three minutes of one's life it cuts short."

Ford Miller

LEWIS H. ABEL, Knoxville, vice president Little Theater group: "I think the doctor is entirely wrong. Longevity of stars of the stage is evidence enough to prove him so. Sarah Bernhardt, the actress, kissed intensively and passionately on and off the stage 'tis said, for years, and she died an old woman. Hundreds of others, who did the same thing, attained a healthy old age and attributed the art of osculation as a prime factor in their enjoyment of life."

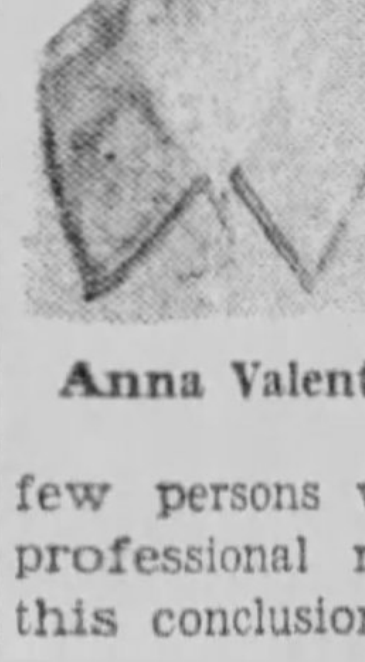


Lewis H. Abel

ALICE ATKINS, McKees Rocks: "I think it is a foolish statement for one to make at any time. Although everyone knows a kiss will stimulate one's heart to greater activity, I can't believe that it would cause so much damage to the human system as to shorten life. Most people would rather have their life shortened, in that case. What's life without a lot of pleasure in it?"

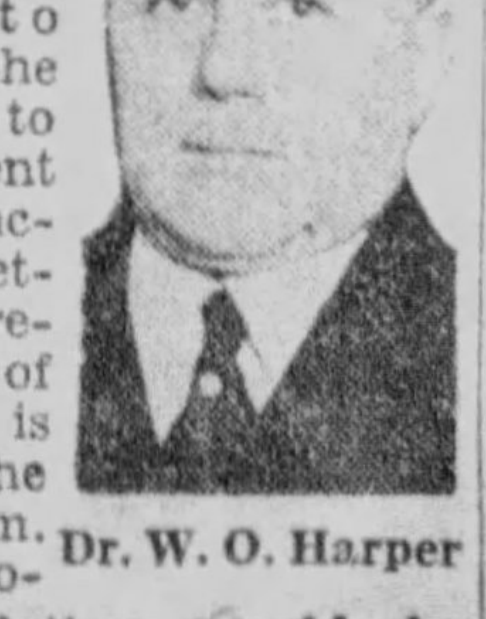
Alice Atkins

ANNA VALENT, Overbrook: "Personally I believe such a statement is silly. Millions of people, both men and women, have kissed each other down through the ages and the greater proportion lived long lives. Just because one's heart is stimulated, that doesn't mean that life is going to be shortened. Very few persons will agree with the professional man who came to this conclusion."



Anna Valent

DR. WILLIAM O. HARPER, downtown, physician: "Absolutely not! Kissing and other forms of osculatory exercise of a similar nature has a tendency to stimulate the heart action to such an extent that it can function much better with a resulting glow of health that is favorable to the human system. Of course, promiscuous osculation should be ignored at all times."



Dr. W. O. Harper

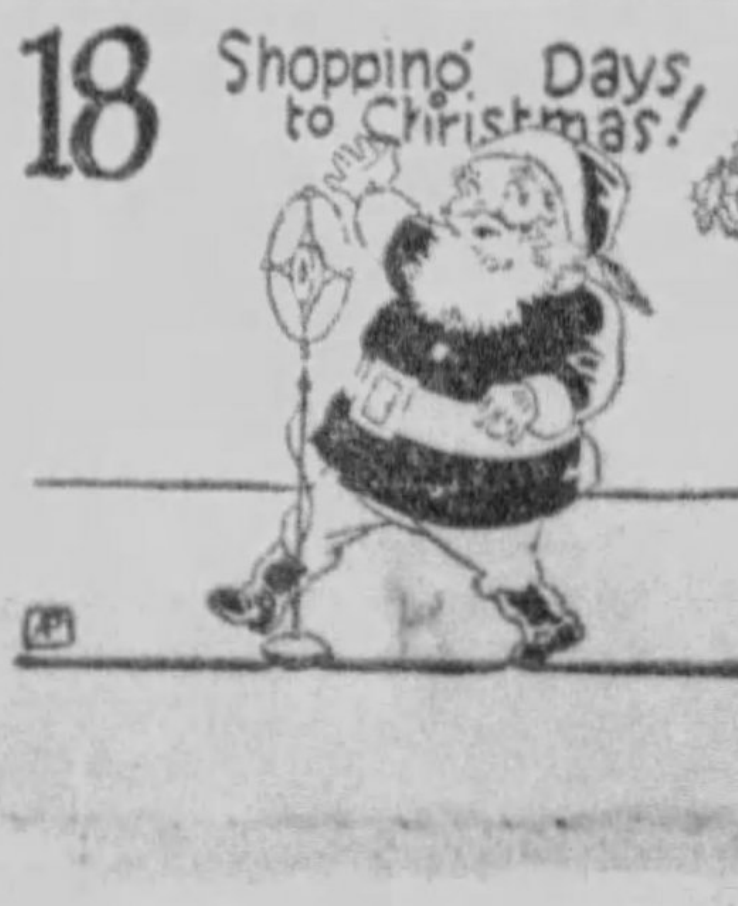
War Against South Side Market Rats Urged

Large rats that infest the South Side Market House roam about the neighborhood to such an extent that mothers are afraid to leave babies alone, according to a complaint submitted to Council by Mrs. John M. Phillips, of Carrick.

Mrs. Phillips explained that she had observed the rats while she was associated with a household exposition held in the Market House.

When Public Works Director Edward G. Lang's attention was called to the complaints he said he would sent to the South Side Market House a rat exterminator that has been employed in that capacity for the North Side Market.

Lang said he would order repairs to the defective walls reported by Mrs. Phillips and insist on tenants in the market house keeping all refuse from under the stands.



Will Rogers Says

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 4.

My newspapers have just sent me out to cover the great professional golf championship, played right here, with thousands prostrated with the heat. Hagen was marvelous in a light muddy brown cerise ensemble; Leo Diegel never looked prettier, in a dull straightwaisted overhand.

Mussolini would have been proud of Gene Sarazen, in a Fascistic fawn-colored stance. Horton Smith (Missouri's sole gift to the nation, since Champ Clark) was the cynosure of all eyes, in a low-geared, blue high-waisted sweater, with pantaloons in happy discord. Johnny Farrell in all orange, with a putt split up the back.

Johnny Golden was arrayed in an overhanging torso with stockings to match, and Abe Espinosa (in honor of Ireland), dressed all in green, playing on a 100 per cent Jewish course, before an audience composed 90 per cent of the Ku Klux Klan.

Yours, WILL.

DEFENSE PLEA IN DEATH OF EX-WIFE

Aged Grandmother Testifies Mrs. Gilmer Was Cornered Before Firing Fatal Shot

Ida Mae Gilmer yesterday was acquitted of the murder of Mrs. Sarah Hornby in Clairton last August 21, on the ground of self-defense. The woman broke down, wept for joy, and in five minutes after the verdict was returned left for Lock No. 3 to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Mallinger.

The jury retired shortly before 3 o'clock to deliberate on their verdict and was out an hour. Mrs. Gilmer testified she shot in self defense, after Mrs. Hornby, estranged wife of Roy Hornby had threatened to strike her with a broom and brain her with the handle.

Mrs. Gilmer was burned so badly when she was a child, that she is compelled to sleep on an electric pad. The fatal shot which pierced the juglar vein in Mrs. Hornby's neck was fired with her left hand as she has no fingers on the right one.

Mrs. Anna Bird Hornby, grandmother of Roy Hornby was the only witness to the shooting. The grandmother testified that Mrs. Hornby had Mrs. Gilmer in a corner and was threatening her, when Mrs. Gilmer fired the pistol, which had been lying on the mantel in the aged woman's room.

Judge M. W. Fleming of Center County tried the case, the defendant's counsel being William H. Coleman and Ernest G. Narrar. The state was represented by Earl R. Jackson.

THIEVES BREAK PADLOCK

A store at 3419 West Carson street, closed October 30 under a one-year "padlock" injunction decree of the Federal District Court, was broken into and robbed.

An investigation conducted by Deputy United States Marshal Edward A. Holden showed that the government locks were pried off. This was said to be the first instance of breaking into a building in this district, which had been "locked" by the government for violation of the prohibition law.

In the injunction suit Edward Hartner was named as the proprietor of the store and Frank Baravikas was designated as the owner of the property. The government investigation did not disclose the articles stolen, but it was said that the theft consisted of gloves and other wearing apparel. New locks were placed on the building by Deputy Marshal Holden.

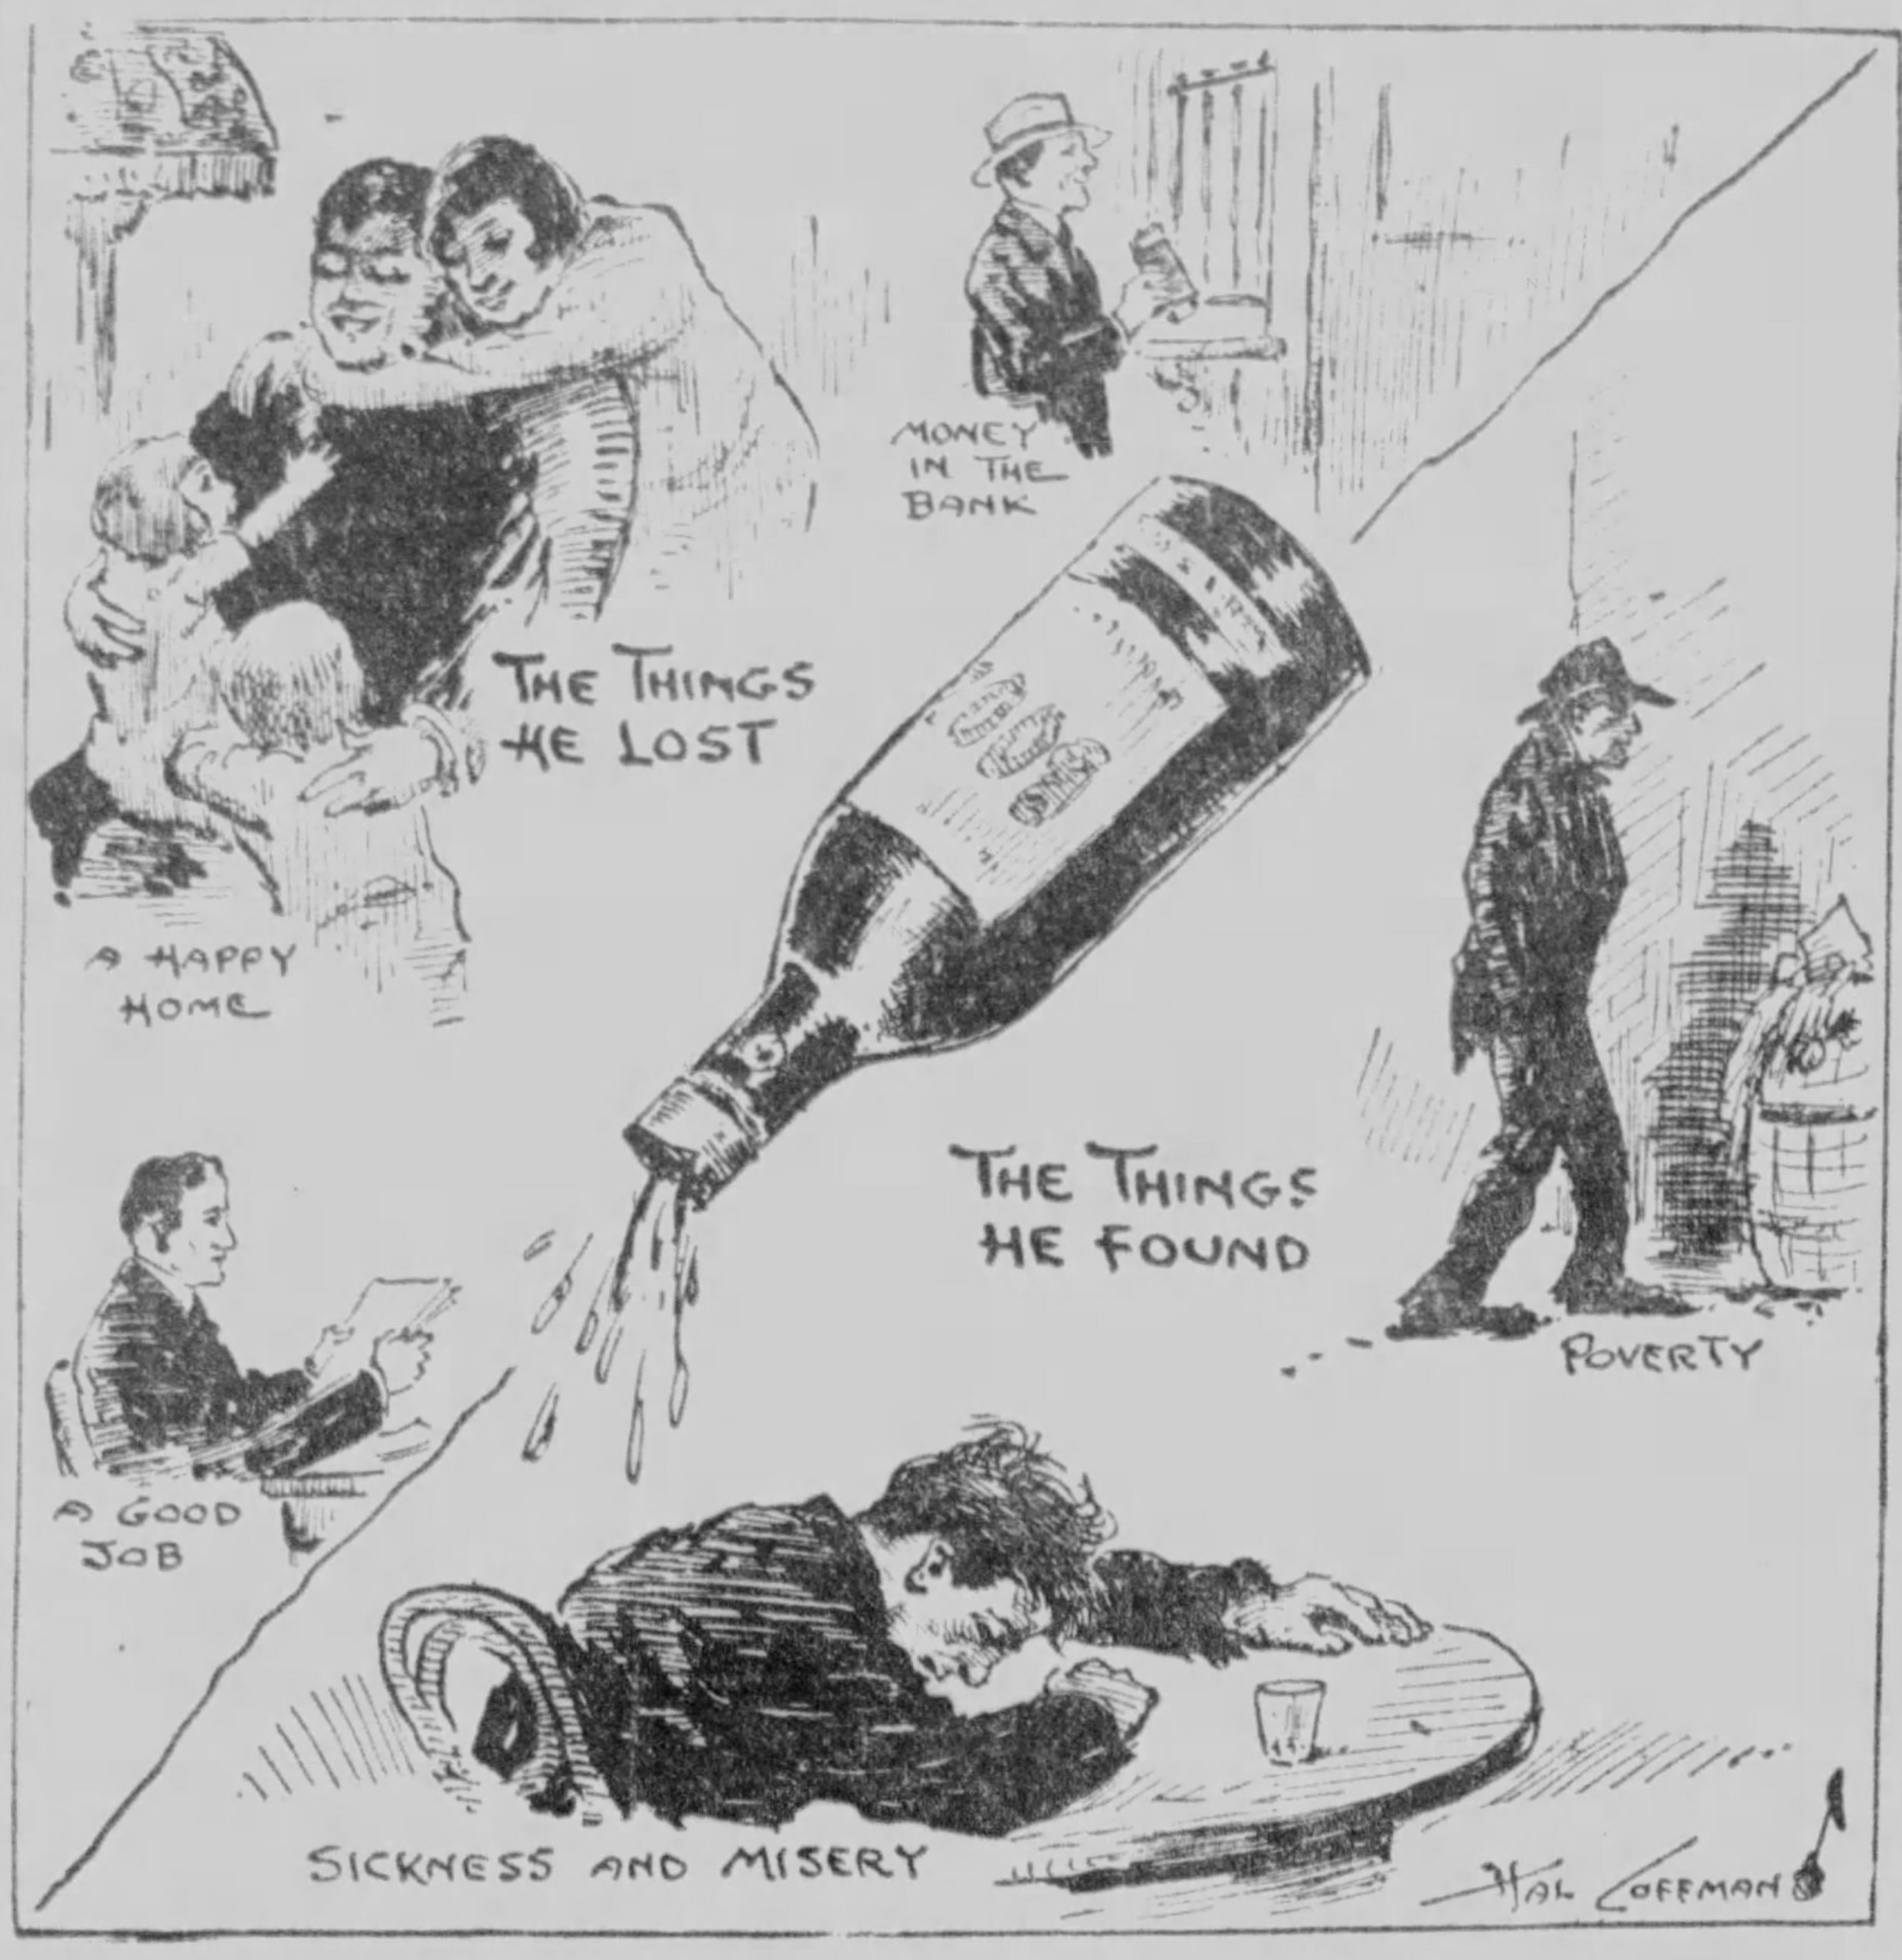
THINKING IT OVER :-: By Hal Coffman



THE THINGS HE LOST

A moron would not grasp the lesson of this powerful cartoon.

You, being intelligent, will grasp it and profit by it.

As you see at a glance, the man in the upper portion of the picture is to be envied.

The same man, in the lower, is to be pitied.

It is very simple.

Less simple is the fact that men DELIBERATELY move from the upper to the lower.

Explain, that if you can.

Mr. Coffman shows you one here.

YOUR reasoning power tells you that this animal belongs to an inferior species, lower than the DUMB animals. They cannot think; he can, but refuses to.

You do not care to be classified with him—even in the interests of science.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Georgiades, of 252 Noble lane, Carrick, were the complainants. After paying his fine, Frickey was suspended by his superior on a charge with conduct unbecoming an officer. Battalion Chief Shanahan estimated the damage at $2,000.

DATE SOUGHT IN POLICE TRIAL

District Attorney S. H. Gardner today wrote to Judge William M. Parker, of Venango County, asking when it would be convenient for him to try the coal and iron police case, under change of venue, as directed by the State Supreme Court.

As soon as a date is set, the prosecutor and his assistants will prepare to place on trial the three former Pittsburgh Coal Company police, who, acquitted of murder charges, still face charges of involuntary manslaughter in the death of John Borkowski, Tyre miner-farmer.

The defendants, Walter J. Lyster, Harold P. Watts and Frank Slapikas, were granted a change of venue on the ground that public mind was inflamed against them in Allegheny County.

SIGNERS HEED FINAL TAX CUT CALL

Tons of Petitions Asking Earned Income Revenue Reductions Ready to Mail

From all parts of Pennsylvania are coming petitions urging the reduction of the Federal tax on earned incomes.

Signers are heeding the final call in order that they may have their protests against the present system of levying against earned incomes filed in Washington with millions of other signatures to petitions which will be sent to Washington next Tuesday.

Petitions from every large city in the country, obtained under the auspices of the Hearst newspapers, will be delivered to Administration officials and Congress, following a parade which is attracting nation-wide attention.

TONS OF PETITIONS

Tons of petitions containing a large percentage of American voters and income tax payers will be left for the consideration of the government authorities.

Petitions received yesterday by the Sun-Telegraph in addition to those from Pittsburgh citizens represent the attitude toward the tax in many parts of the state where a growing resentment has been noted against mulcting the incomes of professional men and women, salaried people and wage earners.

CHANGE SET FORTH

The proposed change in the levying of the tax on earned incomes is set forth in the resolution printed below. Coupons returned to the Income Tax Department, Sun-Telegraph, this week will be added to the volume of petitions in the income tax parade. The resolution follows:

To His Excellency, the President of the United States of America;

To His Excellency, the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States of America;

To the Honorable, the Congress of the United States of America:

Whereas, the earned income of an individual is derived from his labor and creative faculties, which are subject to rigid limitations, fluctuations and serious depreciation, while the income from property is a permanent and stable income, it seems inequitable to tax earned incomes on the same basis as incomes from property and invested capital without taking depreciation into consideration; and

Whereas, an earned income is the measure of value of services rendered by the worker to the community and an unearned income is the measure of value of the protection and other benefits received by an individual of the community; and

Whereas, to tax earned incomes heavily is to penalize thrift and industry and is a direct tax on labor and tends to retard enterprise and achievement, therefore

Be it resolved, that we, the undersigned, call these facts to the attention of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and Congress, in order to secure a reduction of 50 per cent in the tax rate on earned incomes below the tax rate on unearned incomes.

THOUSANDS OF SEALS

OPENING MAIL AT TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE HOSPITAL.

Miss Evelyn Long opening some of the thousands of letters received at the Tuberculosis League Hospital for the purchase of Christmas seals to further the work of that organization.

EAST LIBERTY QUEST ON

East Liberty school children are enthused over the "Earn Your Teacher a Christmas Gift" campaign being waged in that district, and merchants of that district report a great demand for ballots from customers of all ages. Teacher after teacher, they say, has been nominated and voted for in this popularity contest.

The plan by which East Liberty merchants hope to find the community's most popular teacher has been outlined by Patrick Flood, of the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce.

Merchants participating in the campaign are called "Authorized East Liberty Merchants." Every 10 cent purchase in the store of one of these merchants allows the customer one vote. This vote may be cast for any teacher he or she prefers.

Fifteen teachers in various grades of the public, private and parochial schools of Pittsburgh will be awarded Christmas gifts of radios. The winners of these gifts will be chosen solely by the number of ballots cast for them.

The radio sets are each worth over $200. The campaign will continue until Christmas eve; radios will be awarded shortly after.

BOOTHS TO SELL SEALS MONDAY

The public booth sale of Christmas seals opens next Monday, according to an announcement made by the Christmas Seal Committee of the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh. The sale continues until December 21. Booths will be located in the Federal and City-County buildings, theaters and other public places. The women who will have charge of the various booths met at the Tuberculosis League hospital and had their work explained to them. An inspection of the hospital followed the meeting.

Canada joined hands with Pittsburgh last night in aiding the Christmas seal sale of the league when Frederick Hudd, trade commissioner for Canada at New York, spoke from Station WCAE.

"The health and welfare of the people of one country is of concern to the people of the other", Hudd said. And so, as a Canadian visitor to this hospitable metropolis I do not consider it inappropriate to accede to the request of my friends of the Christmas Seal Committee, who give me this opportunity to associate myself with an appeal for your support of the work which is being carried on, both nationally and internationally, for the prevention of tuberculosis.

"The seals provide money for the education of doctors and nurses, so that they will understand tuberculosis better. They provide talks for all the school children and teachers, so that they too will learn how to keep well. In your city, I have learned that Christmas seals run four free dispensaries, where 9,000 persons are treated yearly. And so you see that these Christmas seals, are in effect, a very cheap form of health and life insurance."

RECOUNT BOARD DEFENDS ITS RECORD

Tells Judge Macfarlane County Commissioners Not Justified in Criticism

Criticism of the work of the Recount Board reported to have been uttered by the County Commissioners is not justified, Ward Bonsall, chairman of the board, declared in a report to Judge James R. Macfarlane in Common Pleas Court.

Possibly the work could have been done for somewhat less expenditure, and perhaps a few hundred dollars might have been saved, Bonsall stated, pointing out that frauds were found in connection with ballot boxes and ballots at the primary election and reported to court.

The board is not a prosecuting agency and District Attorney S. H. Gardner, for whom copies of all recount figures and reports are being made, should wait until the work of the board is completed, according to the report. It refers to prosecutions based upon the recount of two years ago, which provided facts for the prosecution.

The greater speed in recounting by a special committee of the official returning board than by the recount board is attributed by Bonsall to the fact that special committee recounted general election returns while his board recounted primary election returns. He stated his board has reported on 40 to 50 boxes, with 30 to 40 to report.

PERIL TO CITY'S BUSINESS SEEN IN BOOST

Real Estate Men Fight Raise In Levy; Courses to Avoid Heavier Burden Suggested

Council has advised Edward F. Daum, of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board, that a requested hearing would be granted during budget sessions to discuss the prevention of a tax increase next year.

Another request for a hearing on that subject was submitted to Council last Monday by J. W. Bamford, of the Building Owners and Managers' Association.

A letter presented by Daum stated:

"The board in its experience has observed the serious effects of the ever-increasing burden of taxes on real estate, which in its judgment will work injury to the industrial and commercial interests of the city, not only impeding its development, but reducing the value of land, thereby causing a further increase in the levy.

VACANCIES CITED

"The evidence will be found in numerous vacancies in commercial, industrial and residence properties and the reduction in rentals from property of all kinds."

Bamford outlined three courses to pursue to avoid a tax increase. They are:

Condemn property on which taxes are delinquent and sell the property to persons able to pay the revenue to the city.

Reduce expenses by efficient operation of the City-County Building and other city-owned structures.

Investigate the large amount of property in the Golden Triangle owned by public service corporations that is not assessed for tax purposes.

SEES INVESTMENT PERIL

Bamford estimated there were 550,000 square feet of rentable office space vacant, with a potential value of $3 a square foot. He declared there were practically 100 store locations vacant in the Golden Triangle, with a potential rental value of $1,000,000 a year.

"Further increase in the tax burden would create an intolerable situation and imperil millions of dollars of real estate investments," Bamford said.

Rattlers Survive Sharpsburg Fire Only to Be Shot

Five rattlesnakes survived a fire in Sharpsburg's old town hall today, only to meet death from bullets fired by Motorcycle Patrolman Chester Zygello.

The reptiles were part of the property of a carnival company which was using the building for storage. Zygello said he feared that in the excitement the snakes might escape and deemed it best to dispatch them.

The fire started in the rear of the building and was discovered by a passerby. Members of the Sharpsburg Volunteer Fire Department fought the blaze for an hour before subduing it, and two, Edward Weichel, 26, and J. Carricato, 20, were overcome by smoke.

COURTESY WEEK IN TRAFFIC

"We're killing too many people in Pittsburgh."

That is the reason given for "Courtesy in Traffic" week by Inspector Ben R. Marshall, of the traffic division of the Police Department. "Courtesy in Traffic" week is being sponsored by the Better Traffic Committee.

"Our object," Marshall said, "is to bring drivers, policemen and pedestrians to realize the importance of courtesy in traffic. If we can get this thing across, we can save a lot of kiddies and adults, too, besides solving a lot of our traffic problems.

"The Better Traffic Committee is pushing its drive through churches, schools, clubs, and business firms throughout the week. We at the police department are insisting that the policemen be courteous at all times in the exercise of their duty. This is nothing new in our department, but we are stressing it especially during the week."

"Courtesy in Traffic" week finds policemen throughout the city cheerful and kind in the course of their duties. Cornermen and patrolmen are trying to instruct drivers and pedestrians in the policy of courtesy in traffic.

Courtesy, according to policemen, involves patience from driver and walker, a willingness to give way to the "other fellow," and consideration of the rights of others.

New Vestments Given Sacred Heart Church

A new set of rose colored vestments, costing $3,000, will be used for the first time during the present Advent season by the priests at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, 6202 Alder street, in the services appropriate to the religious observance.

The robes are the gift of the Altar Society of Sacred Heart Church. All are hand made and were imported from Caen, Normandy, France, where expert lace makers spent their best talents on the productions.

USED TWICE YEARLY

The vestments, which include chasubles and stoles for the use of the celebrant, deacon and sub deacons of the mass, and copes and veils for Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, according to the Rev. Dr. Thomas F. Coakley, are permitted to be used but twice yearly. Once is in Advent, on "Gaudete Sunday," and the other on "Laerte Sunday," during the Lenten season.

The robes, Father Coakley said, are indicative of joy, and symbolize the spiritual satisfaction of the faithful due to the fact that the periods of penance are half over.

Purple vestments, the symbolical church color for penance, are used exclusively during the remainder of the two ecclesiastical seasons.

SPECIAL PROVISION MADE

Special provision for the robes has been made in the sacristy of the new Sacred Heart Church by the priests of the congregation. Dust-proof drawers have been provided so that the garments will not be soiled during the 50 weeks of the year when they are in disuse.

In the same sacristy is kept a steel safe for the chalices, monstrances, communion cups and other necessary jewels of the church. A burglar alarm connects the safe equipment with the rectory. Should thieves attempt to break open the safe the alarm sounded in the rectory would give attendants there ample time to call police before the box had been reached.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Bud Makes Her Bow At Tea

ANYONE who attempts to follow society folks around the clock these days is going to have many a weary minute. First of all in the morning there are committee and board meetings, then luncheons, teas, dinners, dances.

And whenever an artist comes to town [illegible] society folk are [illegible] full the [illegible] portant [illegible] night at Carnegie Music Hall where I went to hear Paul Robeson sing some of his [illegible] Negro spirituals I found both youthful members of the social world and their parents.

But before mentioning any of the folks I saw at the concert I want to speak about a tea this afternoon. Peggy Milligan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Milligan, of [illegible] is making her bow this afternoon at a tea her mother's giving in the family home.

Cibotium ferns, seasonal flowers, and the bud's gift bouquets decorate the home. The bud, gowned in green [illegible] velvet, fashioned in the Princess mode, is receiving with her mother, in black velvet.

And among folks at the tea are Mrs. E. S. Proctor, Mrs. Milligan's sister, and Mrs. Otis Williams, both of New York, who are guests at the Milligan home.

A group of sister buds is aiding the debutante. Those whom she has asked to assist her are Katherine Collins, Mary Franklin Robinson, Rebecca Doyle, Laura Evans, Caroline Crittenden, Rosamound Fitch, Emily Frew, Frances Forsyth, Mary Elizabeth Floyd, Virginia Wright, Anne and Margaret Rose, Anne Douglas Stewart, Lydia Irish, Frances Reed, Dorothy Jarvis, Susan O'Neil, Helen Pendleton and Marie Louise Bickford.

* * *

AND I want to mention just one more thing before I return to the concert. The Stage and Play Society has changed the date of its opening in Carnegie Music Hall from December 10 to the following evening.

* * *

And Mrs. D. M. Clemson is another one always seen at concerts and the better plays, and the J. E. Nelsons and Mrs. Isaac Biddle Thomas, mother of the debutante, Elizabeth Thomas. I might add Mrs. Nelson wore a coat of black velvet, trimmed in gray fox.

During the intermission I saw interesting Frances Fitzgerald walking up and down with friends in the lofty foyer of the Music Hall. She wore a gown of black fishnet with long, tight-fitting sleeves.

And I believe I caught sight of blonde Mrs. Elizabeth Reed Brown in black chiffon. Another member of the younger set there was exquisite Mrs. James I. McKay, who wore a pale blue crepe gown, fitted to the figure with tiers of ruffles placed at either side of the skirt giving the popular petal effect. And her coat was of black velvet, furred in white fox. And with her was her husband, and Jane Allderdice. Jane wore a long, black lace gown.

And on leaving the concert hall I saw Mrs. Lawrence Litchfield wearing a moleskin coat with a collar of ermine. Miss Julia Morgan Harding was there, too, wrapped in seal.

And in the enthusiastic audience I also saw the C. Frederick Newmans and the Will Rhodeses.

MRS. ALEXANDER STUART HUNTER and her daughter, Laetitia Hunter, gave a most delightful tea yesterday afternoon in their Fifth avenue home, in honor of Mrs. Hunter's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Alexander Hays Hunter, of Sewickley, a recent bride.

Club Choral Opens Its Season

THE Tuesday Musical Club Choral distinguished itself in its first program of the season yesterday in upper Memorial Hall. Of course, Dr. Charles N. Boyd directed the 75 singers and Elsie Breese Mitchell did some valiant work at the piano.

To open there was Elias Blum's "Last Tea of Tsuki," to which the choral gave an artistic reading against a tastefully arranged, wistaria-hung setting and with lighting that added to the charm of the production.

The principal roles were sung by Mrs. Dale Whitby Westphal, Miss Helen Pfordt Bigge, Miss Elizabeth Dittmar and Mrs. William S. Munn, as geisha girls. In two Russian numbers from Dargomyzhsky's "Rogdana," "The Hall of Atrides," by Chausson and a later group by St. Saens, Delibes, Vidal and Sir Arthur Sullivan in which the singers showed excellent spirit and their usual ability.

Janet Turner, the young assisting violinist, was accompanied by Editha Weikal. She pleased her large audience and did some especially lovely legato in a Debussy number.

STYLISTS PRESENT LATEST CREATIONS IN FUR COATS

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—If we do seem all wrapped up in coats today, we have several reasons for being of a single-track mind. It isn't that the weather isn't nice, or that the temperature is low, it is because we have just been viewing some of the nicest coats seen so far this season. It would seem that every variety of fabric as well as every variety of fur, have been utilized by the designers.

And so not even the most difficult-to-please shopper — and every establishment claims to have a client who is the fussiest shopper in all Paris — can say that she is unable to find a coat that pleases her.

The cloth coats offered this autumn are simply lovely and bewildering in their diversity, each has some subtle touch to distinguish it from its fellows, while proclaiming itself eloquently of the mode.

* * *

A VERY new note is the fur coat ensemble which consists of a tweed or other woolen of a very fine weave, and a fur coat to match of short-haired fur, lined with the same fabric as the dress. Coats of short hair furs, such as galyak, or astrakan, are very popular just now and are ideal for promenade wear, their trim jaunty lines lending themselves ideally to youthful slender figures. Such coats, needless to remark, are very popular with the younger set here.

* * *

FROM Fourures Max, a famous furrier here, comes this neat little fur coat, very much a la mode. It is a beautifully tailored model of gray astrakan, exquisitely shaded, and of a soft, finely-curled quality. Nothing is smarter and more universally sought for winter wear than the natural gray astrakan, and so, Mme. Lercy, who is presiding genius of this establishment, presents the coat here depicted, as one of her best and most successful models. There is a slight flare to the lines of the coat and a suggestion of fitting-in at the waistline. The collar, may be worn open to form revers, or buttoned closely at the throat as shown in the sketch.

* * *

WORTH has just made this smart ensemble shown to the right. The frock is of fine gray and white tweed, smartly tailored and a pleasant note is the heavily embroidered motif on the blouse forming initials. The smart seven-eights length coat is of gray galyak and it is lined with the same tweed that is used for the frock.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Mary Patricia Dawn, young and beautiful, is in love with Guy Elliott, handsome aviator. Guy is perfecting a plane which old William Bryce is to manufacture. Pat meets Bryce's widowed daughter-in-law and wonders if Guy is intrigued by Barbara's beauty. Bryce sends Tom Burns, a workman, to jail for attempted robbery. Pat has gay times with Lee Templeton, young college student. Pat's father is stricken with pneumonia and dies. The family considers giving up the big house because of the heavy expenses. Guy, hoping to help the Dawns, tries to urge Bryce to manufacture his plane. He learns the old man has lost a fortune. Mrs. Dawn gives her life savings to Bryce to invest. Guy, fearing Bryce may use the money to cover his own losses, tries to recover it. Bryce reluctantly surrenders the bonds, swearing vengeance on Guy. He discontinues financing the airplane factory, but holds Guy to his contract which prevents another concern from selling Guy's plane. Billie Bryce is kidnaped. The same day a stranger makes off with Guy's plane with Pat in it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXIV.

THE man's face flashed white in the dark.

"Be quiet. I know. I'm taking you to Elliott."

"Where? What has happened? Where is he?"

The wind blew the cry back to her. The zoom of the plane drowned it. But she clung to the seat and shouted frantic:

"Where is he? What has happened? Mother of God!"

"Hurt! Be quiet and help!"

"But where? In this dark—when—"

She started climbing to the cockpit. The plane banked sharply. Then the man at the controls shouted:

"Get back! Stay back!"

The dark moment was closing now. For a moment she could outline the man's shoulders. These merged into the piling shadows, leaving only his head with the light colored helmet, faintly perceptible.

Pat's terror was congealed like this—a blank, icy terror. Taking her to Guy—hurt, and this unknown pilot was speeding her to him. But why? And where could he be that they must rush to him like this, a pair of criminals flying through the inky night?

Suddenly Pat remembered the man's wild start when she climbed up and touched his shoulder; when she called, "Guy!" He had gone pale with shock as though a ghost leapt at him from the cabin.

He wasn't taking her to Guy! She closed her eyes while little arrows of panic flew through every nerve.

Was he stealing Guy's plane? What would he do with her? She sat with her cold hands frozen together and her mind pitifully summoning courage. She prayed. She thought of her father and clung to his image as though Richard would come out of the night and protect her.

It was blinding dark now. The roar and whirr of the engine seemed diabolic in the swift, unearthly onrush of the plane. The plane screamed as though it were alive, as though it were a mad bird hurling into unknown, fathomless regions where time, where light, where sanity were all swallowed up in a black, pulseless void.

On and on. She grew used to the dark—to the encompassing blindness. She dreaded the moment when they would stop.

All at once a stream of light broke upon them. The moon rose—it swept by almost at their elbows flooding the clouds with rich autumn gold.

They rode down this lighted avenue of the skies. And now Pat could see the pilot, see his hunched shoulders and vaguely the profile.

They were coming down. Just above the mountain tops and now swinging over valleys. The moon lighted up a row of trees. The trees went in single file, dark and quiet like nuns walking out to prayer.

They began to circle, slowly so that she felt the motion of the plane. The pilot leaned out. He flew again and again over the same area, past that same stately line of trees.

Now the trees were above them. Landing—the wheels touched ground. Pat's heart darted to her throat. It pounded there crazily.

In another moment she would open the cabin and go plunging madly, desperately across this field.

The man in the cockpit called out. He turned with an abrupt lightning move:

"Look—over there!"

She gave a start, saw his arm raised, saw a thing that was long and black in his upraised hand. It came crashing with a deadening blow full on Pat's head.

Laura Dawn walked uneasily about the living room. From the kitchen came annoying sounds—a whacking of a spoon against a saucepan, a clatter of dishes, then a slapping of hands on something that gave back a thuddy echo.

She went to the door and said a bit sharply:

"It's time you were in bed."

Dickie gave her a wide, aggrieved look:

"Gee whiz! Just finished. You said I could stay up!"

"I thought they'd be here before this. It's nearly 9. We can't start a game this late."

"Well, she promised. And she better get here. Told me if I'd make the panoche and have it chock full of nuts and no shells left in that she'd get here. She'll be good and sorry if she doesn't do it."

"Gee, swell and creamy this time. Dig in!"

"If they went to dinner, they couldn't make it much sooner," said Laura to ease the disturbance in her own thoughts. Pat promised to be home early. She knew her mother was worried about this whole affair between Bryce and Guy. She could have made an effort and returned as she promised.

At 10 o'clock Laura said limply:

The boy fidgeted and stalled. He picked up a book. He went out to see if the candy was still creamy. And at 10:30 he came stealthily back down the stairs. He was in the room before Laura heard him:

"Say—I'd ring up if I were you. Can't tell . . . maybe something happened."

"Nothing happened," said Laura in a voice of sharp alarm. "I remember now they spoke about seeing 'The Crowd.'"

But 15 minutes later Laura called Guy's workroom. No answer. She called Mills Field. After a long, almost indefinite wait a man said:

"Yes—they took off all right between 5:30 and 6. No—they've not returned. Oh, nothing happened. We'd hear."

At midnight she was still waiting. At midnight Dickie crept in and sat in the big chair opposite. And Laura made no protest. Their terrible vigil began.

"He was playing there behind that tree. Yes. I could hear him. Oh, God, how could anyone do this!"

"How long from the time you last spoke to him until you called and he didn't answer?"

"Five minutes or it might have been 10."

"Ten minutes—he was alone 10 minutes!" Barbara Bryce flung from the weeping Sophie and went for the hundredth time to that tree in the square. She beat her fists against it as though it had swallowed her son.

Her eyes moved over the hurrying figures who were searching in the bushes, who were beating along the grass. The whole park was filled with searchers. The moonlight fell on their crouched forms—gave them a sinister aspect.

"He's not here!" said the girl, pounding her hand against her mouth. "Oh God — Oh God!" she sank to her knees and pressed her cheek against the rough bark of the eucalyptus tree.

Back and forth between that park and the home of her father-in-law she went. They no longer tried to restrain her. They let her listen over and over to the woman who had seen a man in a brown suit leading a little boy to an automobile.

"Yes, it was a gray sedan—a small gray sedan. She was absolutely sure of this. And they drove westward toward the ocean."

At 9 o'clock that night William Bryce sat with his lawyer. He said hoarsely, his face blanched:

"Just what was the threat that he made—repeat it."

The lawyer answered:

"These are the exact words he used—'If you're protecting Bryce, tell him he'll think twice before he shoots his second round at me. Because I fire back. And with dum-dums!'"

"Is it possible he can have done this?"

"I've been two and a half hours trying to check up on him. He hasn't been to his home. He left the plant around 2, it is said. And his plane took off from the field about 5:45. It has not returned."

And at midnight it had not returned.

Nor at 1 o'clock. And no one had seen Guy Elliott. Little Billy Bryce had vanished. Some one in a brown suit had come to that park and led the little boy away.

Tuesday morning the newspapers were hot with the story of the kidnaping of millionaire Bryce's grandson and the simultaneous disappearance of Guy Elliott and Patricia Dawn.

Tuesday at noon, a gray sedan was found abandoned on the Skyline boulevard. On a mat on the floor of the car, a detective found half a dozen silky gold hairs—the hairs of little Billy Bryce.

The gray sedan was Guy's car.

His plane had not returned to Mills' Field. Nor had anything been seen of him and the beautiful young girl with whom he was in love.

Fay King Points Out Where Wives Fall Into Grevious Error

BE GOOD NATURED
GEE! YOU'RE A SCREAM I THOUGHT I'D DIE LAUGHING!
WHEN A MAN SAYS A WOMAN UNDERSTANDS HIM, HE MEANS SHE DON'T NAG HIM FOR HIS FAULTS!
FAY KING

By FAY KING

A MAN may have twenty virtues and one fault and though his wife praises him to the skies for his good points, if she picks on him for his one fault, he thinks she does not understand him.

Then if he meets a dame who laughs instead of scolds when he makes a perfect fool of himself, he thinks she is the one woman in the world who really appreciates him.

How many times when a girl is going with a young man she conceals her humiliation and criticism as he acts the clown.

Instead of bawling him out she laughs and kids him about it.

If she could only continue to do that after they are married instead of preaching.

A Continuation of Love's Embers

Letter Gives Lillian Something to Worry About

"THE letter's from Marion," Lillian said when I had followed her into her own room and the door was closed upon us. "Read it and see if you get out of it what I do. I wrote her to send her letters here from yesterday on."

I took up the letter with its schoolgirl scrawl — Marion is undoubtedly one of the worst penwomen in the world—and began to read with the pleasure which one of her letters always gives me. Always they are brimming over with her own happy enthusiasm.

"My own Mummy," it began. "Haven't I been the model daughter though? Do you realize that I've written you every day since I've been here. Some of the girls laugh at me, but I don't care. They have not mothers like mine.

"I don't know how long I can keep it up, though, dearest. You told me, you know, not to, if the work got too hard, and it's beginning to be something fierce. It's senior year, you know, and that means a lot of extras.

"Mummy, will you think I'm awful if I tell you that I haven't been homesick once since I came back? Oh! I know you don't want me to be homesick, you've tried to get me out of it, but it seems—someway sort of treacherous to you not to be."

"They all go through that," I said with remembrances of my teaching days, "but some of them, like Marion, have especially tender sensibilities."

"I wish she didn't" she sighed. "It's going to make life hard for her."

I went back to my reading without comment. Lillian was in the maternal mood when anything said concerning her child would not be just the right thing.

"I think it's because Carolyn is so wonderful," the letter ran on. "Mummy, she is the most marvelous girl. I've never had a real friend before, although I liked a lot of the girls last year. But none of them were like Carolyn, and she says she thinks the same about me. I wish I could believe her, but I do not see how she could think me the nicest girl in the whole school as she says she does.

"She says other things too, that I can't write to you, because they'd sound so silly—things like she never had a sister, but she has hopes now — you know the kind of jokes girls get off."

I was conscious that Lillian's hands were gripped in her lap, and I felt a sudden impatience with her. Of course, I knew as well as she that Carolyn's "joke" referred to her brother, Ronald, whose admiration for Marion had so disturbed Lillian upon the occasion of the Brixton visit to the farmhouse. But was she never to face with calmness, even amusement, the procession of youthful admirers which I prophesied for Marion.

"I'll tell you about them when I get home," Marion's letter rattled on. "Just now I have something to ask you. Ronald wrote to me the other day from Yale, where he's getting settled as a freshman. It was an awfully nice, friendly letter, making all sorts of plans for Carolyn and me coming up to the football games and dances. There wasn't a thing in it which I wouldn't want you to read, but—do you want me to send his letters to you? None of the girls do here, but a lot of them do something I don't believe I'll do. They read their boy friends letters to each other, even the love ones, and laugh themselves sick over the way the boys write."

"Well!" Lillian demanded as I involuntarily looked up again. I told myself that she was positively psychic in her recognition of the line I was reading. "What shall I tell her about those letters?"

I looked at her in an amazement that I purposely exaggerated.

"Do you need me to tell you that?" I asked.

"Nevertheless, I want your advice," she returned steadily.

"Then, tell her no, you do not want her to send them home," I said firmly. "She may want to show them to you when she comes home, but being your girl, she won't let that youth write her things she wouldn't be willing you should read. She's a wholesome little girl now. Don't make her grow up by being a martinet."

"I won't," she said with surprising meekness. Then she took the letter from me.

"I fancy I'm more used to her scrawl than you are," she said. "I'll read the rest to you. It's the alibi I've been expecting for one Mr. Charles Owen."

Cleaning a Raincoat

To clean a raincoat use soap and water, not gasoline, as the latter will injure the rubber in the fabric. Lay out on a flat surface and scrub lightly; do not wring. Put on a coat hanger and hang to dry.

When Using Putty

When using putty for filling in very wide cracks, it is sometimes difficult to do it evenly. To prevent the putty from crumbling, dip the knife in coal oil, and the putty will spread.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Golf-Widowlogues

"HERE'S a psychologist, who says that no man can be happy unless he is trying to make some woman happy," said Mrs. Divot, laying down her newspaper.

* * *

HELEN ROWLAND

* * *

"It explains why widowers, no matter how bereaved, nearly always hasten to remarry; and why gentlemen prefer clinging, little molluscs to nice, strong, efficient girls who can check their own trunks, carry their own luggage and pay their own cab-fare.

* * *

"Above all, it explains why modern men and women are so dissatisfied and restless. That's how cute old Dame Nature FIXED things—and we're all trying to prove that we're smarter than she is!"

* * *

"Well, don't blame ME!" said Mrs. Divot. "I've always known that no woman could be happy, unless she was trying to make some MAN happy. That's why I gave up my job to become guardian of Bill's socks and digestion. But a man is an awful responsibility!"

* * *

"Exactly," agreed Mrs. Green. "And that's what makes you happy. No job, no work, no art, no achievement can give you the same glow of joy as does the feeling that you are 'necessary' to somebody. Just 'helping humanity,' or making the world better, or having a career doesn't take the place of it, at all.

* * *

"A man is always happiest when he is playing Santa Claus to some woman, giving her things, bringing her flowers, doing something to please and surprise her. And a weak little thing who 'needs' him gives him more sense of responsibility, which satisfies his ego, inflates his vanity and reduces his inferiority complex.

* * *

"More [illegible] have tied men to them, by laying their heads and their burdens on the shoulders of the so-called stronger sex, than by putting their own shoulders to the wheel and making the path to marriage easy."

* * *

"But," protested Mrs. Divot, "every young man's Big Idea, today, seems to be to dodge marriage and avoid the responsibility of supporting ANY woman. And every modern girl's Big Idea seems to be to find a job and escape the responsibility of keeping house for a man."

* * *

"And that," declared Mrs. Green triumphantly, "is why so many marriages go blah, and so many women go to sanitariums. When you dodge the 'responsibilities' of marriage, you are cheating yourself out of your one chance of happiness and going against Nature. And the first thing you know, you are all full of inhibitions and complexes, that only a psychoanalyst can unravel."

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Table Hint

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
What is the proper way of eating fried chicken? As it is difficult to get all the meat off the bone, I am in doubt as to the way of eating it.

A READER.

THE only way to eat fried chicken is to develop enough patience and skill and grace to use the knife and fork in cutting the meat from the bone. If we are dining with someone we must not take the piece of chicken in our fingers to eat it, for this is a most unpleasant sight to other guests. It is messy on the fingers, and then, when we wipe our fingers on our napkins it makes a messy looking napkin.

Bridesmaid Attire

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

PEG.

IT IS for the bride to tell the bridesmaid what she is to wear, and so I could not pass finally on this costume. But to me it seems rather dreary. Why not wear slippers dyed to match the dress—they can be dyed the exact shade in 24 hours, and then wear stockings of the same shade, dyed if necessary. A hat of a light shade is better than a black hat.

Incorrect Dress

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
Kindly let me know what color tie should be worn with tuxedo by the groom, best man and ushers. The ceremony is to take place at 5 p. m. Saturday.

J. C. S.

WITH a tuxedo suit only one kind of tie is ever correct—a black bow tie.

But a tuxedo is not correct for a 5 o'clock wedding. It is not correct to wear a dinner jacket (tuxedo) before 6:30 at the earliest. And for a formal wedding a tuxedo is never correct.

Wedding Breakfast

DEAR MRS BEECKMAN:
1. I am going to be married soon at home. Would it be permissible to have my sister, who is four years my junior, as maid of honor?
2. Should I invite the minister to the wedding breakfast, and if so, where does he sit?

M. G.

YES, permissible, and the customary thing to do.

2. Yes. He sits on the left of the mother of the bride, the bridegroom's father sitting on her right, the place of honor.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Increase Chances of Health—Banish Dirt

IN unclean air and food lurk many dangerous enemies of mankind. Not long ago one of the world authorities on health said: "Every victory over dirt is a victory over disease. Germs cannot breed where there is utter cleanliness."

DR. COPELAND

I wish this were absolutely the fact. If it were, the fight against disease would be much simplified. Unfortunately, the cleanest of air and the purest of food may become contaminated. To prevent such contamination is one of the chief duties of man.

There is little danger of disease production from foods which are cooked and promptly eaten. It is another story with food and drink served raw or cold. At ordinary temperature the germs, harmless in limited number, will multiply so amazingly as fairly to teem in the food.

But it is a fact that germs thrive in dirty, dark and dusty places. In this sense dirt is a breeding place for the agents of disease and death.

Soap and water, sunlight and fresh air are deadly to germs. The germs even of dread tuberculosis are killed by a few hours' exposure to sunshine.

A few weeks ago I visited the slums of a European city. It is almost unbelievable what I saw there. The floors were littered with paper, rags, remnants of food, shreds of mattresses and even some of the limited possessions of kitchen utensils. A single window opened into a shaft that somewhere above the surface of the earth led to the outside world. But almost no air came into the cellar room.

In one such room there were eight persons, and the stricken father was coughing and spitting, a victim of tuberculosis. The motto on the wall, "God Bless Our Home," seemed almost a mockery. Certain and early death faces every member of that filthy home.

There is excuse for poverty, but not for dirt and disorder. Many diseases can be wiped out by the practice of cleanliness. Cleanliness is indeed next to godliness, and I say reverently that no home can be blessed by the Almighty unless cleanliness reigns there.

One of the earliest lessons to be taught our children, at least I think so, is the importance of cleanliness. Clean hands and bodies, clean teeth and nostrils, clean food and drink, clean clothing and bedding, clean dishes and clean homes—cleanliness will prevent many human illnesses. Its practice will add months and even years to any life.

AGAIN KONJOLA TRIUMPHS OVER STUBBORN CASE

For First Time in Years Pittsburgh Man Is Free of Stomach Trouble, Thanks to New Medicine.

No wonder Konjola is a medicine with more than a million friends, when it continues day after day to win amazing victories over stubborn and obstinate ailments which for years defied all other medicines and treatments tried!

MR. GRANT STILLMAN

Nor is it so very remarkable that Konjola wins such victories; for this modern medicine is a compound of 32 valuable ingredients, of which 22 are juices of well known medicinal roots and herbs. It is a medicine that is made to make good; and it makes good. The Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug tSore (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, can and gladly will give you all the facts about this medicine; and tell you what it has done and is doing for vast numbers of Pittsburgh citizens. A typical example of Konjola in action is seen in the following statement given to the Konjola Man recently by Mr. Grant Stillman, 208 Cable Avenue, this city, who said:

"Konjola is one medicine that can be counted upon to give results; at least, judging from my experience. It put an end to my health troubles after many other medicines had failed to do so. I was a victim of stomach trouble. I had practically no appetite, and it was just as well, for almost everything I ate would cause misery and intense pains. This condition caused me to become weak and rundown, nervous and irritable. Constipation developed and added to my distress. I tried medicines, but they gave me no relief.

"After reading about the relief Konjola had given in a case similar to mine, I decided to try one more medicine. I felt better before the first bottle was finished, and kept on until, by the time I had taken four bottles, I was a well man again. For the first time in years I am free of stomach trouble. The constipation also has been corrected. My appetite is fine and my food digests as it should. I have more strength and energy and am no longer nervous and irritable as I was. It was Konjola that gave me this new health and I shall always be glad to recommend this medicine to all who suffer with stomach trouble."

Konjola is recommended for stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders; rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness; and as a super-tonic for the building up of strength and vitality.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where daily he is meeting the public, introducing and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine. Konjola is sold also at all Dow Stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

Now...

starting has attention... cold mornings make hot tempers unless there is No - Nox Motor Fuel in your tank.

QUICK winter starting depends upon complete and instant vaporization of gasoline in the combustion chamber . . . Vaporization depends upon low initial boiling point and low end or dry point . . . Ordinary gasolines have an end point as high as 437° Fahrenheit . . . they do not vaporize quickly enough for a quick winter start.

Gulf No-Nox Motor Fuel- Aviation Grade is the perfect winter gasoline . . . its initial is under 100° Fahrenheit...its end point is 374° Fahrenheit...against 437° Fahrenheit of ordinary gasolines...Complete vaporization takes place at the first pressure of the starter and instant ignition follows . . . It Stops Knocks... eliminates excessive choking . . . gives added mileage and More Power.

Remember that any ordinary gasoline may be doped with chemicals for anti-knock purposes but they possess no winter starting value.

LEAGUE MAY REBUKE BRUIN OFFICIALS

BASEBALL law prohibits any club from tampering with a player in the employ of another, but the reported actions or expressions of some major league men would give you the impression that they were unaware of the existence of any such statute. If published reports are true, the Chicago National League club more than once during the last few months has failed to observe the spirit of this particular rule.

Jake May

When a club desires the services of a player owned by another it is required by the regulations to discuss the matter only with the employers of the athlete. But the Cub bosses have taken a different track, and one that is unethical, to say the least. For a whole season they were quoted in the newspapers as having expressed a desire to get Third Baseman Lester Bell from the Braves. Last August Owner William Wrigley, Jr., was said to have declared that he was going after Freddie Lindstrom, of the Giants, and Frankie Frisch, of the Cardinals, despite the fact that the trading or buying season had closed two months earlier.

LATER a Cub official was quoted to the effect that he would like to get Pitcher Burleigh Grimes from the Pirates, and now comes another story in which Manager Joe McCarthy is said to have admitted the need of the Bruins for a left-hand pitcher and to have mentioned Jake May, of the Reds, as one who would be a welcome addition to the Chicago fold.

This sort of thing is contrary to the laws and ethics of organized ball. It may not be direct tampering, but in a sense it is apt to have the same effect upon the players involved, and it will not be surprising if, at the National League's annual meeting next week, President John A. Heydler is asked by the other magnates to put a stop to the practice.

THE objection is that when a player reads in a newspaper that some other club wants him it may have a tendency to make him dissatisfied, particularly if the club seeking him happens to be a wealthy winner, such as Chicago, and he is connected with a comparatively weak team that is not making a lot of money.

Lester Bell.

Naturally he feels that he will be able to better himself if he can get away, and discontent follows. A dissatisfied ballplayer is next door to being worthless. His heart is not in his work and he cannot give his old club his best efforts. In the end his employers may be forced to sacrifice a man who otherwise would have continued to be an asset.

THERE is the case of Lester Bell, for instance. Stories that the Cubs wanted him were published repeatedly during the summer, and finally it was rumored that Chicago had actually bought him. When told of this, the player expressed himself as delighted to get away from a tailender and join a probable pennant winner. It must have been no easy matter for Bell to put hustle and enthusiasm into his work thereafter when the rumor proved untrue and he found himself remaining with the Braves.

AND what was the outcome? Only what might have been expected. Two weeks after the world series ended, or on October 28, Boston sold Bell to the Bruins for a cash consideration. Evidently the owners of the Braves figured it would be useless to keep the player longer.

This because of the fact that his value would be lessened by dissatisfaction. The money that the Boston club received for Bell cannot be sent out to play third base. Perhaps the owners can buy with that cash a player as good as Bell, but that remains to be seen.

OTHER players placed in the same position as Bell by the newspaper talk of the Cub officials may be similarly affected. They may become dissatisfied and want to get away, with the result that they may play poorer ball or become harder to handle.

It's not the most honorable way in the world to go after a ballplayer. Ethical magnates never express in public a desire for the services of any athlete. They go straight to his employers, and if a deal cannot be made the player himself never hears about it.

John A. Heydler.

THE National League is going to present a new umpire next season. He is Harry (Ted) McGrew, of the American Association. It is learned from unofficial but reliable sources that John Heydler has bought McGrew's release from the A. A., and the purchase probably will be officially announced at the coming National League meeting. McGrew looks like a great pickup. Over a period of eight years he has done splendid work in the Pacific Coast League and the American Association. Last spring he handled the exhibition games played by the Pirates after they left Paso Robles and the Bucs to a man were loud in their praises of him. He handled a series in which Detroit lost every game, yet Manager Bucky Harris, of the Tigers, said afterward that McGrew had not made a single mistake. If McGrew lives up to his minor league reputation he will be a welcome addition to a staff that can stand a whole lot of improvement.

LEFTY LEIFIELD'S appointment to the managership of the St. Paul club, of the American Association, to fill the vacancy caused by the sale of Bubbles Hargrave to the Yankees, pleases every fan in the Pittsburgh district. He was a prime favorite here for years as a pitcher.

The southpaw came to the Bucs in September, 1905, and was a regular hurler for Pittsburgh until May 30, 1912, when he was traded with Tommy Leach to the Cubs for Artie Hofman and King Cole. Leifield was one of the most effective left-handers in the league while with Pittsburgh, though pursued by a tough-luck jinx that caused him to lose many a close game.

LEFTY'S slab duels with Mordecai Brown, of the Cubs, were generally productive of sensational pitching. On July 4, 1906, the Bruins beat the Pirates twice by 1-to-0 scores. In the morning game Leifield and Brown were the hurlers and each allowed only one hit, Leifield himself making the Pirate's lone safety.

Leifield served as coach for the Browns, Red Sox and Tigers for several years, and last season was manager of the Oklahoma City club in the Western League. He is rated one of the smartest baseball men in the minors.

TEMPORARILY, at least, basketball is to be without perhaps the greatest team of all time. The famous reorganized New York Celtics have been forced to disband for the time being owing to early-season financial difficulties. It is planned to sell the star players to other clubs and then make up a new team with Nat Holman as the nucleus and leader, to play out the schedule and protect the league franchise and forfeit money. Holman is to

WHITE SCORES ONLY PIRATE GOAL

LEAFS BLANK YANKS

TORONTO, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Toronto's Maple Leafs hit their best stride last night to down the New York Americans, 6 to 0, in a National Hockey League game. The Leafs completely smothered the New Yorkers and were kept from running up a higher score only by the brilliant work of Roy Worters, American goalie.

For two thirds of the game, Toronto penned the Americans in their own end of the rink, smothering every attack almost before it got started. Hal Cotton led in the scoring, tallying two goals and assisting in two more. The lineup:

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The Boston Bruins, world hockey champions, defeated Les Canadiens, their lone Stanley Cup foes, 3 to 1, here last night.

The Bruins jumped into the lead early as Cooney Weiland caged the first goal shortly after the game began. A double pas, Gainer to Weiland to Clapper, was responsible for the Bruins' second score.

In the second period Sylvio Mantha fired a successful angle shot. Les Canadiens lone tally was made when Cagne feinted, drawing Hainsworth out of his cage, and passed to Mackay, who poked the rubber into the empty net with ease The lineup:

COAST GAME BID ASTRAY

Wherever the invitation to represent the East in the annual Tournament of Roses game in Pasadena New Year's Day is, it isn't in Pittsburgh. The bid is supposed to be out, although there has been no official announcement from the Rose Bowl committee as to which of the western teams is tendered the invite. Pitt officials today reported that the bid, as far as Pitt is concerned, is very conspicuous by its absence.

According to reports from Pasadena, Tennessee, Tulane, Purdue and Pittsburgh are under consideration as east of the Rockies representative. Purdue is out, as Western Conference rules prohibit post-season games. Colgate was not mentioned, though it is known that the Hamiltonians have been considered and have been approached with regards to the matter.

The western team will be one of three, St. Mary's, unbeaten, California or Southern California. Inasmuch as U. S. C. wrote into its contracts with Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech the stipulation that both agree NOT to play in the Rose Tournament game, it is hardly likely that the Trojans themselves would agree to represent the west.

YESTERDAY'S ANSWERS—JUDAH P. BENJAMIN: Judah P. Benjamin, brilliant statesman, was born of English parents on the island of St. Thomas in the West Indies. He came to America as a boy. After a brilliant career as a member of the bar he was elected to the U. S. Senate from Louisiana. On March 7, 1853, an information was filed against him signed by 20 legislators that his election was illegal because he never was naturalized as an American citizen and therefore was an English subject. Eventually Jefferson Davis appointed him Secretary of War of the Confederacy. As a fugitive in England, he sought and obtained admission to the English bar on his sworn statement that he always had been an English subject.

CLAIRTON HIGH W. P. I. A. L. CHAMPION

Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League football championships yesterday were awarded to Clairton High School in Class A, and Burgettstown High, in Class B. The W. P. I. A. L. committee reached its decision via the new point system in session at the Fort Pitt Hotel. All proposals for post-season combat were turned down by the committee. The result was said to be unsatisfactory in some quarters.

Greensburg's 8-6 victory over Hurst High was declared forfeited through the ineligibility of D'Angelo, who was found to be overage. It was the only game in which D'Angelo played this year for Greensburg. Rochester High presented the protest which blotted Greensburg's hopes on the title.

Clairton won with 135 points, Rochester had 120, Washington 110 8-10 and Wilkinsburg 94. Greensburg would have totaled 128, credited with a Hurst victory. The committee picked Clairton despite the fact Rochester had not had its goal line crossed this season. Washington had one tie game.

Coach Wayne Hauck, of Rochester High, pleaded for a post-season game, but it was passed by when the vote on awarding the title to Clairton was passed with only a single dissenting vote.

Burgettstown, with five wins and one tie, was given 120 points to win in Class B, although Hurst with nine victories and no ties, accumulated only 119 4-10. Again only one dissenting vote rendered the title placed.

In the point system each team gets 100 points for a win, 50 for a tie, 10 for every win one of its victims scores, 5 for every tie of the victims and 5 for every win by a team it tied.

McKechnie to Put Sisler, Dugan On Block

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Before departing for the minor league baseball meeting at Chattanooga, Tenn., Bill McKechnie, new manager of the Boston Braves, last night broadcast he would go to great lengths to obtain promising minor league material to replace the veterans now adorning the club's payroll.

McKechnie intimated that George Sisler and Joe Dugan, veteran first sacker and third baseman, respectively, would be the first players placed on the trading block.

TOPORCER BAN IS LIFTED

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—George Toporcer today was relieved of a sentence of one year's suspension from organized baseball, but fined $500 by President M. H. Sexton, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, who yesterday granted a rehearing in the case of the Rochester infielder.

William H. Southworth, manager of the Rochester Club, who was fined $500 in connection with the incident in a "little world series" game at Rochester, October 13, resulting in the suspension of Toporcer, was relieved of $300 of the fine and will have to pay only $200.

Sale of Otis Brawnom, second baseman, to the Hollywood Club, of the Pacific Coast League, was announced here today by officials of the St. Louis Browns.

That's the boxing schedule for next week of Farmer Joe Cooper, veteran welterweight, of Terre Haute, Ind., who meets Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, in the 10-round main bout at Motor Square Garden on Monday. From here he motors South to meet ol' Jack Britton, former welterweight champion of the world, who at 45 still is taking on all comers.

Farmer Joe Cooper.

Cooper returns here after having fluked his way through to a 10-round decision over Buck McTiernan, of Swissvale, in a battle at the Garden several weeks ago. He fought in only two rounds, the eighth and ninth in which he drove McTiernan to cover, making him hang on. He loafed throughout the first seven rounds and was forced back on the defensive in the final session. A split decision, however, found him on the winning end.

Cooper's manager, Broadway Johnny Cox, of Cleveland, is anxious to rematch his man with Tommy Freeman, of Erie, as a result of their bout in Cleveland following the McTiernan battle here. In it, Cooper was blinded in the first round and the bout had to be stopped, the result go-

PANTHERS MEET MUSKINGUM SATURDAY

By JESS CARVER.

For want of a better name, this basketball game scheduled for the Stadium Pavilion Saturday night, between the Panthers and the magenta and black-clad passers of Muskingum College, may be termed "The Battle of the Flaming Domes." Dr. H. C. Carlson, coach of the locals, and Coach Lang, of Muskingum, are gentlemen of a distinct type, both being blonds and rather lacking in hirsute adornment. Rather.

Charley Hyatt.

It will be a treat to watch those sparkling domes bobbing up and down along the sidelines, and in the event of a ruckus of any sort, what a treat!

CHECK 'EM UP

Watching Saturday's contest between the Muskies and Pitt, observers will have an opportunity to compare the respective styles of the Panthers and Duquesne. Muskingum is an old and tried foe of the Dukes, always jams the house when it shows here, and always gives the locals a good ball game. Muskingum holds the edge in the series with Duquesne.

Chippah Cholly Hyatt, of course, will be the main attraction of the evening. The boys will all be wanting to take a peek at Pitt's all-America forward as he makes his initial splash of the campaign.

DUKES GO WEST

The Dukes, by the way, will fire the opening gun of their 1929-30 court campaign by playing Iowa at Iowa City Monday night of next week. Chick Davies will lead his squad out of here Saturday for the West. Following the game with Iowa, the locals meet Loyola, of Chicago, and Elmhurst College, at Elmhurst, Ill.

A 15-day rest will intervene between the western trip and the resumption of the schedule after the holidays.

Chick figures to have a pretty good ball team this year. He loses Jock Rosenberg, but with Stevens, Benedict, Lubic, Silverstein and Joe Vernon for a nucleus, and an exceptionally sweet aggregation of freshmen, the outlook is quite rosy.

Pitt opens its annual western trip at Indianapolis a week from Friday with Indiana. Northwestern will be played the next night, Iowa the Monday following and then the team will come home to play Grove City in the Pavilion.

And Red says he'll win 'em all.

TEAMS STRONGER

With improvement expected out at Carnegie Tech, tri-state district college fives are expected to be generally stronger this year. Pitt should have a honey of a club. The Dukes will be strong and figure to win back the Tri-State Conference title. Bob Thorn expects a great team. Allegheny, with a strong sophomore squad may be the most dangerous outfit in the section. West Virginia is promising trouble. Wash-Jeff is a bit doubtful. Waynesburg, Thiel, Wesleyan, St. Vincents, Francis and Bethany will be tough as usual. Westminster will give the Dukes all the battle they want for the Conference flag with Geneva the dark horse in the race.

If the crowd at the Tech-U.S.C. game on the coast numbers 70,000 (and they figure it will), the Tartans will have played before close to 260,000 persons this year. Just a fine time for the coaches to slip new contracts under Buddy Overend's nose.

YALE FAILS TO PROTECT ALBIE BOOTH ON PUNT

Remember the resentment that flared in Yale football circles when the newspaper critics said the Elis could not win without Albie Booth in the lineup against Harvard? Well, the injured Albie went into the game and Yale lost with him. He failed to shine in his usual manner and rumors followed that, in his unfit condition, he was not given the support to which he was entitled from his teammates. To sustain this contention, friends of Albie offer the above photograph, which shows him punting and the other Yale backs (Nos. 1, 2 and 3) doing anything but trying to block the six Harvard men who are swarming over him to block the kick, which they succeeded in doing.

GUARANTEE ONLY BARRIER TO TRIP

By TOM BIRKS

Manager Carl Ekequist, of the Pierpoint Motors Soccer Club, received official notice last evening from Secretary Thomas Cahill of the National Challenge Cup Committee in New York that the National cup game with the Walkerville team of Detroit will be played at Detroit on Sunday.

This is a first round proper game in the National challenge cup, but local officials are puzzled regarding the short notice given the local club.

The Pierpoints defeated the Shamrocks of Cleveland last Sunday in the last qualifying round and it seems peculiar that the first round proper game will be staged next Sunday. The only reason that could be advanced is the fact that the clubs are behind in schedule in the National open.

AMATEUR TILT IN DOUBT

This means that the National amateur cup game between Pittsburgh Celtics and the Pierpoints scheduled for the Homewood playgrounds on Saturday is off, unless the National secretary delays the Detroit game.

All of the Pierpoint players are requested to keep in touch with Manager Ekequist. The team will leave Saturday night via the Pennsylvania should the Detroit team come through with a guarantee. Manager Ekequist wired the Detroiters last evening asking that the expenses of the club be guaranteed. If the Michigan club refuses to do that there is a chance that the Pittsburgh club will have to default.

While in Cleveland last Sunday officials of the Pierpoint club talked dates with Secretary McEwan, of the National amateur cup, and Bill Angus, both prominent in national circles, and they stated that Cahill was wrong with his date of December 8 for the next round.

GENERAL MIXUP

But the telegram ordering the Pittsburghers to get in touch with Detroit came last evening all right, so it seems as if the officials running the open and amateur competitions again are twisted up in their alloted dates.

Of course the open takes precedence over the amateur so should the Walkerville club come through with the guarantee then the Motors will board the rattlers for the Michigan City Saturday night.

Paul McCullough, right handed pitcher of the Washington Club, was used by Chattanooga in a trade with Minneapolis to produce the services of Eddie Kenna, catcher. Joe Engel, president of Chattanooga, said that his club included cash in the transaction.

State, Colgate Renew Relations

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 4—Preliminary announcement of the Penn State football schedule for 1930, made today by the Board of Control of Athletics, reveals that football relations have been reopened with Colgate University on a three-game basis, games to be played at State College in 1930 and 1931, and at Hamilton, N. Y., in 1932.

The schedule opens with Niagara University, the same opening day opponent as in 1929, followed by Lebanon Valley and Marshall College. Bucknell will be played in the new stadium at Lewisburg in return for the many visits of this team to State College. A return game with Lafayette, at Easton, and the Thanksgiving Day game with Pittsburgh, complete the list.

Eight Stars Named For Title Cue Play

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Eight players were named by the National Billiard Association today to compete for the world three-cushion championship which will be decided in New York January 3 to 10.

They are Johnny Layton, present champion; Willie Hoppe, New York; Gus Copulos, Detroit; Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia, and four sectional tournament winners, Augie Kieckhefer, Chicago; Walter Riley, Philadelphia; Charlie E. Jordon, Los Angeles, and Tiff Denton, Kansas City. Jordon and Riley will be the only new faces in the competition.

NO PROTECTION FOR BOOTH

By GEORGE FINLAY
(Sports Editor, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Some of those who analyze football insist that Yale's defeat by Harvard in their 1929 gridiron duel was due mainly to the fact that both the Yale line and backs gave little or no protection to Albie Booth, the flaming star of the Blue eleven.

And they submit an extraordinary picture (printed above) as definite evidence that at least on one play, after Booth dropped back to kick, his supporting cast suddenly found about everything else to do except to protect him so that the punt might be successful. Albie's effort was blocked, of course. It was made in that poignant second period when all the scoring was done, Harvard winning, 10-6.

The Yale athletes wore white helmets in that game. Look for the white-helmeted fellows who were supposed to protect Booth. Then look at little Booth in person, as he is trying to make a kick that was blocked. Gaze upon the six Harvard men that had him surrounded. Look at the three Yale backs actually running away from Booth! Look at the Yale ends—and the remainder of the Yale line. All of them trying to get down the field to get under the punt that did not get off.

This picture illustrates better than any that ever was made on a football field the something that is called "terrible football." For the Yale team was so concentrated on getting down the field to get under the punt that it left Booth a prey to six Harvard men. "Protect your kicker" is a fundamental rule of football. Undoubtedly it was taught at Yale in 1929. But in the excitement of combat the Blue squad forgot about it and more than half of the Harvard team filtered through the apparently feeble defense of Yale and hurled themselves almost en masse at the little Yale kicker.

Texas, Virginia On Harvard Card

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The Universities of Texas and Virginia have places on the 1931 Harvard football schedule made public today. Both Texas and Virginia will trek to Cambridge for their battles with the Crimson, the former on October 24 and the latter a week later.

The card for next year includes games with William and Mary and Michigan.

BOUT FOR GERMAN

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Heinie Mueller, one of the newest and most impressive heavyweight importations from Germany, will make his second ring start in this country December 31, meeting Elzear Rioux, the big French-Canadian, in a 10-round semi-windup to the Earl Mastro-Bud Taylor battle at the Chicago Stadium.

COOPER BOOKED FOR BATTLES

INCENTIVE TO WIN

Both Cooper and Belmont have a real incentive to win Monday night. If Belmont wins, he likely will be matched with McTiernan for a big local "natural" bout, while if Cooper wins a return go with McTiernan will be on tap for him.

The preliminary card for Monday night has been completed. Young Rudy, of Charleroi, boxes Jackie Herman, of Wheeling, in the eight-round semi-final. Dominick Profio, of Cecil, will meet Young Joe Walcott, of Washington, Pa., in the second bout, and Cowboy DeLuca will oppose Elmer Freeman, amateur star, who is turning pro, in the opener.

Eddie Polo, of the North Side, a southpaw, has been signed to box Joe Zink, of McKees Rocks, in the second event on the Buck McTiernan-Mickey Solmen return bout card at the Moose Temple Friday night. Jack DeNeri, of Cleveland, and Young Angelo, of Swissvale, are in the semi-final. Promoter Francis Flynn will arrange the opening bout today. McTiernan and Solmen will meet at 155 pounds.

Tom Malco, of Soho, who upset the dope by stopping Hans Roberts at the Moose Club last Friday night, will be featured in the headliner there again Friday night of next week. Promoter Flynn is seeking an opponent for him.

Between Rounds

Steve O'Malley, of Bellaire, O., and Ray Newton, of Mansfield, O., have been matched to box the 10-round main bout at the Coliseum, Washington, Pa., next Monday night.

Freddie Edwards, of Chester, W. Va., and Jackie Herman, of Wheeling, box the eight-round main bout of a show at Wellsville, O., tomorrow night. Jimmy Morgan, of Beaver Falls, and Jimmy McGraw, of Wheeling, are paired for the semi-final.

Ray Eberle, matchmaker for the Junction Park arena at New Brighton, put over his first show successfully Monday night with Jackie Rodgers stopping Carl Cavelli again in the main bout and now is planning another card to be staged December 16. He expects to use Johnny Kusic, of Youngstown, in the main bout against the best opponent obtainable, likely Tommy Crawley, who defeated Battling Gizzy at Wheeling Monday night.

Bob Levy, of New York, wants to show his flyweight, Phil Tobias, in Pittsburgh. Phil has scored two victories over Ernie Peters in the New Castle Jolly Bowl and has beaten a lot of other good ones. Levy also wants to show his lightweight, Hubert Gillis, the Belgian, who needs a victory over Phil Goldstein, and his welterweight Vincent Street.

Romeo Pacelli, the New Castle featherweight, who stopped U. S. Carpentier, of New Kensington, in his first appearance as a main bouter at the Jolly Bowl Monday night, looks as if he might come along far. The victory over Carpentier was his second in succession by the knockout route. He stopped Joey Katkish, of Lawrenceville, to earn the windup chance against Carp.

The Kensington A. C. next show will be a Friday, the Thirteenth affair being carded for Friday night of next week.

Willie Davies' clean-cut victory over Gene Huat in the Canadian flyweight tournament at Toronto Monday night puts the Charleroi star right back in the running for the title in the class. Huat rates among the most dangerous little fellows in the world and the win was a good one for Davies.

Jackie Rodgers' bout with Tommy Paul at Buffalo Friday night has fallen through. Joey Ross, of Jersey City, has been signed to take Jackie's place.

D. and E. Leaves For Oklahoma Game Tonight

ELKINS, W. Va., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Davis and Elkins football players worked out in the snow yesterday, preparatory to the game on Saturday with Oklahoma City University, at Oklahoma City, Okla. The players will leave Elkins tonight for Oklahoma.

KING TUT STOPS JOE KAUFMAN

Lou Terry, St. Louis lightweight, knocked out Jimmy Hackley, of Indianapolis, in the first of a scheduled 10-round fight. The bout lasted only a minute. Terry weighed 131, Hackley 132.

JOHNNY HAYES WINS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Johnny Hayes, Philadelphia welterweight, pounded out an eight-round decision over Johnny Ceccoli, of Scranton, Pa., in the feature bout at the Manayunk A. C. last night. Hayes was too clever for the up-state boxer and out-pointed him in every round except the fifth, which Ceccoli took by a slight margin.

NORWEGIAN COPS

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Pete Sanstol, Norwegian bantamweight, easily outpointed Sammy Farber, of New York, in a six-round bout at the Broadway Arena last night. In another six-rounder, Solly Ritz, of New York, defeated Vincent Sanchez, of Spain.

Tony Caragliano, of the Bronx, defeated Frank Marchez, also of the Bronx, in the feature 10-round bout at the Lenox Sports Club in Harlem.

MIDGET WOLGAST WINS

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 4.—Midget Wolgast, of Philadelphia, completely outclassed Tom Abaro, of New York, in eight rounds here last night.

Creighton Denies Coaching Change

OMAHA, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Published reports that Jack Cannon, star Notre Dame guard, will act in the capacity of line coach next year at Creighton University brought denials from Arthur Schabinger, Creighton athletic director.

"We are not contemplating any changes in the coaching personnel," Schabinger stated, following a meeting of the athletic board.

SCHOOL GRID TEAMS GAIN

HARRISBURG, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—High school football in Pennsylvania is rapidly reaching the stage where the treasurer has almost as much to do as the coach. At practically all the larger schools in the state bigger crowds are being drawn to the scholastic classics and gate receipts are mounting.

The increase in interest in the sub-collegiate brand of the game was particularly noticeable during the season just ended. High school teams in the more thickly populated areas became accustomed to playing before crowds of 5,000 while attendance totals of 10,000 were not infrequent and several games were staged before 20,000 or more spectators. The latter figure was reached in a regularly scheduled game between Williamsport and Altoona at the latter place, at the annual Allentown-Bethlehem game at Bethlehem and at the yearly visit of the Philipsburg, N. J., eleven to Easton.

That the intensive local interest which an established annual clash between two schoolboy teams generates can more than offset the more developed play of college games is indicated by these records. At Bethlehem the yearly feature game of the high school season filled the Taylor Stadium of Lehigh University, something which the 1929 contest of the famous traditional Lehigh-Lafayette College battle failed to do. The same was true of the Philipsburg-Easton game, which drew a larger crowd than any of the home games played in the same stadium by Lafayette this season. Herb McCracken's Maroons, of course, were having a poor season, but that seems to point to the fact that the local fans are apt to turn quickly from an ordinary college eleven to a good or outstanding high school team.

The Allentown-Bethlehem game, moreover, also adds evidence to the steady advance being made by scholastic football. Last year the game drew a "gate" of slightly less than $12,000; this year the official gross receipts were $15,704.50, making the net proceeds for each team $6,654.70.

Ft. Wayne Sets Pro League Pace

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The Fort Wayne Hoosiers, who gave Cleveland a great battle for championship honors last year, had vaulted into the pace-setting position in the American Professional basketball league today. The Hoosiers' second consecutive triumph over the Brooklyn Visitations enabled Fort Wayne to replace the Visitations in first place.

The official standings, to date, follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.		W.	L.	Pct.
Ft. Wayne	3	1	.750	New York	4	4	.500
Cleveland	5	3	.625	Chicago	2	2	.500
Brooklyn	4	3	.571	Syracuse	2	4	.333
Rochester	5	4	.556	Paterson	2	6	.250

INDOOR GRID TILT CARDED SATURDAY

Indoor independent football will be introduced into Pittsburgh Saturday evening after an absence of a few years, when the Hope-Harvey Majestics meet West View at the Armory at Alder and Emerson streets, East Liberty. The kick-off is scheduled for 8:30.

Art Rooney, sponsor of the Majestics, and Paul Muzzio, mentor of the West View club, met with the Armory officials last evening, and should the first game go over, there is a possibility that McChesneytown and East Pittsburgh Firemen will be brought to the East End arena before the season closes.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED

Of course, Rooney probably will decide whether the fans want indoor football or not with the playing of the West View club. The teams have met twice before large crowds, both games ending with fluky touchdowns to win.

The zero weather has practically stopped all attempts at outdoor football, and Rooney, feeling that much interest is in the game, looks for a banner crowd.

Outside of the regular following of the teams, there is a chance that out-of-town independent gridiron followers will take in the battle.

MAY GO TO NOTRE DAME

A rumor is about New Kensington that Sharkey Burns, fullback, is going to enter Notre Dame. Carl Glock, well-known official, has received a letter from Cannon, Rockne star, asking about the high school credits received by Sharkey.

The Burns star played with Parnassus High School, and played his last game against Ken High in 1923, which is quite a long time ago. It was reported some time ago that a college scout took in the McKeesport game to watch Sharkey in action, but the opinion at that time was that the scout had some connection with Colgate.

Carnegie Gridders, Booters Are Honored

Carnegie High's grid squad and the Scott township soccer football squad were joint guests of the Carnegie Rotary Club at a testimonial banquet held in Carnegie last night. Toby Uansa, Tom Parkinson and Charley Edwards, Pitt football stars, were honor guests.

Individual cups were presented, one to the football team by D. E. Cole and one to the soccer outfit by Dr. Wilson. The Scott booters were winners of the county grade school championship during the past season.

Two Gridders Cut Classes; Made Ineligible

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Paul Heydrick, halfback, and Eugene (Skeet) Mayer, guard, both outstanding University of Tennessee football reserves, were made ineligible for play in Saturday's closing game of the season with South Carolina through action of the administration council, Dean of Men F. M. Massey, has announced.

For overcutting classes, Mayer was dropped from the University rolls and Heydrick was placed on probate service in most of this season's games. Heydrick formerly played at Charleston (W. Va.) High School.

Christner Beaten By Les Kennedy

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—K. O. Christner, Akron, O., heavyweight, was thumped soundly by Les Kennedy, Long Beach battler, in a 10-round bout here last night.

O'BRIEN TO QUIT

BOSTON, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Dr. Eddie O'Brien, nationally known football official, today said he intended to quit officiating and devote all of his attention to his profession. He has been officiating on college gridirons for 20 years.

KERR INVITES THREE PITT STARS WEST

HAMILTON, N. Y., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Invitations to join the East team for the annual game with the West at San Francisco on New Year's Day were sent yesterday to nine prominent Eastern college football players by Coach Andy Kerr, of Colgate, organizer of the East team.

Ends invited are Joe Donchess, of Pittsburgh; Del Secrist, of Washington & Jefferson, and Hal Booma, of Dartmouth. Backs are Pug Parkinson, of Pittsburgh, Tommy Dowler and Jules Yablok, of Colgate, and Lloyd Brazil, of Detroit. Linemen are Capt. Johnny Cox, Colgate center, and Ray Montgomery, Pitt guard.

Other stars are to be invited later, Kerr said. The game is for the benefit of the San Francisco Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children.

SHAW BEATS ALTE

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Billy Shaw, Detroit featherweight, easily defeated Merle Alte, of Indianapolis, in a 10-round boxing contest here last night. Shaw knocked Alte down for the count of nine in both the seventh and eighth rounds.

remain in Gotham owing to his affiliation with the City College of New York, and an effort will be made to build a strong team around him. Johnny Beckman, sold by the Rosenblums, of Cleveland, has been repurchased by the Rosies, and the same club also has put in a high bid for Davey Banks.

CONNIE MACK'S action in releasing Outfielder Walter French, Infielder Jimmy Cronin and Pitcher Carroll Yerkes to the Portland club, of the Pacific Coast League, in exchange for Pitchers Lee Roy Mahaffey, former Pirate, and George Snider merely marks the completion of a deal that was announced two months ago.

At that it is only one of those deals in which a major league club takes something out of one pocket and puts it in another. The A's are said to have quite a bit to say about the operations of the Portland club, so that the deal is nothing more than a "farm" shift. Mahaffey is reported to be a much improved pitcher since the Pirates let him go in the Larry French deal last spring after giving him several trials since he was first brought up in 1926. Whether he can maintain his minor league form in the majors, however, remains to be seen.

Lee Roy Mahaffey.

LEO SETS NEW MARK TO TOP HART, 10-9

LOS ANGELES, Dec 4.—(AP.)—In a first round crowded with all the thrills in golf—upsets, comebacks, and a new course record—the big guns of the professional ranks moved through the opening 36-hole matches in quest of the 1929 championship of the Professional Golfers' Association yesterday.

The most dazzling round ever clubbed out of the rolling fairways of the Hillcrest Country Club course saw Leo Diegel, of Agua Caliente, defending champion, post a morning card of 64, seven under par, to eliminate P. O. Hart, of Wheeling, W. Va., by the lopsided score of 10-9. Diegel's 64 bettered by one stroke the former competitive record set by Fred Morrison, of Los Angeles, medalist, in the qualifying round.

SMITH ELIMINATED

Hardly less spectacular was the comeback of Walter Hagen, present British champion. He overwhelmed Bob Shave, of Aurora, O., by 9 and 8.

Horton Smith was toppled over by Craig Wood, Long Island, N. Y., youngster. Three down at the twenty-seventh, Smith made a garrison finish to square the match at the thirty-sixth, but lost out on the next hole. Wood snared a birdie 3 to win.

In the other upset, Neal Christian, of Portland, Ore., defeated Frank Walsh, of Chicago, 6 and 5.

SARAZEN, FARRELL WIN

Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell, former national open titleholders, advanced to the second round. Farrell was pressed a bit to beat out John Golden, Paterson, N. J., 1 up, while Sarazen had less difficulty in eliminating Jock Hendry, St. Paul, 3 and 2.

The medalist, Morrison, removed Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia, by 5 and 4. William Mehlhorn, New York, had an easy time beating Guy Paulsen, Chicago, 7-6. First round scores follow:

Walter Hagen, Detroit, defeated Bob Shave, Aurora, O., 9 and 8.

Al Espinosa vs. Bill Melhorn.
Neil Christian vs. Craig Wood.
Henry Cuici vs Johnny Farrell.
Tony Manero vs. Eddie Schultz.

TWO PIRATES 'ALL-STARS'

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The two major leagues in baseball shared honors equally in the 1929 all-star team of the Sporting News, St. Louis baseball paper, named by the votes of 187 members of the Baseball Writers' Association, and announced today.

Each league placed five men on the team, which includes two pitchers and one player for each of the other positions.

An outstanding feature was unanimous selection by the scribes of Mickey Cochrane, of the world champion Philadelphia Athletics, for the catching position. He received all 187 votes. Three of his teammates also were chosen.

The team has a batting average of .327 and if the pitchers are excluded, the average is .346. The two pitchers have won a total of 37 games while losing 13 for an average of .740 for the season.

Seven players were chosen by overwhelming votes. The race for first base was close between Foxx and Bill Terry, of the Giants; Grimes was closely pressed by George Earnshaw, of the Athletics, for the second pitching position, and Hack Wilson had competition for the center garden position.

The Sporting News has sponsored selection of the team for five years and Hornsby is the only player to be named on all five teams.

SPORTS PROMOTER DIES

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Alfred M. Jones, 52, Dallas sports promoter for the last 25 years, died at his home last night after a two week's illness.

Blackburne's Pal Shires' Ring Foe

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Dan Daly, of Cleveland, who protesses to be yearning for an opportunity to gain revenge for Lena Blackburne, former White Sox manager, will get his chance Monday night.

Daly has consented to be the first ring opponent of Art Shires, the "bad boy" of the White Sox who decorated Blackburne with two black eyes last summer.

"I am a close personal friend of Blackburne's and I want to get a crack at this much-advertised tough boy from Texas," Daily said in his successful application for the match to Promoter Jim Mullen. "His attack on Blackburne, a man much older than himself who can't fight, was the work of a coward. I'll prove that Shires does most of his fighting orally, and give Blackburne some revenge."

Shires, meanwhile, is working out daily in a downtown gymnasium. His form is far from that of a polished boxer, but he possesses a haymaker, which starts from the floor and damages his sparring partners once in the while when it lands.

Horseshoe Pitching Courts Opened

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 3.—In an informal program of interesting matches, the new horseshoe courts in the Coliseum were opened to the public last night. Local shoe flingers can boast of having about the best indoor courts in the state. For a month past, Tom Cornell, veteran court manager, has been busily employed in shaping up the six lanes which will be in active use throughout the winter. Considerable interest has been evinced in the barnyard sport here, indications being that the lanes will be taxed to capacity during all open hours.

The Duquesne Lafayettes trimmed the Allentown Turners, 46 to 29, last night, as they started in pursuit of their fourth straight Allegheny County League title. A good-sized crowd packed the Duquesne Library floor.

LOSE IN SECOND HALF

Allentown gave the champions a real fight in the first half, trailing by only a 14-12 margin at half time. The dazzling finish of the Lafayettes was spectacular.

Charley Wunderlich, last year's Pitt captain, and Andy Minnick were the individual stars for Duquesne, while Sky Twyman and Bibby Allebach were Allentown's high lights.

With only 45 seconds remaining, Ewing tossed two baskets to tie the game at 26-all, and in the extra period the Knickerbockers nosed out the Penn Five, 31 to 30, in their West Penn League game last night.

BASKETBALL RULES QUIZ

PLAY NO. 9.

Scheid, of Indiana, has been awarded the ball out of bounds by the referee and Harmeson knocks the ball out of Schneid's hands just before running to cover his man.

What is the correct ruling?

ANSWER.

A technical foul is charged against Harmeson and Scheid is given a free throw for the basket. A player is not allowed to so much as touch the ball in interfering with a player who has been awarded it to return to the court from out of bounds.

FALCONS MEET SCHNEIDERS TONIGHT

By JULIUS LEVIN.

First place in the West Penn League will be at stake tonight when the Ray Schneider Club entertains the crack South Side Polish Falcons in one of the two league battles on the program. In the other game carded tonight the Young Men's Hebrew Association quintet, last year's Greater Pittsburgh Institutional League and A. A. U. champion, opposes Coach Yetter's Kingsley House passers on the Kingsley House floor.

The Schneider-Falcon battle on the North Side Moose floor brings together what many followers of the West Penn League consider two of the best amateur quintets operating in local circles this winter and indications point to a thrilling encounter tonight inasmuch as both teams have shown consistent form since the opening game.

Interest in the contest is high and preparations have been made to handle a banner turnout at Moose Hall. The South Side Falcons will not be without supporters, a large delegation of rooters having made arrangements to attend the battle.

The contest at Kingsley House likewise should prove a close affair from start to finish. The two teams have been rivals for several years. Kingsley House will be out tonight to make amends for some of the defeats handed them by the Oaklanders last season.

DRIBBLES

Garry Schmeelk, secretary of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National Professional Hockey League and former manager of the Original New York Celtics, will renew old acquaintances a week from Thursday night when the Cleveland Rosies, world champions, appear at Duquesne University to oppose the Morry-Fintex quintet. The Rosies include four former members of the Celtics named: Joe Lapchick, Pete Barry, Dutch Dehnert and Johnny Beckman.

John J. Freund Jr., local representative of the American League, is being swamped with requests for games with the pros. Numerous clubs in Western Pennsylvania appear to be eager to see the various American League clubs in action this winter. Teams desiring to arrange games with the Rosies, Renaissance, Brooklyn Visitation, Fort Wayne Guards and Rochester Centrals, are asked to write 225 Charles street, or call Lafayette 4297.

The East Liberty Y. M. C. A. representative team will open its season tonight on the East Liberty floor when it engages the Burgess Manufacturing quintet. The East Liberty passers are in excellent shape after several weeks of intensive training.

Joseph Hornes meet Falcons No. 8 in the only Central Pittsburgh League game tonight. The game will be played on the Hornes' floor.

The Charleroi Lions, although defeated in the County League opener, will not prove a set-up for the majority of the league teams. The Magic City passers are accurate shots and will give many of their opponents considerable trouble before the race is over.

Ed Minnick takes his Duquesne Lafayettes, County League champions, to Warren, O., tonight to meet the Cleveland Rosenblums.

HORSE OWNERS, TWO CLUBS SUSPENDED

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Handing out suspensions in wholesale style, the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association yesterday laid down the law to owners who started their horses out of the proper class during the past year.

While no flagrant offenses were brought before the board, 14 violators of the rules felt the iron hand of the board and were suspended until such time as they refund their winnings. Although the trotting association has operated under rule placing horses according to their money winnings for the past three years, this was the first time the board has taken drastic action against the violators.

The Newport News, Va., Fair Association and the Moncton Driving Club, of New Brunswick, Canada, were suspended from membership while A. T. Morrison, driver from Sandusky, O., was expelled for frequent violations of rules while driving on tracks of members.

Included in the 13 owners suspended were Charles McCaffrey, Littlestown, Pa.; L. Parent, Assumption, Can.; Buller and Gibson, Pleasant Mount, Pa.; G. A. Urban, Zanesville, Ohio, and H. M. Boocher, Kittanning, Pa.

Reese Blizzard, Parkersburg, W. Va., was re-elected president, W. N. Reynolds, Winston-Salem, N. C., and Ogden M. Edwards, Jr., Pittsburgh, a vice-president.

Those elected to serve on district boards for terms of six years each: included I. L. Borden, San Francisco, Pacific district.

SHIMON LEADS DICKENS

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Max Shimon, of Milwaukee, last night won the second block, 50 to 44, of a 150-point championship match with Perry Dickens, Milwaukee, who is defending his National amateur three-cushion billiard title. Shimon raised his total to 100 while Dickens' was 75.

Smokers Applaud Our Frankness

Do you remember the old, filthy shop where the man in the window rolled the leaves with dirty fingers . . . and spit on the ends? What a far cry this is from the modern method of manufacture used by Certified Cremo.

UTILITIES LEAD ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Market Recovers Further But Selling Waves Cut Gains; Trading Broad

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Stock prices made further recovery in today's market under the leadership of the public utilities, but waves of selling swept over the market at intervals and cut down some of the gains. Trading was again on a broad scale, with the ticker running a few minutes behind the market.

Careful perusal of the President's message to Congress brought heavy buying into several of the high grade issues at the opening but this was offset, to some extent, by selling inspired by the Soviet government's brusque response to American peace proposals in the Far East.

TRADE NEWS MIXED

The day's business news was mixed in character. Announcement of another series of "Christmas dividends" and a further easing of credit conditions stimulated some buying. The demand for the public utilities received considerable impetus from a revival of merger rumors involving American Water Works, Columbia Gas and other large power and light properties.

Steel shares joined the advance, after an early period of hesitancy, despite the relatively low rate of steel mill activity, and the Iron Age report that the daily average of pig iron production last month was the lowest since September, 1928.

MONEY UNCHANGED

Call money renewed unchanged at 4½ per cent, but funds were available in the outside market as low as 3½. Recent strength of the British, French and German currencies in the foreign exchange markets increased the possibility of additional gold shipments abroad.

American Water Works was the leader of the public utility group, soaring 11 points. American & Foreign Power, North American Co., American Power & Light, Brooklyn Union Gas and Western Union sold 5 to 8 points higher.

CARBON SPECTACULAR

Columbian Carbon resumed its spectacular advance by soaring 12 points. International Business Machines was marked up 14, Auburn Auto 8, and A. M. Byers, American Machine & Foundry, Allied Chemical, and Eastman Kodak each advanced 7 points or more.

Allis Chalmers was run up 5 points on reports of an early increase in the annual dividend from $2 to $3. Otis Elevator, Simmons, Atlantic Gulf & West Indies, Baldwin, Corn Products, R. H. Macy and U. S. Industrial Alcohol also recorded substantial gains.

Aviation shares and an assortment of miscellaneous issues, including merchandise, tobacco and high priced stocks, moved upward in the final hour. Columbian Carbon extended its advance to 18 points, Detroit Edison to 10 and General Electric to 8. Gains of 3 to 5 points were common. United Aircraft, Wright Aero and Bendix rose about 5 points each.

International Steel Group Cuts Output

BRUSSELS, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—A committee meeting of the National Steel Cartel at Liege decided, in view of export conditions, to reduce production of unmanufactured steel by 10 per cent during the current month.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The revived forward movement on the Curb Market was forced to hurdle barriers in the form of waves of profit taking today, but managed to keep under way, at a somewhat moderated rate.

For a time during the morning, the market showed decided wavering tendencies, but with a brilliant upturn in utilities on the "big board" during the early afternoon, operations for the advance were stimulated on this market.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

Failure of Crops Hits Turkish Bourse

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—The Bourse broke into a panic today as sterling exchange soared to 1,903 piasters, and the frightened Turkish population scrambled into exchange offices to change their money into dollars or pounds.

Saradjoglou Churki Bey, minister of finance, published a statement denying rumors of a foreign loan or a forced internal loan. He attributed the present crisis on the Bourse to excessive importations, which amounted to more than $50,000,000 during the months preceding the application of the new high tariff.

The decrease in Turkish exports, owing to the failure of the nut, raisin and fig crops, was another cause.

Churki Bey said that radical measures, the nature of which is being kept secret, would be applied to the Bourse.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Heavy selling that developed on fresh early bulges in wheat values today led to quick setbacks which more than wiped out gains. Crop deterioration in Argentina was reported as continuing, but many traders operated on the basis that recent upturns in price had been too rapid. Starting unchanged to 1 cent higher, wheat afterward dropped to well below yesterday's finish. Corn, oats and provisions were also easier, with corn starting unchanged to ⅜ to ½ cent up and subsequently showing losses.

Aggressiveness on the part of speculators who asserted that price advances of late were too sudden to last completely, and that something of a reaction was certain, dominated the wheat market much of the time today. Despite the fact that the hottest weather yet was reported from Argentina today and still hotter was predicted for tomorrow, the majority of wheat traders here flocked to the selling side of the market, and contended that pessimistic Argentine crop developments had been over-discounted for a least the time being.

Evidence of sharp falling off in overnight trans-Atlantic demand for wheat from North America tended materially also to handicap friends of higher prices. This was all the more striking on account of announcement that sterling exchange was at the highest point in many months. Comprehensive advices that domestic winter wheat has suffered no ill-effects from sub-zero temperatures tended likewise to weaken values.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 4 to 8 points today on buying promoted by relatively firm Liverpool cables, but the demand was checked by larger private crop figures and prices reacted to about yesterday's closing figures by the end of the first half hour.

Two more private crop reports were published, the first placing the yield at 15,034,000 bales, while the other made the crop 14,796,000 bales of 500 pounds or 14,606,000 running bales. This second report estimated ginnings to December at 12,886,941 bales. The first of these figures was above expectations and was evidently a disappointment to recent buyers as reflected by realizing or reselling during the early trading.

Liverpool cables reported continental buying covering and trade calling in the market there, but said the turnover in cotton yarns was unimportant and that some machinery was stopping in the Bolton district.

The decline from the opening advance carried prices off to 17.44c for January and 17.98c for May, or about 3 to 7 points net lower on the active positions. The realizing or liquidation seemed to be pretty well absorbed on the setback, however, and the market at midday was quiet and steady within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

Sugar Market.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Raw sugar was unchanged early today at 3.71c for spots duty paid, with no sales reported.

Raw futures opened unchanged to 3 points lower under liquidation and some selling by houses with trade and Cuban connections, promoted by the disappointing showing of London and the inactivity in the spot market. Shorts and European interests bought on the decline, and for a while prices held steady, but the demand was not of sufficient volume to absorb the offerings and prices weakened again in the late trading and at midday were 1 to 3 points net lower.

Refined was unchanged at 5.00c for fine granulated with demand fair but limited to nearby requirements only.

IMPROVED TONE IN LOCAL MARKET

Lone Star and Fireproofing Hold Gains; Fireproof Orders Common Dividend

Securities prices on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange continued to reflect the improved tone which made its appearance in the late dealings yesterday and moderate advances were recorded in several sections of the list.

National Fireproofing common, which ran up two points yesterday, also held the gain and there was a fair demand for the stock in anticipation of the junior shares being placed in the dividend column at the directors' meeting today. Following the meeting it was announced that a dividend of $2 a share was declared on the common, payable January 6 to record of December 14. The payment will be made out of 1929 earnings.

The general list was steady to firm, with trading volume showing further shrinkage. A new investment issue was added to the market this morning with the admission of the Lone Star Gas preferred stock to unlisted trading privileges. The stock came into the market at 104½, unchanged from its close on the curb last night.

Shattuck Estimated Net for Year Placed at $2.70 Per Share

BUSINESS of Frank G. Shattuck Company is maintaining the gains of the earlier part of the year and indications are the final quarter will compare favorably with the preceding 9 months. Earnings of Shattuck, including Schraff Company, for the current year, may be estimated at around $2.70 a share on the present outstanding 1,250,000 shares of common. Last year Shattuck reported net profit of $2,190,378, or $6.25 a share on 350,000 shares outstanding December 31. By the close of the year Shattuck will have 35 stores in operation. The company is in a financial position to open as many as 25 stores in 1930, provided suitable locations can be secured.

There is not going to be any international oil trade war if Sir Henri Deterding, head of the Royal Dutch Shell interests can help it. He made this plain before the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute when he declared "it was not his idea to resort to price cutting or wielding of the 'big stick' on any any one." His remarks to the convention otherwise were restricted to the problem of oil conservation in the course of which he assured domestic producers that producers in other countries are ready to follow the lead taken here. He dealt especially with the folly of unwarranted haste in drilling and the waste that goes with it.

WITH the first real cold spell having been felt over the country generally, considerable speculative interest was aroused in the shares of the alcohol companies. These corporations usually have their best seasons from now until the advent of mild weather in the spring. American Commercial Alcohol was unusually active yesterday, advancing several points. The stock will sell ex the 2 per cent stock dividend at the end of the week, realization of this fact undoubtedly having influenced some short covering by traders who wished to avoid paying that disbursement. The company earned $1.06 a share in the September quarter and showed net equal to $2.59 a share for the nine months. Its report for the current quarter will probably reflect the pickup in demand for its product coincident with the widespread rush of motorists for anti-freeze preparations.

Pennsylvania Railroad was a stockholder of record December 31, 1928, of 73,025 shares of New Haven Railroad out of 1,571,179 outstanding common shares, or 4.6 per cent. Pennroad Corporation's ownership is understood to be much larger. With New Haven owning 219,189 shares of Boston and Maine common, or over 55 per cent of the total, and 28.3 per cent of the total B. & M. stocks outstanding, all with voting power, purchases of B. & M. by Pennroad Corporation interests are considered sufficient to give New Haven and Pennsylvania interests actual control.

A NUMBER of industries, due to a falling off in demand for their respective products, have curtailed production. This now seems to be the order of things and is doing a lot toward stabilization of prices and wages. If prices for the country's products start to slump without a corresponding shrinkage in cost of production wages will fall with them. This is the case with copper prices. If they go down, then wages are bound to go down, as the copper companies operate on a sliding scale basis. A reduction in mining wages at this time would not please Washington in the least.

Reading some of the dispatches from Washington, one might draw the conclusion that certain lines of industry had decided to build things they did not actually need in order to help out. But actually there is little extraordinary in the figures. The budgets do not vary greatly from previous years, except in the case of the railroads, which are buying more equipment. Construction expenditures of United States Steel, American Telephone and Telegraph, Western Electric, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Standard Oil and other lines of industry each year reach a combined total running into billions. However, Washington conferences will, no doubt, accelerate the building and buying programs of railroads, industrial, utility and other lines of industry.

Bonds Redeemed in 1929 to Be Lower

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The total value of bonds called for redemption during 1929 will fall far below the value of those redeemed last year and also in 1927. The amount redeemed this year will total $890,784,950, according to a compilation made today, as contrasted with the record figure of $1,841,727,230 last year, and $1,501,861,700 in 1927. Bonds called for this month total $44,850,000, as against $189,428,200 in November and $48,081,580 in December, 1928.

Industries Spend Huge Sums for Research

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

"WE spend a lot of money chasing rainbows." This remark was made by an official of a glass company. He had just shown me a transparent piece of material which I thought was glass. It wasn't. It was made of vegetable matter.

"It took us several years and a great deal of trouble to find out how to make that and then to prove conclusively that it has no commercial possibilities," he continued. "We solved the problem of making a substitute for glass only to find that it scratches too easily and costs more than the original.

"We are always spending money on experiments, and even though we often land at the end of blind alleys we know that these appropriations are not wasted. Work of this kind is insurance against the possibility that someone may discover a new method or a new product which might put us out of business. If anything new is to be learned in our business we intend to do everything possible to be the first to find out about it."

Develops New Process

THE wisdom of this policy has been proved in actual practice. This particular company has been able to meet changing conditions in its markets far more readily than many of its competitors. It has been able to put new production methods into practice which cut deeply into costs and put new products into its salesmen's hands.

Other companies which either could not or were too lacking in foresight to carry on costly research have had to pay dearly. They have been faced with the difficult task of doing business with antiquated machinery.

Rainbow Dividends

CHASING rainbows has paid dividends to this company and to many others.

"We often pursue lines of reesarch when we have only faint hope of success. We do this in the belief that something useful may be uncovered," said the glass man.

"The experiment with the glass substitute was worth while because it proved to us that there is very little danger of some other organization putting a new product on the market which would make worthless the new factories on which we are spending millions.

"The path of business is marked with the gravestones of companies which thought they were too well entrenched to be replaced by something new. No business is safe from the competition of inventive genius. This competition may come from a new process within the industry or from the development of an entirely new product."

Scientific Curiosities

MANY of the products which have revolutionized our daily life have been the results of purely scientific curiosity with no thought of a practical application. The first men to play with electricity in primitive laboratories probably never dreamed of putting the strange force to work.

When Edison found that if he put a metalic plate inside of an incandescent light that a current of electricity would pass from the plate to the filament but not in the opposite direction, it is doubtful if he realized that he had discovered the principal underlying the operation of such a gigantic thing as our modern radio broadcasting.

When a curious geologist took some samples of an unusual mineral back to his laboratory he did know that his discovery would more than double the life of automobile spark-plugs. Purely scientific data on the expansion and contraction of the mineral were discovered by men looking for a more durable type of procelain for this vital part of a gasoline motor.

Two centuries ago people were living in practically the same manner as in the days of Caesar. Chasing rainbows has been responsible for the change.

Price Cutting Does Not Fit Hoover Rules

By B. C. FORBES

IF PRICE cutting wars should begin to rage, then promises and pledges not to reduce wages would become mere scraps of paper.

Prosperity would thus be hurt, not helped.

PRESIDENT HOOVER has enlisted the co-operation of all our main economic groups in attempting the unique experiment of handling a financial panic by entirely new methods. Under the old rules workers were immediately laid off, cut-throat price competition was launched, wages were reduced, strikes were incited, everybody became alarmed and drastically curtailed spending.

BUT if one or more of the most vital of the new rules be broken, it is inevitable that others would go by the board. Thus, if fierce price cutting should set in, prompted solely by the motive of getting business away from rivals, it would be found impossible to maintain high wages. J P Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Speyer & Co., National City Bank, Chase Bank, Guaranty Trust Company, Dillon, Read & Co., and others sometimes bid for "all or none" of a New York City or other municipal or state bond issue, meaning that if they are not awarded the entire issue, they will not take any of it. The new Hoover rules must, if they are to prove workable, be accepted on an "all or none" basis.

SEVERAL letters have come from presidents and other executives of corporations warning against the unleashing of price-cutting. One president writes, in part:

"A number of manufacturers and distributors, in their endeavor to keep their plants and warehouses in operation, will doubtless offer so-called differential or cut prices below a fair and reasonable price in order to obtain orders. A condition of this kind causes economic losses to the corporation itself and to the trade in general.

"The purchasing departments of large corporations would do well to bear this in mind and offer to place their business at fair and reasonable prices rather than to the company who offers at disastrously low prices."

A SALES manager sends an elaborate statistical statement to prove the short-sightedness and unsoundness of indiscriminate price-cutting "in a blind strife for volume." He adds:

"The strongest force making for price reduction is the need to keep up volume to absorb the overhead. Plans to reduce expenses, to intensify the sales effort or to broaden the market take time and hard work. It is so much quicker and easier to cut the price. Too seldom it is realized that soon the other fellow will be forced to do the same.

"To be sure, there are times when sacrifice to maintain volume is good business. But a decision to sacrifice involves responsibility to forecast results and weigh them against alternate considerations. To illustrate:

"Take a business with an overhead of $1,000. Its unit cost is $1 and it does a 2,000 unit business. Thus: Unit cost, $1; overhead, .50: $1.50.

"This shows $1.50 as the 'break even' sales price.

"But competition gets keen. A 10 per cent price cut is made. Sales price, now $1.35, leaves only 35c for overhead. In order to break even sales would now have to be increased to 2,857 units (42 per cent)—35c at 2,857 units equals $99.95. But a 42 per cent increase is extremely difficult and a 20 per cent increase (2,400 units) would be more reasonable. However, this would result in a loss—35c at 2,400 units equals $840, or a loss of $160. If the price reduction failed to increase business and only the normal 2,000 units were sold, the loss would be $250—35c at 2,000 units equals $750.

"If the price was maintained at $1.50 the business could lose 16 per cent sales volume (320 units) at no more loss than $160, and could lose 25 per cent sales volume (500 units) at no more loss than $250.

"The business decides on a 10 per cent price increase, to $1.65. Now we have 65c for overhead, so we can take a 23 per cent loss in sales volume (461 units) and still break even; 65c at 1,539 units equals $1,000.25."

LESS business at a fair profit is better than an artificially stimulated increase in business at a loss. Remember, always, that the other fellow can also play the price cutting game. Then your last state is worse than your first.

Starving Quail Feed With Chickens

MOUNT PLEASANT, Pa., Dec. 4.—Starving by inability to get food because of the cold wave and snow, a covey of 50 quail flew into the chicken-yard at Charles Stoner's home and shared the feed he was tossing out for his hens. They showed no alarm at his presence.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Low coupon rails led the bond market upward today. Bidding for numerous issues was lively in the early trading and it was apparent that an important proportion of available investment funds, including December 1 interest and dividend payments, was finding its way into bonds.

The money rates were unchanged, with charges of 4½@4¾ prevailing for time loans. Although call money renewed at 4½ per cent it was reported that the undertone was firmer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

LEADERS URGED TO LEVEL UP, NOT DOWN

Business Equilibrium Worth Striving for, Says Taylor Society Speaker

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—On the eve of the big industrial stabilization conference at Washington Thursday, the Taylor Society, to which experts on industrial management belong, will meet tomorrow to consider the new technique for modifying the business cycle.

In alluding to the need for "economic balance" which the President's committee on recent economic changes pointed out, Wesley Clair Mitchell, director of the National Bureau of Economic Research and father of the business cycle conception, who will be a principal speaker at the Taylor Society meetings at the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, has cautioned the business community to seek an equilibrium by "leveling up" instead of by "leveling down."

Dr. Mitchell believes that industrial equilibrium is worth striving for, and feels that there are practical steps which can achieve that objective.

In referring to President Hoover's conferences with economic leaders, Dr. Mitchell said: "I recognize that a step of great technical interest is being tried at this moment on a national scale. While a business cycle is passing over from the phase of expansion to the phase of contraction, the President of the United States is organizing the economic forces of the country to check the threatened decline at the start, if possible. A more significant experiment in the technique of balance could not be devised than the one which is being performed before our eyes.

"But whatever measure of success may attend President Hoover's effort, further steps toward industrial equilibrium must be taken in the future."

NO CHECK TO PROGRESS

Dr. Mitchell hoped that "the economic balance," which President Hoover's committee on recent economic changes sponsored, would not be interpreted as an excuse for stopping the wheels of progress.

"I doubt," the economist said, "whether the sponsoring committee would abolish all disturbances of economic equilibrium if they could do so. For that might check progress in per capita, production and consumption. What the committee's wish is, presumably, to make an improved technique of balance serve industrial progress. They realize that almost every improvement in economic practice disturbs some of the rough and ready balances on which business men base their plans, and puts some one under pressure. Most of us believe that other people need such outside pressure to give most to and get most out of life. We attribute a great part of the mechanical progress of the last hundred years to the pressure which those who early adopted superior methods applied to their slower-moving competitors. The desideratum seems to be a technique of balance which will permit of cumulative chances, each of which disturbs existing arrangements enough to secure the prompt adoption of improvements and keep everybody on his mettle, but a technique which will prevent these salutary irritants from developing into cancers. In other words, the aim is to reduce random, seasonal and cyclical fluctuations in economic activity, so far as that can be done without checking the rise of secular trends (or long term progress)."

TO PAY COFFE DRINKERS

Infinite are the opportunities for money making, even in these lean days of lean pickings in Wall street. For example, the department of psychology at Columbia University has been advertising for young men and woman who will drink coffee for a remuneration of $1 an hour. The first of three tests will take place Saturday morning. The aim is to find out the effect of coffee (caffein) upon the elementary human motor and mental functions and on personality traits and consciousness. The only drawback is that applicants will be divided into three groups at random: Those who will imbibe untreated coffee, those who will be invited to drink decaffeinated coffe, and those who will be asked to abstain from drinking. The purpose of the experiment has not been revealed, but doubtless there's a reason.

The flight of Commander R. E. Byrd, over the South Pole, was fortuitously planned to be of greatest help in bolstering the American morale. The public, which is emotional even in financial matters, is inclined to run to extremes. During bull markets, it assumes that nothing is beyond the compass of American genius, but during corrective setbacks the public is inclined to become subject to unwarranted pessimism. If acumen is joined with faith, it pays to be a bull on America, as the late J. Pierpont Morgan averred. Commander Byrd's epic achievement has symbolic value in reminding the public at a time of somewhat deflated public confidence that the capacity of the race for progress is infinite, and that Americans seem destined to play a conspicuous role in the forward movement of the race.

Membership Sells At $15,000 Advance

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Arrangements have been made for sale of a seat on the New York Stock Exchange for $375,000. This is an advance of $15,000 over the previous sale.

Extra Dividend On Donahoe's 'A' Stock

Donahoe's, Inc., declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on the first preferred stock and 25 cents per share on the "Class A" stock, and in addition declared an extra cash dividend of 10 cents per share on the "Class A" stock.

This makes the forty-eighth consecutive quarterly dividend. Dividends are payable December 21 to record December 14.

In announcing the extra dividend the company states that since the outset of the current year net profits have been running considerably ahead of 1928 and it is expected that when final returns for 1929 are ready, a new high record in point of net income will be recorded.

It is expected that the policy of the board will be to declare such extra cash dividends from time to time as earnings will permit.

The company states that it has new merchandising plans in preparation, and almost consummated for the conduct of its business in the coming year, which will make 1930, by far, the biggest and most profitable year it has ever had. Public announcement of this 1930 program will be made about the first of the year.

NORMAL 1930, INSULL VIEW

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(AP.)—"Business will be about as usual" in 1930 for the utilities operated by the Insull interests.

Samuel Insull, expressing his views on the business situation before the Economic Club last night, announced his companies would go ahead with a $200,000,000 expansion program "just as planned before the stock market took sick."

Mr. Insull said the $200,000,000 expansion program was based on a survey that showed "the credit situation good; collections practically normal; no extraordinary accumulation of inventories; that the market disturbance was not caused by a shortage of money; that money is, in fact, plentiful."

Sharon Steel Hoop Enters New Field

The Sharon Steel Hoop Company has concluded negotiations with Krupp Nirosta Company, Inc., holders of the Krupp patents of Dr. Strauss, under which it will immediately proceed with the production and distribution of highly alloyed and rust resisting steels.

Sharon Hoop has also concluded arrangements with Ludlum Steel by which Ludlum will for the present furnish the alloyed ingots to the Sharon company. This will enable Sharon to be in distribution at a very early date. It is now believed the distribution can be accomplished during the first month of 1930.

U. S. Lead Receipts Increase in Month

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Receipts of lead in ore by smelters in the United States and Mexico amounted to 83,909 short tons in October against 74,935 in September and 79,394 in October, 1928, according to the American Bureau of Metal Statistics.

Stocks of lead in the United States and Mexico totaled 167,023 tons on November 1, against 168,707 on October 1 and 152,746 on November 1, 1928.

Bituminous Coal Production Lower

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—The weekly estimate of bituminous coal production in the United States, prepared by the National Coal Association, shows a total for the week ended November 30 of about 9,800,000 net tons, a loss of about 1,000,000 tons from the total of the preceding week. The decrease in tonnage was due to curtailed mine operation on Thanksgiving Day.

Market Slump Aids British Postoffice

LONDON, Dec. 4.—The recent Wall street trouble has left the British postoffice richer.

There were hundreds of frantic trans-Atlantic telephone conversations during the worst times in New York. On one day all available channels of communication were in use continuously.

The postoffice made as much as $1,800 an hour in the height of the rush.

New Pipe Line to Transport Oil Here

OIL CITY, Pa., Dec. 4.—The Derrick says that the incorporators of the Susquehanna Pipe Line Company also are officials of the Sun Oil Company of Pennsylvania and that it is considered probable the new line will be used for the transportation of gasoline from refineries of the Sun Oil Company to the Pittsburgh territory.

A. P. I. Figures Show Higher Oil Yield

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States increased 4,950 barrels for the week ended November 30, totaling 2,638,200 barrels, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,933,700 barrels, a decrease of 50 barrels.

RAIL ORDERING AIDS STEEL

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—The Iron Age in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade tomorrow will say:

Pig iron production contracted sharply in November, reflecting a rapid adjustment of output to reduced demand. Total production was 3,181,411 tons and the daily average was 106,047 tons, the lowest since September, 1928. The decline from the October daily rate, 9,698 tons, was the largest reduction recorded since May, 1925. The net loss in active blast furnaces in November was 26, three having been blown in and 29 put out. The greatest net losses in recent years were 40 furnaces in April, 1924, and 46 in May, 1924.

Both iron and steel makers are avoiding overproduction so far as is possible, although some piling of pig iron and semi-finished steel is reported at Chicago. At Youngstown and at other centers work is being distributed among as large a number of men as possible. Additional employment is being provided by an unusually large amount of repair work, resulting from the heavy strain on equipment in the first nine months of the year.

Steel production as a whole has shown little change, with slight increases tending to offset further reductions. Ingot output at Chicago has declined to 65 per cent, compared with 70 per cent last week, but the rate in the Pittsburgh district continues to range from 65 to 70 per cent. Youngstown production is now estimated at 55 to 60 per cent, compared with 40 to 50 per cent a week ago, while Buffalo operations have dropped from 60 to 50 per cent. The average for Steel Corporation subsidiaries remains at 68 per cent, which also represents the present rate of Bethlehem plants.

Railroad buying is conspicuously good, in contrast with the sharp reduction in the general level of demand. Shipments of rails from Chicago mills in November were the largest for any month in many years.

Steel specifications from the automotive industry have shown slight improvement and it is now predicted that December production of motor cars will show a gain over the November figure.

Present prices on nearly all of the principal finished steel products have been reaffirmed for first quarter, but consumers are indifferent to their needs for that period and quotations still await a real test.

Scrap markets continue to soften, with heavy melting grade down another 25 cents a ton at Pittsburgh.

MERCILESS TRUTH

THE Friars' recent Frolic, their best in years, was still the topic at the club yesterday. A group gathered around an enthusiastic member who was jotting down the combined salaries of the great cast of comedians who appeared in the Afterpiece.

"Yessir," ejaculated the tablecloth mathematician as he totaled the sum of the combined salaries, "the actors that appeared in that scene would have cost $80,000 a week!"

INCIDENTALLY

Joe (Stutter) Frisco was a high spot on the Friars Frolic program with his impersonation of Helen Morgan. Harry Rosenthal encountered him the other night to say: "I just left one of your greatest admirers—George M. Cohan!"

"That'll do me a lotta good," was the indifferent answer. "Everything good that Cohan guy writes—he plays in himself!"

JUKK

ARTHUR KOBER avers that he heard it in one of the small-time casting agencies:

Jewish Chorus Girl: "Are you cesting?"

Jewish Dance Director: "Are you dencing?"

Jewish C. G.: "Yass, I'm dencing."

Jewish D. D.: "So I'm cesting."

THE COLUMNIST

His every taste is in his mouth.
—George Beck in Zit's Weekly.

Georgie Beck, you are a louth.
You mustn't mate "uncouth" with "mouth."
Unless you like to be ridiculous

OBSERVATION

WHEN Jack Donahue, the star of "Rosalie" and now in "Sons o' Guns," was two-a-daying it with his squaw, their act was incessantly the prey of the desperate-for-ideas brigade, most of whom lifted this or that from the Donahue act. So Donahue engaged two thugs to stop the burglars.

When they were tipped off that an act in Baltimore, Washington, Buffalo, Cleveland or anywhere had pilfered any of their material, the toughies would go to the town where the thieves were playing, look over their act, and if they were swiping the stuff, they would call backstage and say: "You are stealing gags and dance steps belonging to Jack Donahue. We are going to watch your act again tonight. If you do it again, we will knock your nose in and tear you from limb to limb."

The threatened pirates, of course, would quit and in that manner the Donahues protected their exclusive and clever routines.

But now that Jack is a star he never uses any of the tricky and amusing dance arrangements for which he fought so hard to keep.

SHOW SHOP TALK

CHARLEY MERCER, business boss for the Newman Traveltalks, used to be an advance man, or mebbe he was a press agent. Anyhow, several seasons ago he made a town in Ohio or mebbe it was in Indiana. When he went into a huddle with the theater manager to scale the house Charley discovered that the rows of the seats were lettered backwards. The last row was marked A, and Z was right down near the piano.

"How come?" queried Mr. Mercer.

"We had to do it on account of the ushers," was the manager's reply, "they don't know the alphabet backwards."

LOVE FINDS A WAY

Among the delights in the new musical hit, "Fifty Million Frenchmen," is Helen Broderick, whose droll cracks entice robust laughter. Miss Broderick has finally landed on Broadway in the Big Time Manner after fighting against terrific odds for many, many years. She could have arrived long ago, they will tell you, but every time she got an offer for a show at huge wages she always said: "What about my partner? He's good, too."

The managers invariably would tell Miss Broderick that they would like very much to hire her partner but there was nothing in their enterprise for him. And so Helen Broderick only accepted those ordinary shows that could "find a spot" for her partner.

Now both have been rewarded for their loyalty to each other. In the "Frenchman" hit her partner has a juicy role and he acquits himself most creditably. His name is Lester Crawford, which is Miss Broderick's marriage tag.

ADD SMILES

NEWSPAPERMAN STUFF

They were chinning about log rollers again, and someone was reminded of the time when Heywood Broun's column in the N. Y. World was almost next to Franklin P. Adams' column. Because these two chaps worked on the same rag they were accused of log rolling each other when the opportunity arrived. Then one week Broun ignored F. P. A.'s new book, while F. P. A. called the new Broun novel "punk" in print! And yet a Park Rowgue grumbled: "Broun and Adams. Those two make me sick! Always scratching each other's backs!"

"To be sure," replied a guy by the name of Woollcott, who overheard the discussion. "You can see Adams' scratch on Broun's back to this day."

Name Pittsburgher In Mine Survey

Two Pittsburghers have been appointed on a national committee to present the developments in mining and metallurgy during the past 100 years. They are Dr. E. A. Holbrook, dean of the University of Pittsburgh's engineering school and L. E. Young, vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company. The report will be presented to the Chicago Century of Progress celebration in 1933.

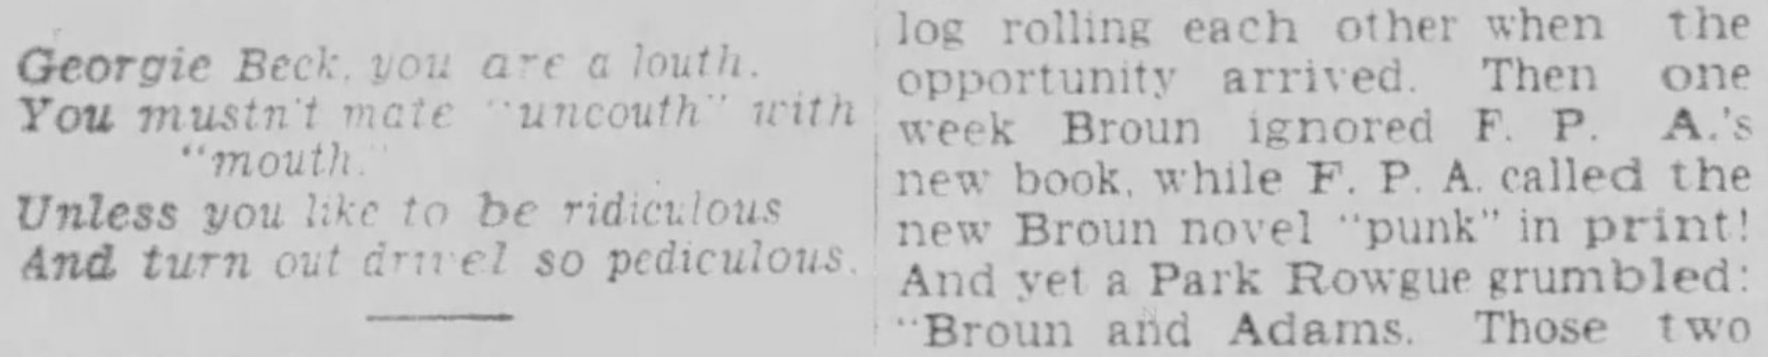
Stage Four Plays At Sacred Heart

The Sacred Heart Players, under the direction of Rev. E. Lawrence O'Connell and Miss Bertha Fuhrer will present four one-act plays in the Guild Hall, 5920 Center avenue next Monday night. "Behold the Man," "The Trysting Place," "Dust of the Road" and "The Maker of Dreams" are the titles.



UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES
DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

What Is a Seventeen-Year-Old Boy Doing in Sing Sing Prison?

The newspaper accounts of a seventeen-year-old boy being stabbed to death in Sing Sing prison yard by other convicts prompts the obvious question:

"What is a seventeen-year-old boy doing in Sing Sing prison?"

The fact that a seventeen-year-old boy is sent to Sing Sing to associate with the most hardened criminals, and to be graduated in crime IS AN INDICTMENT OF OUR WHOLE PENAL SYSTEM.

As long as such folly persists in the American people, the criminal problem will become worse and worse, until it is a cancer which compels attention or kills.

It is bad enough now with the population in American jails increasing at the rate of ten per cent a year, while the criminal population of other countries, more civilized and less selfish, is decreasing to a point where the jails are being sold as no longer needed.

The American people are like the story told of the Western gambler who did not care what happened, as long as it did not happen to him. But the American people cannot have a criminal situation such as now exists, and increasing constantly in menace, without having something happen to them.

And no matter what happens to such a people, they will deserve it, for their selfishness, their indifference, their neglect of their fellow men, their defiance of the precepts of their religion, and of the basic principles of humanity the world over.

Drunk with prosperity, they think only of their own comfort and convenience, and worship only the golden calf, as the apostate children of Israel did before the wrath of God fell upon them.

It is time the American people gave thought to the human problem that is on every side of them—the problem of poverty, the problem of ignorance, the problem of crime.

Jail penalties for small offenses will not solve it.

Herding erring brothers into jails until the prisons are packed with twice the population they are supposed to hold, and until the President frantically cries to Congress for more prisons, will not solve it.

No penal or political system which multiplies the population of the prisons at the rate of ten per cent every year will solve a situation which is daily growing to be more and more of a danger to the moral and social life of the nation.

Wake up, citizens of America, and do your duty to yourselves and to your fellow men.

If you ask:
"Am I my brother's keeper?"
The answer is:
"You are."

How to Avoid Tax Raise—Council Should Listen

To all taxpayers, as well as those associated with the Building Owners and Managers' Association, Council is under obligation to pay particular attention to the statement of the latter organization that an increase in taxes would be unnecessary were taxes collected on all properties. In requesting a hearing in connection with the tentatively proposed levy increase of one and a half mills, councilmen were informed that a great saving is possible in the maintenance of the City-County building and similar structures.

Furthermore, it was stated that the city loses in not collecting all property taxes and through failure to assess much downtown property, public utilities holdings being especially cited. Failure to collect taxes is alleged in cases where properties are advertised "at great cost" to the city when "it is a known fact that most of them never will be collected." Condemnation of such properties and placing them in the hands of persons who would pay taxes was urged as a remedy to swell the treasury.

While it seems unreasonable to assume that the city taxing agency would overlook any possible source of raising money for city needs, Council should not fail to investigate the possibility that such has been and may be the case. It is not fair to make the tax burden fall on some while others escape, their delinquency making the load heavier for those who do pay.

In the matter of building maintenance, it may be assumed the spokesman for the building owners speaks with authority, since that is something that affects their pocketbooks as directly as taxes do. They, if anybody, would be in a position to know how buildings should be operated as regards both efficiency and economy.

Nobody will be willing to accept a tax raise unless it can be shown that, with every leak of taxpayers' money stopped, there is a real necessity on the part of the city to have more money. Hence Council should look into this matter very thoroughly, even to the extent of accepting the proffered aid of members of the building owners' organization.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—That unspeakable male horror known as the gigolo has almost disappeared from Broadway's shifting sands. Buckling up of the night clubs and cabarets along with the blasts of unwholesome publicity caused his undoing. Scarcely a handful is left.

The gigolo was spawned in war time Paris when real men were at the front. He was the sleek dandy with glossy hair and expert social graces who helped relieve the monotony of lonely women by dancing—for so much a dance. In those days he was not vicious, but more the amiable moocher with a gift for evening clothes.

They were in the majority of instances cast-off sons of respectable Latin-American families, and with the armistice they began to drift to America. They found New York a gold mine and became greedy and rapacious. Hundreds of them lived off women who to the world appeared happily married.

The middle aged and wealthy wives whose husbands were absorbed by business were the gigolo's especial targets. They escorted them to teas, lunches and the night clubs. Aside from being "divine dancers," they were gallant hand kissers and adept at whispered nothings.

The gigolo would let it be known that he was the son of some defunct Argentine coffee king or such. He was reared in luxury and how could he make a living? He must live and so he danced "professionally." And along came the tango craze and he rode the top wave.

Ordinarily straight-laced ladies were charmed by his dancing and personable air. They began, chiefly in a spirit of sympathy, to give him platinum watches and chains, ruby cuff links and pearl studs. Then he would find mysterious bills in his mail. In the end he attained the pinnacle of vileness—blackmailing.

For a time there were white-haired grandmothers being squired about by gigolos. Two wealthy women of some social standing—one 61 and the other 73—indeed married gigolos and now live in European seclusion. But a public's scorn finally triumphed and the gigolo's jig was up.

Natacha Rambova, the former Winifred Hudnut, and wife of Valentino, has become quite successful in the field of dress designing. From an obscure little shop high up in a side street building, she now presides over an elaborate ground floor establishment on a select block in the Fashionable Fifties. She is also an active member of a spiritualistic cult.

* * *

Miss Rambova is distinguished for models of severely plain head dress which she has designed and popularized. And in this connection there is a story of a lady at a theater whose evening head dress annoyed a tittupy gentleman who sat behind. He demanded its removal, against her protest, until the house manager was called and upheld the complainant. The lady finally snatched it off. She was entirely bald.

Fritzi Scheff, at 50, gave a spirited revival of her play, "Mlle. Modiste," recently, and the years turned back for many who again heard her trill top notes in the song, "Kiss Me Again." And when she marched on rat-a-tatting the drum—remember that?—Courtney Ryley Cooper and I joined several other antiquarians in what, for old asthmatic has beens, was quite a lusty cheer.

In her heyday, and she is not passe now by any means, Fritzi Scheff was perhaps, the greatest musical comedy favorite the Rialto has ever known. Her daily mash notes, without the exaggerations of a press agent, filled a bushel basket. And come to think of it, who has taken her place?

"Bugs" Baer Says:

The Mayor Crop

WE do not know who started the slippery rumor that Mayor Walker of New York City was jealous of the Mayor of London.

"Bugs" Baer

Jimmy only met the Lord Mayor of London once. The American beardless patriarch was the winner.

When informed that the Lord Mayor was always on time, Jimmy asked, "What else has he got to do?"

Investigation of the Lord Mayor's municipal activities showed that his main job was being on time.

Observing the chain around the Lord Mayor's neck, Jimmy remarked:

"We let 'em run loose in America."

When we crown a head in America we give it lumps with the ceremonies.

The Mayor of New York is said to be just about the best-dressed man in America, although the Mayor of Los Angeles claims to be only a few buttons in arrears.

As a prominent fugitive from haberdashery we have always been jealous of Mayor Walker's ability to spic and span with the elite of the world.

The effect of New York's spotless Mayor has been immense on the other associated mayors of America. We concede a great man's privilege to cut his own hair. But when he does that, we'd hate to be the back of his neck.

A BETTER MAN THAN YOU

By Herbert Kaufman

IF your grandfather managed to make a living: why can't YOU?

He dealt with a thousand handicaps you'll never be called upon to face.

Life has been tremendously simplified since his day. The world in which you live is replete with advantages beyond the reach of his ARMS and his IMAGINATION.

Pneumatic, electric, hydraulic and steam power have reduced the physical strain of mechanical tasks—cash registers, adding machines and countless devices are multiplying the efficiency of clerical specialties—telephones, elevators, radio and airplane are in universal use.

YOUR day is THREE times as long as Abraham Lincoln's and A. T. Stewart's and Alexander Graham Bell's, because you have three times as MANY facilities as they enjoyed and therefore three times the amount of reserve force to apply to your undertakings.

There are still sixty minutes to the hour, but you can do so much MORE within sixty minutes, with the new tools of progress, that merely to EQUAL the achievements of a Nineteenth Century career is a confession of Twentieth Century inferiority.

You're spoiled—existence has been made too soft for you—you obtain results too easily.

The spur of necessity may be digging hard, but its rowels are not so SHARP as those which pricked your ancestors.

The community constantly grows more paternal. Your welfare is protected by more safeguards than a nobleman could command in the pre-republican cycles.

Newspapers, free libraries and public lectures daily extend an invitation to add to your store of knowledge, but since you won't aspire, and won't strive, you don't thrive.

THERE are chances enough, but you are not sufficiently alert to SEIZE them.

If you disagree with this verdict, there's only ONE way to disprove it—by earnest, dogged effort—by persistent endeavor and unflinching resolve—by doing your utmost each DAY to achieve more than you accomplished every YESTERDAY.

We'll alter our estimate of you when you RAISE your estimate of yourself.

The bell is always on the target. The instant you begin to HIT the mark, we'll HEAR the ring.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS

In Collaboration With

Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

THE importance of the lens lies in the fact that it is elastic. By means of muscle-fibers which pull on it the convexity of the lens can be altered; the optical system is therefore adjustable, and in this way we can focus our eyes on objects of various distances.

H. G. Wells.

The sense-cells of the retina are of two kinds, called rods and cones. Each has at one end a striped structure, longer and more slender in the rods than in the cones, which is presumably the seat of stimulation, and each tapers away into a long nerve-fiber at the other end.

It used to be thought that these cells were directly sensitive to light, but it has recently been shown that this view is incorrect; light acts upon them in a curious and roundabout way.

The matrix in between the retinal cells contains chemical substances which are decomposed by light, in much the same way as the silver compounds of a photographic plate are decomposed by light, and it is the substances resulting from this decomposition, not the light itself, that stimulates the cells.

The rods and cones are not sensitive to light at all; they are chemical sense-organs like taste-cells or smell-cells, and just as sound is converted into touch-stimuli in the ear, so light is converted into chemical stimuli in the eye. Sight is, in fact, an extreme utilization of chemical response.

A similar analysis can be applied to color-sensations. It is known that we can give rise to any desired color-sensation by projecting into the eyeball the correct mixture of red, green and violet light. Probably there are three different light-sensitive substances in the retina, decomposed by red, green and violet light respectively, and their decomposition-products give rise to the three elementary color-sensations.

The process of blending these three sensations into a complete color, such as yellow or brown or white, occurs in the brain and is analogous to the mental blending of different notes into a chord.

The retinal cells communicate by means of nerve-fibres with the brain, and before we consider the mental processes accompanying vision we may take note of a curious anatomical fact about the way in which these nerve-fibres are arranged.

By analogy with other sense-organs one would expect the striped sensitive ends of the rods and cones to point towards the light and the nerve-fibres to lead away in the opposite direction. But, as a matter of fact, the exact opposite is found. The sensory ends of the retinal cells are turned towards the wall of the eyeball and the nerve-fibres form a layer intervening between them and the light to which they are sensitive.

One would expect this nervous layer, interposed between the retinal cells and the light, to fog the images that are cast on the cells; and so it does, over the greater part of the retina.

But in the eyes of men, apes, and monkeys this arrangement is modified in one region, lying nearly in the center of the back wall of the eyeball, and called the yellow spot because it turns yellow after death.

This yellow spot is the spot of distinct vision and it makes the sight of the animals that possess it a clearer and better thing than that of any other mammals.

In this place the nervous layer is reduced to about one-sixth of its normal thickness so that the fogging of the image is imperceptible; the sensitive cells are very closely packed together, so that the image can be more accurately defined, and there are no blood-vessels in that particular part of the retina. From it, the nervous fibers run together to a special region of the brain, and, small as it is relatively to the rest of the retina, the fibres from its sensory elements make up a third of the whole thick stalk of the optic nerve.

We can see a thing distinctly only when it is focused upon this spot, and so it is natural to conclude that such animals as the cow, horse, dog or mouse do not see things with anything like the same definition as ourselves.

A short distance from the yellow spot is the point where the optic nerve leaves the eyeball. The fibers of the retina all converge to this point and are there gathered together and depart.

LISTEN, WORLD!

WHAT do most of the folks you know want to get out of life? That's easy to answer . . . comfort, pleasure, safety. Enough fun to make them happy . . . enough money to keep them from being bothered . . . no sorrow or trouble or dangerous risk. Now and then some ambitious guy wants to burn up the road, but most of us just want to sit pretty and take things easily.

YET EASE AND SAFETY ARE ACTUALLY THE WORST THINGS THAT CAN HAPPEN TO US.

Havelock Ellis once said—"IF WE WANT TO LIVE IN ANY TRUE SENSE AT ALL WE ARE COMPELLED TO LIVE DANGEROUSLY."

Danger? Most of us think of it as a disaster. Have you ever thought of danger as an OPPORTUNITY . . . A DOOR INTO A LARGER LIFE? Instinctively we dodge danger as something abnormal, something that menaces life and which should be avoided. BUT DANGER SERVES LIFE. Danger is as normal and necessary an accompaniment of growth as air and water and food. GROWTH CAN'T COME WITHOUT DANGER.

That has been true of every form of life, clear back to the first pollywog in the primeval ooze. Those that lived BIG had to live HARD. Those that got anywhere had to disregard comfort and caution and TAKE RISKS. PERIL IS THE PRICE OF EVOLUTION.

We'd still be wiggling around in slime if certain adventurous creatures hadn't ventured to poke out their noses and sniff air. And you may be sure the species gave them the dog eye when they did it! They not only risked social censure, they risked death. BUT THEY STARTED LIFE ON ITS LONG CLIMB TO MAN.

Pollywogs in primeval puddles, pioneers on the plain . . . the same law held for all. THOSE WHO LIVED GREATLY LIVED DANGEROUSLY. That law holds for you today.

You, today, can live BIG or live LITTLE, just as you choose. It may not be your lot to discover new continents, release electricity, reform a nation or die on a martyr's cross. But you can, within the scope of your own nature, do things quite as amazing. You, too, may be an adventurer . . . an inventor . . . a crusader. BUT TO DO SO YOU MUST LIVE DANGEROUSLY.

You must dare new ideas, as Hannibal dared the Alps. You must scorn discomforts and diversions, as Edison scorned them... as all great workers have scorned them. You must face loneliness and misunderstanding and humiliation, as Lincoln faced them . . . For these are the dangers and trials that beset all advance. IF YOU EXPECT TO GO ON, YOU MUST PAY YOUR WAY!

And in return, what'll you get? "I can't hope for fame and glory like Lincoln and Edison," you say. "I'm just a plain worker, that nobody knows.' What's there in it for me if I live life dangerously?"

PLENTY! There's pride in it, for you. And the sense of power, rising in you like a tide. And sometimes peace. And, once in a great while, a stirring glimpse of beauty. That's worth risking danger.
